Appendix: Some of the Sources	605

PREFACE

Lancelot Andrewes kept a book of prayers in his own hand, in Greek, in Latin, and in Hebrew, and did not publish it. What survives is a series of witnesses to it: manuscripts that differ from one another, and printed editions that differ from the manuscripts. This edition sets out one of those witnesses whole — the text printed at Oxford by J. H. Parker in 1853, itself a reprint of the Sheldonian edition of 1675 — and puts a new English translation beside it.

The English translations of Andrewes now in print all descend from one nineteenth-century construal. No edition currently in print, and none in the public domain, presents the Greek and the Latin at all. That is the gap this book is for. A reader who wants to know what Andrewes actually wrote, rather than what a translator made of it, has until now had to find a scan.

WHAT KIND OF BOOK IT IS. It is not, for the most part, an original composition, and Andrewes does not pretend that it is. What he kept was closer to a commonplace book of prayer: a gathering of what he had found worth praying, copied out, arranged, and steadily adapted to his own use. Sentences of Scripture make up the greater part of it — the 1853 prints better than two thousand references — and around them stand the liturgies, the creeds, the Fathers Greek and Latin, a medieval archbishop, and, without apology or any change of voice, Cicero and Seneca. Some of these he names in the margin as he goes. Most he does not.

This is worth saying plainly, because it is easy to read a book of private prayers as a record of private invention, and to be disappointed on learning it is largely quotation. The work here is of a different kind, and it is everywhere: what to take, what to leave, what to put beside what, where to break the line. A sentence of Isaiah set against a sentence of the Liturgy of Chrysostom is doing something neither does alone, and the arrangement is Andrewes'. An illustrative note on the sources stands at the end of this volume.

THE TEXT. What is printed here on the left-hand pages is a record of the 1853 plate, not an improvement on it. Accents, breathings, punctuation, capitals and ligatures stand as they were set. Where the 1853 gives a scripture reference that is wrong, the wrong reference is printed and the note says so; where a sort is broken or a word has been lost to a defect in the plate, the loss is marked rather than mended. Nothing has been silently corrected. An edition that quietly repairs its source is no longer a witness to anything, and this one is meant to be usable as evidence.

The consequence is that a few things in this book are known to be wrong and are left wrong on purpose. They are marked, and the reasons are given.

WHICH LANGUAGE IS ANDREWES'. In the first part the Greek is Andrewes' own text and the Latin faces it. The translation here follows the Greek, and treats the Latin as the first witness to how the Greek was construed by someone much nearer to it than we are. Where the two genuinely diverge, the Greek is followed and the Latin's reading is recorded. In the second and third parts, which are largely Latin, the Latin is the text and is translated as such. Where Hebrew stands in the text it is kept, and translated; the English layer never silently drops a script.

The 1853 editor was modest about his Latin. His apparatus says of the Greek-only manuscript he collated that it lacks the Latin, quam Editor ipse confecisse videtur — which the editor seems to have made himself. That would make the Latin of the first half of Part I an editor's Latin, and worth less as a witness than it looks.

It is worth more than he claimed. At printed 34–35 the manuscript reads πλάσμα where the printed Greek reads τὰ ἔργα, and the facing Latin reads Figmenta — which departs from the printed Greek, and departs also from the Vulgate of the psalm it is quoting, which reads opera manuum tuarum. There is no route to Figmenta except from a Greek text reading πλάσμα. At printed 174–175 the Latin Ablue renders ἀπόλουσαι, wash thou away, where the printed Greek has ἀπόλυσαι, release thou — one letter apart, and the Latin saw the other one. The Latin column is therefore not simply downstream of the Greek beside it: in places it sees a manuscript the printed Greek does not. That is a small finding with a large consequence for how this book should be read, and it is why the Latin is set as a column and not as a footnote.

THE ENGLISH. The translation is new, and it is line-keyed: one English line to one line of the original, at the same indentation, with the same brace-groups and columns. A reader should be able to run a finger down the page and stay in step. That constraint costs something in fluency and is worth its cost, because the shape of these prayers on the page — the lists, the widening and narrowing, the single words given a line to themselves — is not decoration. It is how Andrewes prayed.

The register is the English of the Authorised Version and the Prayer Book: thou and thee to God, and the cadences an English reader already carries. The syntax, though, stays plain. Archaism is confined to the pronouns and verb-endings of address; there are no Jacobean inversions the Greek does not force. For the Psalms the crib is Coverdale's Psalter, the Prayer Book's, ahead of the Authorised Version — not from preference but because Coverdale worked through the Latin and the Greek, as Andrewes did, and so agrees with him in exactly the places where the Authorised Version, made from the Hebrew, does not. Andrewes never quoted an English Bible. He was quoting the Septuagint and the Vulgate, and Coverdale stands nearer to that than any later English does.

THE PAGE. The originals are on the left-hand page and the English on the right. In Part I, where the 1853 sets Greek and Latin on facing pages, both share the left-hand page in two columns, so that the whole of an opening of the 1853 stands under the eye at once with its translation beside it.

The page numbers running along the outer edge are this edition's. The numbers in brackets on the inner edge are the 1853's, and every page of it is here and findable by them.

WHAT IS NOT HERE. Two things, and it is better to say so.

The 1853 does not print all of Andrewes' Hebrew. Its own apparatus records Hebrew standing in the manuscript at more than a dozen places where the printed page has none — among them a phrase of rabbinic anthropology, the tohu wa-bohu of the second verse of Genesis, and a short Greek-and-Hebrew lexicon of the words for sin. This edition prints the 1853, so that Hebrew is recorded in the apparatus and is not restored to the text. Restoring it would be a different book: a critical text of Andrewes rather than a faithful setting of a printed edition, and it would need the manuscripts themselves.

And the manuscript has silences the print does not show. Three blank leaves stand in it after what is here printed page 184, in the middle of the seventh day. What that silence means — whether a division has been lost, or something was meant to be added — cannot be settled from a printed edition. It is recorded and left open.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT. F.E. Brightman's translation of 1903 remains the best English understanding of this book, and has been consulted throughout — after drafting, never before, and never copied. His arrangement is his own: he judged the second part of the 1675 unusable as printed and rearranged the whole for practical use. That judgement is defensible, and its consequence is that the Preces Privatae as a book, in its own order, has been out of reach of English readers for a long time. Restoring that order is much of what this edition is for. Where his notes have corrected a reference or settled an attribution here, the note says so.

Καὶ οὐκ ἄξια ἦτασάς με, ὦν ἥμαρτον.

