Thou hast chastened me for the things wherein I sinned.
 And what shall I now say? or wherewith shall I open my mouth?
 What can I answer, seeing I myself have done it?
 5 Without excuse, without defence, self-condemned am I.
 My destruction is of myself, from mine own doing.
 To thee, O Lord, belongeth righteousness,
 And unto me confusion of face.
 10 And thou art just
 In all things that are come upon me,
 For thou hast done truly,
 And I have sinned.
 And now, what is mine expectation?
 15 Is it not thou, O Lord?
 Yea, my substance is with thee.
 If there be for me any hope of salvation,
 If thy lovingkindness overcome
 The multitude of mine iniquities, 20 Remember what my substance is,
 That I am the work of thy hands,
 The image of thy countenance,
 The price of thy blood,
 A name from thy Name,
 25 A sheep of thy pasture,
 A son of the covenant.
 The works of thine own hands despise thou not.
 Thine own image and likeness —
 Hast thou made it for nought?
 30 For nought, if thou destroy it.

1 Job xxxiii. 27 — Elihu, on the man brought back from the pit: I have sinned, and it profited me not · 6 Rom. ii. 1 — to the man who judges another and does the same · 6 [Tit. iii. 11] — condemned of himself: Andrewes' αὐτοκατάκριτος · 7 Hos. xiii. 9 — the LORD to Israel: thou hast destroyed thyself · 9 Dan. ix. 7 — Daniel praying in the exile, at the hour of the evening sacrifice · 13 Neh. ix. 33 — the Levites' confession, made while the Law is read · 16 Ps. xxxix. 7 — David, having first been dumb with silence · 20 Ps. lxxxix. 46 — Ethan, on how short a time God has made men for · 21 Ps. cxxxviii. 8 — despise not the works of thine own hands · 22 Gen. i. 27 — the making of man, in the image · 23 1 Cor. vi. 20 — ye are bought with a price · 25 Ps. c. 3 — we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture · 27 Ps. cxxxviii. 8 — the verse returns; the apparatus opposite turns on this line · 28 Gen. i. 26 — let us make man in our image · 29 Ps. lxxxix. 47 — wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?

A pun the English Bible cannot keep. Andrewes asks what is my expectation and answers Substantia mea apud te est, then four lines later Memorare quæ mea substantia. Both are the Vulgate — Ps. xxxviii. 8 and lxxxviii. 48 — and both turn on substantia, which is why the two psalms can be set one on top of the other. The Authorised Version renders the first my hope is in thee and the second remember how short my time is, and the join disappears. This is what CONVENTIONS §9 is for, and it is the argument for giving the references their situation rather than their English text: the text is already above.

Figmenta is the evidence that this Latin column is a witness and not a shadow. The printed Greek reads the works of thy hands, and the Vulgate of Ps. cxxxviii. 8 reads opera manuum tuarum; the Latin here reads neither. Figmenta — the thing moulded — can only render a Greek text that read τὸ πλάσμα, which is what the manuscript reads and what the printed page does not. The 1853 editor said of his Latin only that he seemed to have made it himself. He was too modest.

Look upon the face of thine Anointed,
And on the blood of thy covenant,
On the propitiation for the sins of the whole world,
Lord, be merciful to me the sinner,
10 Be merciful, I pray thee, O Lord, to me — of sinners
First, chiefest, and greatest.
For thy Name's sake, even for it, be merciful Unto my sin, for it is great;
Yea, exceeding great it is.
15 For the sake of that Name of thine,
Beside which there is none other under heaven
Given among men,
Whereby we must be saved,
The Spirit himself also helping 20 Our infirmities,
And making intercession for us
With groanings which cannot be uttered.
For the Father's fatherly heart,
The Son's bleeding wounds,
25 The Spirit's unutterable groanings, Hearken, O Lord; be merciful, O Lord;
O Lord, attend, and do, and defer not,
For thine own sake,
O Lord, O Lord, my God.