Ἄλλ' ἐντρέπομαι,

Καὶ ἀποστρέφω ἀπὸ τῶν ὁδῶν μου πονηρῶν,

Καὶ ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ τὴν καρδίαν μου,

Καὶ ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ καρδίᾳ μου ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ σε.

Καὶ ζητῶ τὸ πρόσωπόν σου,

Καὶ δέομαί σου, λέγων,

Ἥμαρτον, ἠνόμησα, ἠδίκησα,

Οἶδα, Κύριε, τὴν πληγὴν τῆς καρδίας μου,

Καὶ ἰδοὺ, ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ σε

Ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ καρδίᾳ μου, καὶ

Ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ ἰσχύϊ μου.

Καὶ νῦν σὺ, Κύριε, ἐκ τοῦ κατοικητηρίου σου,

Ἐκ θρόνου δόξης τῆς βασιλείας σου ἐν οὐρανοῖς

Εἰσάκουσον δὴ τῆς προσευχῆς

Καὶ δεήσεως τοῦ δούλου σου,

Καὶ ἰλεως ἴσθι τῷ δούλῳ σου,

Καὶ ἴασαι τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτοῦ.

Οὐ τολμῶ οὐδὲ τοὺς ὀφθαλμούς μου

Εἰς τὸν οὐρανὸν ἐπαίρειν,

Ἀλλὰ μακρόθεν ἐστὼς

Τύπτω εἰς τὸ στήθος μου,

Καὶ λέγω μετὰ τοῦ τελωνοῦ,

Ὁ Θεός, ἱλάσθητί μοι τῷ ἁμαρτωλῷ,

Τῷ ἁμαρτωλῷ ὑπὲρ τελωνοῦ,

Ἰλάσθητι ὥσπερ τῷ τελωνῇ.

CONFESSIONES.

Hei mihi, peccavi tibi, Domine, peccavi tibi, O quantum deliqui, et ut eram dignus non recepi! Job. xxxiii. 27.

Sed confundor,

Et convertor a viis iniquitatis meae,

Et convertor ad cor meum,

Et in toto corde meo ad te convertor,

Et quaero faciem tuam,

Et deprecor te, dicens,

Peccavi, inique feci, injuste egi,

Cognovi, Domine, plagam cordis mei,

Et ecce! convertor ad te

In toto corde meo, et

Tota anima mea.

Et nunc tu, Domine, exaudi de Caelo,

De sublimi habitaculo tuo,

De solio gloriae Regni tui in Coelis

Orationem et precem servi tui,

Et propitiare servo tuo,

Et sana animam ejus. 1 Reg. viii.

28.

Non audeo nedum oculos meos

Ad Caelos levare,

Sed a longe stans

Percutio pectus meum,

Et cum Publicano dico,

Deus, propitius esto mihi peccatori,

Mihi supra Publicanum peccatori,

Propitius esto quemadmodum Publicano.

Luc. xviii. 13.

CONFESSIONS.

Woe is me, I have sinned against thee, O Lord, I have sinned against thee.

O what things I was committing,

and thou hast not requited me as my sins deserved.

But I am ashamed,

and I turn away from my evil ways,

and I turn again unto mine own heart,

and with my whole heart I turn again unto thee.

And I seek thy face,

and I beseech thee, saying,

I have sinned, I have done iniquity, I have done wickedly;

I know, O Lord, the plague of mine own heart,

and behold, I turn again unto thee

with all my heart, and with all my strength.

And now thou, O Lord, from thy dwelling place,

from the throne of the glory of thy kingdom in the heavens,

hear thou the prayer

and the supplication of thy servant,

and be merciful unto thy servant,

and heal his soul.

I dare not so much as lift up mine eyes

unto heaven,

but standing afar off

I smite upon my breast,

and say with the publican,

God be merciful to me a sinner,

to me a sinner above the publican,

be merciful even as to the publican.

Glory to him that hath given me sleep and for the easing of the labours

 encamping round about me, and ever suggesting to me the things that pertain to salvation —

Pardon and remission of all our sins,
 and of all our offences —
 Grant, O Lord.

The things that are good and profitable for our souls,
 and peace for the world —
 Grant, O Lord.

That the residue of the time of our life
 in penitence and godly fear,
 in health and in peace we may fulfil — Grant, O Lord.

 μου,

Despise not the work of thine hands,
despise not thine own image,
though it bear the marks of sin.
Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
Lord, speak but the word only, and I shall be cleansed.

And thou, O Christ my Saviour,
O Christ my Saviour,
Saviour of sinners, of whom I am chief,
despise me not,
despise me not, O Lord.
The price of thy blood,
the surname of thine own upon me — despise it not,
despise me not, O Lord;
But look upon me with those thine eyes,
with which thou didst look upon Magdalene at the feast,
upon Peter in the hall,
upon the Thief upon the tree.
So that with the Thief I may humbly beseech thee,
Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom;
with Peter may weep bitterly, and say,
O that mine eyes were a fountain of tears,
that I might weep day and night!
with Magdalene may hear thee saying,
Thy sins are forgiven thee;
and with her may love much,
because many, yea manifold, [sins]
have been forgiven me.

And thou, all-holy and good
and life-giving Spirit,
despise me not,
thine own breath,
despise not thy holy things;
But return, O Lord; how long? and be entreated concerning thy servant; visit me.

BLESSED art thou, O Lord,
our God,
the God of our fathers,
Who turnest into the morning the shadow of death,
and renewest the face of the earth.
Who removest the darkness from the face of the light,
who dividest the night and bringest back the day;
Who hast lightened mine eyes,
that I sleep not in death.
Who hast delivered me from the terror by night,
from the pestilence that walketh in darkness.
Who hast driven sleep from mine eyes,
and slumber from mine eyelids;
Who makest the outgoings of the morning and of the evening to rejoice,
For I laid me down and slept, and I awaked,
for thou, Lord, makest me dwell in hope;
For I awoke, and beheld,
and my sleep was sweet unto me.
Blot out, as a thick cloud of the night, mine iniquities;
scatter, as a morning cloud, my sins.
Grant me to be a son of light, a son of the day,

ὥς ἐν ἡμέρᾳ σωφρόνως, ἀγνῶς, εὐσχημόνως

Ἀξιώσον ἐμέ τὴν ἡμέραν ταύτην ἀναμάρτητον

ἵνα μὴ ποτε σκληρύνω τὴν καρδίαν ἐν

Ἀπὸ τῆς κακίας ἐμῆς διαφύλαξον τὴν
ἡμέραν,

Ἀπὸ τῆς κακίας τῆς ἡμέρας διαφύλαξον ἐμέ.

Μὴ ἐκλείπωσιν ἐν ματαιότητι ἡμέραι μου,

Τὰ ἔτη μου ἐν δυστηνίᾳ.

Ἡμέρα τῇ ἡμέρᾳ ἐρεῦγοί ρῆμα,

Ἡ σήμερον τῇ χθὲς γνώσιν ἢ πράξιν τινά.

Ἀκουστὸν ποιήσόν μοι τὸ πρωὶ τὸ ἔλεός σου,

Ὅτι ἐπὶ σοὶ ἠλπίσα·

Γνώρισόν μοι ὁδόν, ἐν ᾗ πορεύσομαι,

Ὅτι πρὸς σε ἤρα τὴν ψυχὴν μου.

Ἐξελοῦ με ἐκ τῶν ἐχθρῶν μου, Κύριε·

Ὅτι πρὸς σε κατέφυγον.

Δίδαξόν με ποιεῖν τὸ θέλημά σου,

Ὅτι Θεός μου εἰ Σὺ.

Τὸ πνεῦμά σου τὸ ἀγαθὸν ὁδηγήσει με
ἐν γῇ εὐθείᾳ.

Ἐνεκεν τοῦ ὀνόματός σου ζήσεις με, Κύριε·

Auditam fac mihi mane misericordiam tuam,

Quia in te speravi.

Notam fac mihi viam, in qua ambulem,

Quia ad te levavi animam meam. Ps. cxliii.

Doce me facere voluntatem tuam,

Propter nomen tuum, Domine, vivificabis me:

In justitia tua educes de tribulatione

that, as in the day, soberly, purely, honestly
I may walk.
Vouchsafe to keep me this day without sin.
Upholding them that fall, raising up them that are cast down,
that I never harden my heart through provocation,
or temptation, or the deceitfulness of any sin.
And moreover deliver me this day
From the snare of the hunters,
From the troublous word,
From the arrow that flieth by day,
From mischance,
From the noonday demon.
From mine own evil preserve the day,
From the evil of the day preserve me.
Let not my days be consumed in vanity,
nor my years in wretchedness.
Let day utter speech unto day,
let this day teach to the day before some knowledge or some deed.
Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning,
for in thee do I trust;
Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk,
for I lift up my soul unto thee.
Deliver me from mine enemies, O Lord,
for I flee unto thee to hide me.
Teach me to do thy will,
for thou art my God.
Thy Spirit is good; let it lead me
into the land of uprightness.
For thy name's sake, O Lord, thou shalt quicken me,
in thy righteousness thou shalt bring out of trouble

my soul.
Raise up out of my soul
the thoughts that are without understanding.
And breathe into me good thoughts,
and such as are well-pleasing in thy sight.
Turn away mine eyes,
that they behold not vanity.
Let mine eyes look upon the things that are right,
and let mine eyelids assent unto the things that are just.
Hedge up mine ears with thorns,
that I hearken not unto words void of instruction.
In the morning waken mine ear to hear,
and open mine ears unto the instruction of the oracles.
Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth,
keep the door of my lips.
Let my speech be seasoned with salt,
that it may minister grace unto the hearers.
Let no deed of mine become to me a sobbing of grief,
or an offence of heart.
But let there be some deed for which thou mayest remember me, O Lord, unto good; and spare me according to the multitude of thy mercy.
INTO thy hands I commend
my spirit, my soul, my body,
Thou hast created, redeemed, regenerated them,
O Lord, thou God of truth;
And with me all that are mine, and all that is mine.
Thou hast bestowed them upon me, O Lord, in thy goodness.
Keep us from all evil,

Keep our souls,
I beseech thee, O Lord.
Keep us from falling, and present us faultless
before the presence of thy glory in that Day.

Keep my going out, and my coming in,
from this time forth, and even for evermore.
Prosper thy servant this day, and grant him
mercy in the sight of them that meet with him.

O God, make speed to save me;
O Lord, make haste to help me.

O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me;
give thy strength unto thy servant,
and save the son of thine handmaid.

Shew me a token for good,
that I be not ashamed before them
that hate me;
because thou, Lord, hast holpen me,
and comforted me.

OF THE FIRST DAY.

THROUGH the tender mercies of our God, the Dayspring
from on high hath visited us.
Glory to thee, O Lord, glory to thee,
who didst create the light, and enlighten
the world.
Light visible,
the sun's ray, the flame of fire,
day and night,
evening and morning.
Light intelligible,
that which may be known of God,
that which is written of the Law,
the oracles of Prophets,
the melody of Psalms,
the admonition of Proverbs,
the experience of Histories,
Light that knows no evening.
God is the Lord, who hath shewed us light,
Keep ye the feast with thick boughs,
even unto the horns of the altar.
By thine own resurrection raise us up unto newness of life,

Τρόπους ἡμῖν μετανοίας ὑποτιθέμενος.
 Ὁ Θεὸς τῆς εἰρήνης, ὁ ἀναγαγὼν ἐκ νεκρῶν

 Ἐν αἵματι διαθήκης αἰωνίου, τὸν Κύριον ἡμῶν Ἰησοῦν Χριστὸν, Καταρτίσαι ἡμᾶς ἐν παντὶ ἔργῳ ἀγαθῷ,
 εἰς το ποιῆσαι τὸ θέλημα αὐτοῦ,

that great Shepherd of the sheep,

Make us perfect in every good work,

Working in us that which is wellpleasing in his sight,

to whom be glory for ever.
Thou who thy thrice-holy Spirit upon this day
didst send down upon thy disciples,
Take not the same, O Lord, from us,
But renew it day by day
in us who beseech thee.

MERCIFUL and gracious Lord,
longsuffering and plenteous in mercy,
I have sinned, I have sinned, O Lord, against thee.
Woe is me, wretched man that I am,
I have sinned, O Lord, against thee,
greatly and grievously have I sinned,
And that, observing lying vanities.
I hide not aught; I frame not excuses any.
I give thee glory, O Lord, this day.
I confess against myself my sins.
Of a truth I have sinned before the Lord,
and thus and thus have I done.
O what things I committed, and things unworthy

 Vane; siquidem perdidideris.

Thou hast chastened me for the things wherein I sinned.
And what shall I now say? or wherewith shall I open my mouth?
What can I answer, seeing I myself have done it?
Without excuse, without defence, self-condemned am I.
My destruction is of myself, from mine own doing.
To thee, O Lord, belongeth righteousness,
And unto me confusion of face.
And thou art just
In all things that are come upon me,
For thou hast done truly,
And I have sinned.
And now, what is mine expectation?
Is it not thou, O Lord?
Yea, my substance is with thee.
If there be for me any hope of salvation,
If thy lovingkindness overcome
The multitude of mine iniquities,
Remember what my substance is,
That I am the work of thy hands,
The image of thy countenance,
The price of thy blood,
A name from thy Name,
A sheep of thy pasture,
A son of the covenant.
The works of thine own hands despise thou not.
Thine own image and likeness —
Hast thou made it for nought?
For nought, if thou destroy it.

And what profit is there in my destruction?
Thine enemies will rejoice thereat.
O let them never rejoice, O Lord.
Grant not unto thine enemies
my destruction.
Look upon the face of thine Anointed,
And on the blood of thy covenant,
On the propitiation for the sins of the whole world,
Lord, be merciful to me the sinner,
Be merciful, I pray thee, O Lord, to me — of sinners
First, chiefest, and greatest.
For thy Name's sake, even for it, be merciful Unto my sin, for it is great;
Yea, exceeding great it is.
For the sake of that Name of thine,
Beside which there is none other under heaven
Given among men,
Whereby we must be saved,
The Spirit himself also helping
Our infirmities,
And making intercession for us
With groanings which cannot be uttered.
For the Father's fatherly heart,
The Son's bleeding wounds,
The Spirit's unutterable groanings,
Hearken, O Lord; be merciful, O Lord;
O Lord, attend, and do, and defer not,
For thine own sake,
O Lord, O Lord, my God.
But as for me, I forget not the sins I have sinned;

 Domine, ne in furore tuo arguas me,

They are before me continually.
I reckon them over in the bitterness of my soul,
I am anxious over them,
I turn me about and groan,
I take indignation,
I take vengeance,
I am angry with mine own self,
I abase and buffet mine own self.
That it is not more, that it is not deeper,
I repent, O Lord, O Lord, I repent,
Help thou mine impenitence,
And more, still more and more,
Pierce, rend, crush
my heart.
And remit, forgive, pardon all
That is grief unto me and offence of heart.
Cleanse thou me from my secret faults,
From strange sins spare thou thy servant.
Make thy mercies marvellous Toward the sinner exceedingly;
And in due season say unto me, O Lord,
Be of good cheer, { thy sins are forgiven thee.
{ my grace is sufficient for thee.
Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.
Why art thou so heavy, O my soul,
And why dost thou so disquiet me?
Return, O my soul, unto thy rest,
For the Lord shall deal bountifully with thee.
O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger,

Μηδὲ τῇ ὀργῇ σου παιδεύσῃς με.
 Εἶπα, Ἐξαγορεύσω κατ' ἐμοῦ τὴν
 ἀνομίαν μου τῷ Κυρίῳ, Καὶ σὺ ἀφήκας τὴν ἀσέβειαν τῆς καρδίας
 μου.
 Κύριε, ἐναντίον σου πᾶσα ἡ ἐπιθυμία μου,
 Καὶ ὁ στεναγμός μου ἀπὸ σοῦ οὐκ
 ἀπεκρύβη·
 Ἐλέησόν με, ὁ Θεὸς, κατὰ τὸ μέγα ἔλεός
 σου,
 Καὶ κατὰ τὸ πλῆθος τῶν οἰκτιρμῶν σου
 Ἐξάλειψον τὸ ἀνόμημά μου.
 Σὺ ἀναστὰς οἰκτειρήσεις με, ὦ Κύριε,
 Ὅτι καιρὸς τοῦ οἰκτειρῆσαί με,
 Ὅτι ἦκει καιρὸς.
 Ἐὰν ἀνομίας παρατηρήσῃς, Κύριε,
 Κύριε, τίς ὑποστήσεται;
 Μὴ εἰσέλθῃς εἰς κρίσιν μετὰ τοῦ δούλου σου,
 Ὅτι οὐ δικαιωθήσεται ἐνώπιόν σου πᾶς
 ζῶν.
 Αἰρῶ τὰς χεῖράς μου
 Πρὸς τὰς ἐντολάς σου, ὥς ἠγάπησα.
 Ἀποκάλυψον τοὺς ὀφθαλμούς μου, καὶ

Neither chasten me in thy wrath.
I said, I will confess against myself
mine iniquity unto the Lord,
And thou forgavest the ungodliness of my heart.
Lord, all my desire is before thee,
And my groaning is not hid from thee;
Have mercy upon me, O God, after thy great
mercy,
And according to the multitude of thy compassions
Blot out mine offence.
Thou shalt arise and have pity upon me, O Lord,
For it is time to pity me,
For the time is come.
If thou shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord,
O Lord, who shall stand?
Enter not into judgment with thy servant,
For in thy sight shall no man living be justified.
I LIFT UP my hands
Unto thy commandments, which I have loved.
Open thou mine eyes, and I shall perceive,
Incline thou my heart, and I shall long,
Order thou my steps, and I shall walk
In the path of thy commandments.
O Lord God, be thou to me a God,
And beside thee let there be no other unto me,
None other, nought else with thee.
Grant me to worship thee and to serve thee

O Domine Dominorum, et Rex Regum,

O Lord of the harvest,
Send forth labourers
made able by thee
into thine harvest;
O thou the portion of them that wait upon thy temple,
Grant unto our Clergy
rightly to divide the word of truth, and to walk uprightly therein.
Grant unto the people that love Christ
to obey them and to submit themselves.

O King of the nations,
unto the ends of the earth,
Strengthen all the commonwealths
of the whole world,
as being an ordinance of thine,
albeit a creation of man.
Scatter thou the peoples
that have pleasure in wars;
Make wars to cease unto the ends of the earth.

O thou the patience of the isles, O Lord, and their hope,
Deliver this island,
and every land wherein we sojourn,
from all affliction, peril,
and distress.

Lord of lords, ruler of rulers,

Μνήσθητι ἀρχόντων πάντων,
οὓς ἐδικαίωσας ἄρχειν ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς.
Καὶ ὧ ἐν πρώτοις μνήσθητι
του θεοφυλάκτου Βασιλέως ἡμῶν, Καὶ ἐπὶ πλεόν συνέργησον αὐτῷ,
καὶ εὐόδωσον αὐτὸν ἐν ᾗ πασι· Λάλησον εἰς καρδίαν αὐτοῦ ἀγαθὰ,
ὑπὲρ τῆς ἐκκλησίας σου,
καὶ παντὸς τοῦ λαοῦ· Χάρισαι αὐτῷ βαθεῖαν
καὶ ἀναφαίρετον εἰρήνην·
ἵνα ἐν τῇ γαλήνῃ αὐτοῦ
ἡρεμον καὶ ἡσύχιον βίον διάγωμεν,
μετὰ πάσης εὐσεβείας καὶ σεμνότητος.