Domine, ne in furore tuo arguas me,

 That it is not more, that it is not deeper,
 10 I repent, O Lord, O Lord, I repent,
 Help thou mine impenitence,
 And more, still more and more,
 Pierce, rend, crush

 15 And remit, forgive, pardon all
 That is grief unto me and offence of heart.
 Cleanse thou me from my secret faults,
 From strange sins spare thou thy servant.
 Make thy mercies marvellous

 Return, O my soul, unto thy rest,
 For the Lord shall deal bountifully with thee.
 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger,

The manuscript glosses this line in Hebrew, and the 1853 dropped it — the first of some thirteen places where it does so. The edition records the loss and does not repair it: the page above is the printed book, not the manuscript behind it. What the Hebrew shows is that Andrewes' third script was systematic where his printed editions make it look occasional.

The Hebrew in the heading — סיג התורה, a fence about the Law — is on the printed page, not supplied. It is one of the few places the 1853 let Andrewes' Hebrew stand, and it is worth noticing beside the note at 38 opposite: what survived here is a rabbinic tag, and what was dropped there was a gloss on his own word.

5 O Lord, compel me to come in unto thee.

I BELIEVE, O LORD,

In thee, { Father, / Word, / Spirit, } one God.

1. That by thy fatherly love and thy power all things were created.

10 2. That by thy goodness and thy love toward man all things were gathered up again in thy Word;

Who, for us men, and for our salvation,
was made flesh,

15 was conceived, I was born, suffered, I was crucified, died, I was buried,
descended, I rose again,

20 shall return, I shall recompense.

3. That by the shining forth and the working of thy holy Spirit, there hath been called out of the whole world a peculiar people into a commonwealth, κατὰ { πίστιν ἀληθείας, / καὶ / ἀγιωσύνην ἀναστροφῆς. }

ἐν ᾧ μετέχειν ἡμᾶς

Τῆς κοινωνίας τῶν ἁγίων καὶ τῆς ἀφέσεως τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν

ἐν τῷ παρόντι,

5 ἐν ᾧ προσδοκᾶν ἡμᾶς

Σαρκὸς ἀνάστασιν, καὶ ζωὴν αἰώνιον ἐν τῷ μέλλοντι.

Ταύτην τὴν ἀγιωτάτην Πίστιν, τὴν ἅπαξ παραδοθεῖσαν τοῖς ἁγίοις,

Βοήθει συ τῇ μου ἀπιστίᾳ,

Of the communion of saints and the forgiveness of sins in this present world,

 The resurrection of the flesh, and life everlasting

This most holy Faith, once delivered unto the saints,
10 I believe, O Lord,
 Help thou mine unbelief,
 Add thou unto my little faith;
 And grant unto me
 To love the Father for his fatherly love, 15 To revere the Almighty for his power,
 To commit my soul unto him, as unto a faithful Creator, in well doing;
Of { Jesus, | Salvation / Christ, | Anointing / the only-begotten Son, | Adoption } to

 O the hope of all the ends of the earth,

ὦ ἐφ' ᾧ ἤλπισαν οἱ πατέρες ἡμῶν, καὶ ἐρρύσω αὐτούς· ὃν ὑπέμειναν,
 καὶ οὐ κατησχύνθησαν.
 5 ὦ ἡ ἐλπίς μου ἐκ νεότητος, ἀπὸ μαστῶν τῆς μητέρος, εἰς ὃν ἀπερρίφθην ἐκ μήτρας, ἴσθι συ ἐλπίς μου
 ἔτι καὶ ἔτι,
 10 καὶ μερίς μου ἐν γῇ ζώντων.
 Ἐν φύσει σου, ἐν { ὀνόμασι, / τύποις, / λόγῳ, / πράξει, } ἡ ἐλπίς μου.
 μὴ καταισχύνῃς με