ᾧ παρ' οὗ τεταγμένα εἰσὶν αἱ ἐξουσίαι, Χάρισαι τοῖς ἐν Παλατίῳ διαφέρουσι,
ἐπ' ἀρετῇ τε καὶ φόβῳ σου διαφέρειν·
Τῷ βουλευτηρίῳ, τὴν ἁγίαν σου φρόνησιν·
Τοῖς δυνάσταις ἡμῶν, τὸ μὴ δύνασθαί τι κατὰ,
ἀλλ' ὑπὲρ τῆς ἀληθείας· Τῷ δικαστηρίῳ τὰ κρίματά σου,
τὸ κρίνειν ἐν πᾶσι πάντας,
ἄνευ προκρίματος, καὶ προσκλίσεως.

Ὁ ΘΕΟΣ Σαβαώθ (τῶν στρατιῶν δηλαδή)
εὐόδωσον καὶ ἰσχύσον πάντα
τὸν φιλόχριστον στρατὸν κατὰ τῶν ἐχθρῶν
τῆς ἀγιοτάτης ἡμῶν πίστεως.
Χάρισαι τοῖς λαοῖς ἐν ἡμῖν

Memor esto Principum omnium, quos dignos deputasti qui in terra regnarent;
Et imprimis memor esto
Regis nostri Deo cari,
Et magis magisque cooperare,
et secunda eum in omnibus.
Loquere ad ipsius cor bona,
propter Ecclesiam tuam,
et omnem populum.
Largire illi altam et non eripiendam Pacem,
ut in ipsius tranquillitate
quietam et tranquillam vitam agamus,
in omni pietate et castitate, 1 Tim. ii. 2.

O a quo ordinatae sunt potestates, Rom. xiii. 1.
Largire iis qui in Palatio eminent,
Ut in virtute et timore tui emineant;
Concilio, sanctam tuam Prudentiam;
Proceribus, nihil facere contra,
Sed pro veritate valere; 2 Cor. xiii. 8.
Judicibus nostris, Judicia tua,
et judicare in omnibus omnes sine praejudicio, vel in alteram partem de-clinando. 1 Tim. v. 21.

O Deus Sabaoth, (sc. Exercituum)
Esto tu Dux et Protector omnium Christianorum militum, adversus sanctissimæ fidei hostes.
Largire Populo nostro

Remember all rulers,
whom thou hast counted worthy to bear rule upon the earth.
And O among the first remember
our King, whom God doth guard,
And work with him more and more,
and prosper him in all things;
Speak good things unto his heart,
for thy church,
and for all the people;
Grant unto him deep
peace, and peace that cannot be taken away;
That in his calm
we may lead a quiet and peaceable life,
with all godliness and gravity.
O thou by whom the powers are ordained,
Grant unto them that are eminent in the Palace,
to be eminent in virtue and in thy fear;
To the Council, thy holy wisdom;
To our mighty ones, to have no might against,
but for, the truth;
To the seat of judgment, thy judgments,
to judge all men in all causes,
without prejudging, and without partiality.
O GOD Sabaoth (that is, of hosts) prosper and make strong all the army that loveth Christ, against the enemies of our most holy faith.
Grant unto the peoples among us

ὑποτάσσεσθαι τῇ ἀρχῇ,
οὐ μόνον διὰ τὴν ὀργήν,
ἀλλὰ καὶ διὰ τὴν συνείδησιν.

ΤΟΙΣ γεωργοῖς καὶ ζωοφόρβοις, εὐετηρίαν,
τῷ στόλῳ καὶ ἀλιεύσιν, εὐπλοῖαν·
τῇ καπηλικῇ, μὴ ὑπερβαίνειν ἀλλήλους, τῇ μηχανικῇ, νομίμως ἐργάζεσθαι
τὰς ἐργασίας αὐτῶν· Καὶ μὲν καὶ μέχρι τῶν βαναύσων,
καὶ μὲν καὶ μέχρι τῶν πτωχῶν.

Ὁ ΘΕΟΣ οὐχ ἡμῶν μόνον,
ἀλλὰ καὶ σπέρματος ἡμετέρου· Εὐλόγησον τὰ παιδία ἡμῶν ἐν ἡμῖν,
ὥστε προκόψαι αὐτὰ ἐν σοφίᾳ,
ὡς καὶ ἡλικία καὶ ἐν χάριτι
παρὰ σοί τε καὶ ἀνθρώποις.

Ὁ θέλων τῶν ιδίων πρόνοιαν ἔχειν ἡμᾶς,
καὶ μισῶν ἀστόργους, Μνήσθητι, Κύριε, τῶν μοι
κατὰ σάρκα συγγενῶν.
Δὸς ἐμοὶ λαλεῖν εἰρήνην περὶ αὐτῶν,
καὶ ἐκζητεῖν ἀγαθὰ αὐτοῖς.

Ὁ βουλόμενος ἀνταμεῖψαι
ἡμᾶς τοῖς ἀγαθοποιούσι, Μνήσθητι, Κύριε, εἰς ἀγαθὸν πάντων
ὑφ' ὧν εὐπέπονθα·

subjici potestati,
non solum propter iram, sed et propter Conscientiam. Rom. xiii. 5.

AGRICOLIS et Pastoribus, anni fertilitatem, Classariis et Piscatoribus, secundam navigationem;
Mercatoribus, alium alios non circumvenire, Artificibus, legitime operari
operas suas;
etiam usque ad artes sordidas,
etiam usque ad mendicantes.

O DEUS non solum noster,
sed et seminis nostri;
Benedic puerulis nostris inter nos,
ut sicut ætate, sapientia etiam
proficiant, et gratia
apud te et omnes homines. Luc. ii. 52.

Qui curam nostrorum vis habere nos, 1 Tim. v. 8.
et odisti eos qui sine affectione naturali sunt,
[2 Tim. iii. 3.]

Memor esto, Domine, meorum secundum carnem propinquorum; Rom. ix. 3.
Et da mihi pacifice de illis loqui,
et illorum bona quærere.

Qui vis nos retribuere
benefactoribus nostris, Memor esto in bonum, Domine, omnium
qui de me bene meriti sunt:

to be subject unto authority,
not only for wrath,
but also for conscience' sake.

TO THE husbandmen and the herdsmen, a good year,
to the fleet and the fishers, fair seas;
to them that trade, not to overreach one another,
to the craftsmen, lawfully to work
at their own crafts;
yea, and even down unto the mean trades,
yea, and even down unto the poor.

O GOD, not of us alone,
but of our seed also;
Bless our children among us,
that they may go forward in wisdom,
as in stature, and in favour
with thee and with men.

O thou who wouldest have us care for our own,
and hatest them that are without natural affection, Remember, O Lord, them that are my kinsfolk after the flesh.

Grant me to speak peace concerning them,
and to seek out good things for them.

O thou who art minded to repay
us that do good to others, Remember, O Lord, unto good all those
at whose hands I have received good;

Ζῆσον αὐτοὺς καὶ μακάρισον ἐν τῇ γῇ,
καὶ μήποτε παραδῶς αὐτοὺς
εἰς θέλημα ἐχθρῶν.

Ὁ τῶν οἰκείων ἀμελοῦντα
ἀπίστου χεῖρονα γράψας, Μνήσθητι ἐν εὐδοκίᾳ σου πάντων
ἐν οἰκονομίᾳ μου.
Εἰρήνη τῷ οἴκῳ ἐμῷ,
Υἱὸς εἰρήνης ἐπὶ πᾶσιν ἐν αὐτῷ.

Ὁ θέλων περισσεύειν δικαιοσύνην ἡμῶν
πλεῖον τῶν ἁμαρτωλῶν, Ἀνταγαπᾶν τοὺς ἀγαπῶντας ἐμὲ
δὸς ἐμοί, Κύριε· Τοὺς φίλους ἐμοὺς καὶ πατέρας,
καὶ τῶν φίλων παῖδας οὐδέποτε ἐγκαταλείψαι.

Ὁ θέλων ἡμᾶς νικᾶν ἐν τῷ ἀγαθῷ τὸ κακόν,
καὶ προσεύχεσθαι ὑπὲρ τῶν ἐπηρεαζόντων
ἡμᾶς,
Ἐλέησον τοὺς ἐχθρούς μου, Κύριε,
ὥς καὶ ἐμαυτὸν,
καὶ προσάγαγε εἰς τὴν ἐπουράνιον
σου βασιλείαν, ὥς καὶ ἐμέ.

Ὁ χαρισάμενος ταῖς προσευχαῖς τῶν δούλων
σου
ὑπὲρ ἀλλήλων,
Μνήσθητι, Κύριε, εἰς ἀγαθόν,
καὶ δόξης ἔλεος πᾶσι τοῖς ἐμὲ διὰ μνήμης
ἔχουσιν,
ἐν ταῖς προσευχαῖς αὐτῶν·

Longævos et beatos in terra fac eos,
et ne tradas unquam
voluntati inimicorum. Psal. xli. 2.

Qui domesticorum curam non habentem
infideli deteriorem notasti, 1 Tim. v. 8.

Memor esto in beneplacito tuo omnium in familia mea.
Pax domui meæ,
Filius pacis super omnibus in ea. Luc. x. 5, [6.]

Qui vis justitiam nostram excedere
justitiam peccatorum, Mat. v. 20.

Redamare mei amantes
Da mihi Domine, Vers. 46.

Amicos meos et patris mei
Et amicorum liberos nunquam derelinquere. Prov. xxvii. 10.

Qui mandasti nobis vincere in bono malum,
[Rom. xii. 21.]

Et orare pro calumniantibus et persequentibus,
[Mat. v. 44.]

Miserere inimicorum nostrorum, Domine, Sicut et mei ipsius,
et perduc eos in Regnum
tuum cæleste, sicut et me.

Qui accipis preces servorum tuorum
pro se invicem,

Memento, Domine, in bonum, et da misericor-diam omnibus qui me in memoria habent
in precibus suis;

Give them life, and count them blessed in the earth,
and never deliver thou them
unto the will of their enemies.

O thou who him that is careless of his own
hast written down worse than an unbeliever, Remember in thy good pleasure all them
that are within my stewardship.
Peace be unto mine house,
A son of peace upon all that are in it.

O thou who wouldest have our righteousness abound
more than the righteousness of sinners,
To love them again that love me
grant unto me, O Lord;
My friends, and my father's friends,
and my friends' children, never to forsake.

O thou who wouldest have us overcome evil with good,
and pray for them that despitefully use us,
Have mercy upon mine enemies, O Lord,
as upon mine own self,
and bring them unto thy heavenly kingdom, even as me also.

O thou who hast granted the prayers of thy servants
one for another,
Remember, O Lord, unto good,
and give mercy unto all that hold me in remembrance
in their prayers.

καὶ πᾶσιν οἷς ἐπηγγειλάμην διὰ μνήμης ἔχειν
ἐν προσευχαῖς μου.

Ὁ προθυμίαν ἐν παντὶ ἔργῳ ἀγαθῷ
εὐπρόσδεκτον ἡγούμενος, τῶν δι' εὐλόγους αἰτίας τῇ προσευχῇ
μὴ σχολαζόντων,

Μνήσθητι, Κύριε, ὡς καὶ προσευχομένων
σοι.

ΣΥ ἀναστὰς οἰκτειρήσεις τοὺς ἐν ἐσχάτῃ ἀνάγκῃ
ὄντας,

Ὅτι καιρὸς τοῦ οἰκτειρῆσαι αὐτοὺς,
ὅτι ἦκει καιρὸς.

Οἰκτειρήσεις δέ, Κύριε,
ὡς καὶ ἐμέ ἐν ἐσχάτοις ὄντα.

Μνήσθητι, Κύριε,

τῶν { Νηπίων, / Παίδων, / Ἐφήβων, / Νέων, / Ἀνδρῶν, / Γερόντων } }

τῶν { Πεινώντων, / Διψάντων, / Γυμνῶν, / Νοσούντων, / Δεσμωτῶν, / Ξένων, ἀξένων, / Ἀθάπτων, }

Τῶν ἐν ἐσχάτῃ γήρᾳ

καὶ ἀδυναμίᾳ ὄντων,

Ἐνεργουμένων εἰς τὸ ἑαυτοκτονεῖν,

Ὀχλουμένων ὑπὸ πνευμάτων ἀκαθάρτων,

Τῶν ἀπηλπισμένων,

Ψυχὴν νοσούντων ἢ σῶμα,

Ὀλιγοψύχων,

et omnibus quos pollicitus sum in memoria
habere in precibus meis,

Qui voluntatem promptam acceptam habes
in omni opere bono, [1 Cor. viii. 12.]

Eorum, quibus justa de causa
otium non est,

Memor esto, Domine, tanquam precantium.

TU exsurgens misereberis eorum, qui in extrema
necessitate sunt;

Quoniam tempus est miserendi eorum,
quia venit tempus; [Psal. cii. 13.]

Misereberis autem, Domine, tanquam et mei in extremis positi.

Memento, Domine,

Infantium, | Esurientium,

Puerorum, | Sitientium,

Adolescentium, | Nudorum,

Juvenum, | Ægrotantium,

16.]

Desperatorum,

Quibus animo ægre est vel corpore,

Pusillanimorum,

and unto all whom I have promised to hold in remembrance
in my prayers.

O thou who a ready mind in every good work
accountest well-pleasing,
Them that for just causes unto prayer
have no leisure,

Remember, O Lord, as though they also prayed unto thee.

THOU shalt arise and have pity upon them that are in the last necessity,
For it is time to pity them,
for the time is come.

And thou wilt have pity, O Lord,
as upon me also, that am in extremity.

Remember, O Lord,

the { infants, / children, / youths, / young men, / grown men, / aged; }
the { hungry, / thirsty, / naked, / sick, / prisoners, / strangers, and friendless, / unburied, }

Them that are in extreme old age
and helplessness,

Them that are vexed with unclean spirits,

Them that are past hope,

Them that are sick in soul or body,

The fainthearted,

Ἀνθρώπους καὶ κτήνη σώσεις, Κύριε.
 Ὡς ἐπλήθυνας τὸ ἔλεός σου ὁ Θεός·
 Καὶ ἄρα οἱ υἱοὶ τῶν ἀνθρώπων ἐν σκέπη
 Τῶν πτερύγων σου ἐλπιούσιν.
 Εὐλογῆσαι ἡμᾶς Κύριος,
 καὶ φυλάξαι ἡμᾶς.
 Ἐπιφάναι Κύριος τὸ πρόσωπον αὐτοῦ ἐφ'
 ἡμᾶς,

 Quemadmodum multiplicasti misericordiam
 tuam, O Deus!
 Quocirca filii hominum in tegmine
 Alarum tuarum sperabunt. [Psal. xxxvi. 6, 7.]
 Benedicat nobis Dominus,

 Ostendat Dominus faciem suam nobis,

Women with child,
Women giving suck,
Them that are in bitter { servitude, / mines, / galleys, }
Them that are in the wilderness.

Thou, Lord, shalt save both man and beast.
How hast thou multiplied thy mercy, O God!
And so the children of men shall put their hope in the shelter of thy wings.

The Lord bless us,
and keep us.

The Lord make his face to shine upon us,
and have mercy upon us.

The Lord lift up his countenance upon us,
and give us peace.

I COMMEND unto thee, O Lord,

as it is truly meet and right,

Confitebor iniquitates meas,
et iniquitates majorum meorum,

Quia prævaricatus sum, et neglexi te, Domine,
et ambulavi ex adverso tibi. Lev. xxvi. 40.

Ne, Domine, ne ponas iniquitates meas in conspectu tuo:

OF THE SECOND DAY.

IN the morning shalt thou hear my voice, O Lord, in the morning will I stand before thee, and thou shalt look upon me.

who didst create the firmament of heaven,
the heavens, and the heavens of heavens,
the heavenly powers,
Angels, Archangels, Cherubim, Seraphim;

1. Waters above the heavens,
vapours,
exhalations, whence
Showers, | Ice, like morsels,
Dew, | Clouds from the ends of the earth,
Hail, | Lightnings, thunders,
Snow, like wool, | Winds out of the treasures,
Hoar-frost, like ashes, | Storm-winds.
2. Waters beneath the heavens, for { drinking, / washing. }

I will confess my sins,
and the sins of my fathers;
for I have transgressed and disregarded thee, O Lord,
and have walked contrary before thee;
Set not, O Lord, set not my iniquities before thee,

Τὸν αἰῶνά μου εἰς φωτισμὸν τοῦ
 προσώπου σου·
 Ἄλλ' ἄφες τὴν ἀνομίαν τῷ δούλῳ σου,
 κατὰ τὸ μέγα ἔλεός σου,
 καθάπερ ἡλεως ἐγένου αὐτῷ ἀπὸ
 βρέφους, καὶ ἕως τοῦ νῦν.
 Ἡμάρτον· τί δυνήσομαί σοι πράξει,
 ὃ φύλαξ ἀνθρώπων ;
 Διὰ τί ἔθου με κατεντευκτὴν σοι ;
 εἰμὶ δὲ ἐπὶ μοὶ φορτικός.
 ὦ, ποίει τῆς ἀνομίας μου λήθην,
 καὶ καθαρισμὸν τῆς ἀμαρτίας μου.
 Σώσον τὴν ψυχὴν μου τοῦ μὴ ἐλθεῖν εἰς δια-φθοράν
 Εὗρες γὰρ ἐν ᾧ ἐξήλασθῆς.
 Ἐλέησόν με, υἱὲ Δαβὶδ, Κύριε, βοήθει μοι· Ναὶ, ὦ Κύριε, καὶ τὰ κυνάρια ἐσθίει
 ἀπὸ τῶν ψυχίων τῶν πιπτόντων
 ἀπὸ τῆς τραπέζης τῶν κυρίων αὐτῶν.
 Μακροθύμησον ἐπ' ἐμοί, Κύριε, μᾶλλον δὲ οὐκ ἔχω τι ἀποδοῦναι,
 ὁμολογῶ σοι·
 ἄφες μοι πᾶσαν τὴν ὀφειλὴν, παρακαλῶ σε.
 α'. Ἔως πότε, Κύριε, ἐπιλήση μου εἰς τέλος
 ἕως πότε ἀποστρέφεις τὸ πρόσωπόν σου
 ἀπ' ἐμοῦ ;
 β'. Ἔως τίνος θήσομαι βουλὰς ἐν ψυχῇ μου,
 ὀδύνας ἐν καρδίᾳ μου ἡμέρας καὶ νυκτός ;
 Ἔως πότε ὑψωθήσεται ὁ ἐχθρός μου ἐπ' ἐμέ ;
 γ'. Ἐπὶβλεψὼν καὶ εἰσάκουσόν μου, Κύριε,
 ὁ Θεός μου, φώτισον τοὺς ὀφθαλμούς μου,

sæculum meum in illuminatione vultus tui.
Ps. xc. 8.

Sed dimitte iniquitatem servo tuo,
 secundum magnitudinem misericordiæ tuæ,
 sicut propitius ei fuisti ab infantia,
 ad usque nunc. Num. xiv. 19.

Peccavi. Quid faciam tibi, o custos hominum ?

Quare posuisti me contrarium tibi,
 Et factus sum mihimetipsi gravis ?
 Des iniquitatem meam oblivioni,
 Et purges peccatum meum. Job. vii. 20.

Salvam fac animam meam, ne veniat in interitum,
 Invenisti enim in quo propitiatus sis. [Job. xxxiii.
 24.]

Miserere mei, fili David. Domine, adjuva me.
Mat. xv. 22. [25.]

Etiam, Domine, nam et catelli edunt
 de micis quæ cadunt de mensa
 Dominorum suorum. [vers. 27.]

Patientiam habe in me, Domine,
 Quin potius, Non habeo unde reddam ;
 Confitebor tibi.

 xviii. 25—27.

1. Usquequo, Domine, oblivisceris me in finem ?
 Usquequo avertis faciem tuam a me ? Psal.
 xiii. 1.

2. Quamdiu ponam consilia in anima mea,
 Dolorem in corde meo, per diem et noctem ?
 Usquequo exaltabitur inimicus meus super me ? Vers. 2.

3. Respice, et exaudi me, Domine, Deus meus, Illumina oculos meos, ne unquam

my whole life in the light of thy countenance;
But forgive the iniquity of thy servant,
according to thy great mercy,
even as thou hast been merciful unto him from his infancy, even until now.

I have sinned; what shall I be able to do unto thee,
O thou preserver of men?

Why hast thou set me as an adversary against thee,
and I am become a burden unto myself.

O, make forgetfulness of mine iniquity,
and cleansing of my sin.

Save my soul, that it go not down into corruption;
for thou hast found a ransom.

Have mercy on me, O Son of David; Lord, help me;

Yea, Lord: yet the dogs eat
of the crumbs which fall
from their masters' table.

Have patience with me, O Lord,
or rather, I have nothing to pay,
I confess it unto thee;

forgive me all that debt, I beseech thee.

1. How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord? for ever?
how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
2. How long shall I take counsel in my soul,
having sorrow in my heart day and night?
How long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?
3. Consider and hear me, O Lord,
my God: lighten mine eyes,

μήποτε ὑπνώσω εἰς θάνατον
 δ'. Μήποτε εἴποι ὁ ἐχθρός μου, ἰσχυσα πρὸς αὐτόν.
 Οἱ θλίβοντές με ἀγαλλιάσονται, ἐὰν

or some great good to the Church shall come to pass.

For those that show themselves bountiful,
whether toward holy things,
or toward the needy.

For those who, whether by deed or by word, have been made to stumble by me at any time.

God be merciful unto me,
and bless me;
cause his face to shine upon me,
and have mercy upon me;
God, even our own God, bless me;
God bless me.

Receive my supplication,
Order my life after thy commandments,
sanctify my soul,
purify my body,
correct my thoughts,
cleanse my desires,
soul and body,
mind and spirit,
heart and reins.

Renew me wholly, O Lord,
for thou canst, if thou wilt.

 so that I am not able to look up;

Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me:
 O Lord, make haste to help me.

Shew thy marvellous lovingkindnesses upon me,
 O thou that savest them which put their trust in thee,
I said, Lord, be merciful unto me:
 heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

I have sinned,
 but I turn in shame,
 and turn away from my evil ways,
 and turn again unto mine own heart,
 and with my whole heart I turn again unto thee;

I have sinned, I have done iniquity, I have done wickedly,

 And behold, I turn unto thee with my whole heart,
 and with all my strength.
 And now thou, O Lord, from thy dwelling-place,
 and from the throne of the glory of thy kingdom in the heavens,
 hearken now unto the prayer,
 and unto the supplication of thy servant;
 and be gracious unto thy servant,
 and heal his soul.

O God, be merciful to me a sinner,
 be merciful, I pray thee, to me the chief of sinners.
 Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,
 and am no more worthy to be called thy son:
 make me as one of thy hired servants;
 make me but one, yea even the last,

 when I go down to corruption?

 or shall it declare thy truth?

BEHOLD, thou wast wroth, for we too have sinned.
We are all become as an unclean thing,
as a menstruous rag

πᾶσα δικαιοσύνη ἡμῶν.
 Ἐξερρύημεν, ὡς φύλλα, διὰ τὰς ἀνομίας ἡμῶν·
 οὕτως ὁ ἄνεμος οἶσει ἡμᾶς.
 Καὶ νῦν, Κύριε, Πατὴρ ἡμῶν σὺ, ἡμεῖς δὲ πηλός, ἔργα τῶν χειρῶν σου
 πάντες,
 Μὴ ὀργίζου ἡμῖν σφόδρα, καὶ
 μὴ ἐν καιρῷ μνησθῆς τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν ἡμῶν.
 Καὶ νῦν, ἰδοὺ, ἐπίβλεψον, Κύριε,
 λαός σου πάντες ἡμεῖς.
 Εἰ αἱ ἁμαρτίαι ἡμῶν ἀντέστησαν ἡμῖν,
 Κύριε, ποιήσον ἕλεος ἡμῖν ἕνεκεν τοῦ
 ὀνόματός σου,
 Ὅτι πολλαὶ αἱ ἁμαρτίαι ἡμῶν,
 ἐν αἷς σοι ἡμάρτομεν.
 Σὺ δὲ ἐν ἡμῖν, Κύριε,
 καὶ τὸ ὄνομά σου ἐπικέκληται ἐφ' ἡμᾶς,
 μὴ ἐπιλάβῃ ἡμῶν·
 Ὡς ὑπομονὴ ἡμῶν, Κύριε, ὅς σωζεῖς ἐν καιρῷ
 κακῶν,
 Ἵνα τί ἐγενήθης ὡς πάροικος ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς
 σῆς,
 ἢ ὡς αὐτόχθων ἐκκλίνων εἰς κατάλυμα,
 ὥσπερ ἄνθρωπος ὁ ὑπνῶν,
 ὡς ἄνθρωπος, μὴ δυνάμενος σωζεῖν;
 Ἰλεως ἴσθι, Κύριε ταῖς ἀδικίαις ἡμῶν,
 καὶ τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν μὴ μνησθῆς ἔτι.
 Κύριε, ἐγὼ σαρκικὸς,
 πεπραμένος ὑπὸ τὴν ἁμαρτίαν.
 οὐκ οἰκεῖ ἐν ἐμοὶ (τουτέστιν, ἐν τῇ σαρκί μου)
 ἀγαθόν τι.
 Οὐ γὰρ, ὃ θέλω, ποιῶ ἀγαθόν,
 ἀλλ' ὃ οὐ θέλω κακὸν, τοῦτο πράσσω.
 Σύμφημι τῷ νόμῳ, ὅτι καλός·

universæ justitiæ nostræ.
 Et decidimus quasi folia propter iniquitates
 nostras, ita ventus nos auferet. [Es. lxiv. 5, 6.]
 Et nunc, Domine, Pater noster es Tu, Nos vero lutum, opera manuum tuarum nos
 omnes, [Vers. 8.]
 Ne irascaris nobis valde, et ne ultra memineris iniquitatis nostræ.
 