 μου ταύτης.
 Ὡς ἐλπίς πάντων περάτων τῆς γῆς, Μνήσθητι τῆς κτίσεώς σου ἀπάσης εἰς ἀγαθόν·
 Ἐπίσκεψαι τὸν κόσμον ἐν οἰκτιρμοῖς σου.
 20 Ὡς φύλαξ ἀνθρώπων, ὦ Δέσποτα φιλόανθρωπε· Μνήσθητι παντὸς τοῦ γένους ἡμῶν· καὶ ὃς συνέκλεισας πάντας εἰς ἀπίθειαν, πάντας ἐλέησον, ὦ Κύριε.
 25 Ὡς εἰς τοῦτο ἀποθανὼν καὶ ἀναζήσας,

18 προσδοκίας] ἐλπίδος apogr.; cf. Lat. exspectatione cum ed.

- O thou in whom our fathers hoped,
 and thou didst deliver them;
 on whom they waited,
 and were not confounded.
- 5 O my hope from my youth up, from my mother's breasts, on whom I was cast from the womb, be thou my hope still and evermore,
 10 and my portion in the land of the living.
 In thy nature, in thy { names, / types, / word, / work, }
 is my hope.
 O put me not to shame
 15 from this mine expectation.
- O the hope of all the ends of the earth,
 Remember thy whole creation for good;
 Visit the world in thy compassions.
- 20 O keeper of men,
 O Master, thou lover of men;
 Remember all our race;
 and thou who hast shut up all into unbelief, have mercy upon all, O Lord.
- 25 O thou who to this very end didst die and live again,

Here the Latin sides with the printed page against the manuscript, which is the necessary counterweight to the note at 34. The Latin column is an independent witness, not a better one: it agrees with the print five times for every two it agrees with the manuscript, and it settles nothing by itself.

- ἵνα καὶ νεκρῶν καὶ ζώντων κυριεύσης, ἐάν τε ζῶμεν, ἐάν τε καὶ ἀποθνήσκωμεν, Κύριος ἡμῶν συ.
 Ζώντας καὶ θανόντας ἐλέησον, ὦ Κύριε.
- 5 Ὡς βοηθῆ τῶν ἀβοηθήτων, ἀντιλήπτορ ἐν εὐκαιρίᾳ, ἐν θλίψει, Μνήσθητι πάντων ἐν ἀνάγκῃ ὄντων, καὶ τῆς σῆς βοηθείας δεομένων.
- 10 Ὁ Θεὸς χάριτος καὶ ἀληθείας, Στήριξον πάντας ἐν ἀληθείᾳ καὶ χάριτι ἱστώντας.
 Κατάρτισον πάντας περὶ αἱρέσεις καὶ ἁμαρτίας νοσοῦντας.
- Ὡς ὑπερασπιστὰ τῶν σωτηρίων
 τοῦ Χριστοῦ σου, 15 Μνήσθητι τῆς συναγωγῆς σου, ἥς ἐκτήσω καὶ ἐλυτρώσω ἀπ' ἀρχῆς.
- Ὡς γενέσθω τῶν πιστευόντων λυχνιῶν χρυσῶν, Μὴ κινήσης τὴν λυχνίαν ἡμετέραν ἐκ τόπου αὐτῆς.

 ἃ ἐμέλλες ἀποβαλεῖν,

that thou mightest be Lord both of dead and living, whether we live, or whether we die also,
thou art our Lord.
Have mercy on the living and the departed, O Lord.

5 O helper of the helpless, succourer in due season, in tribulation, Remember all that are in necessity, and that stand in need of thy succour.

O God of grace and of truth, 10 Stablish thou all that in truth and in grace do stand.
Restore thou all that are sick with heresies and sins.

O thou saving defence of thine Anointed, 15 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased and redeemed from the beginning.
O let them that believe be one in heart and in soul.

20 O thou that walkest in the midst of the golden candlesticks, Remove not our candlestick out of its place.
Set in order the things that are wanting, 25 Strengthen the things that remain, which thou wast ready to cast away, which are ready to die.
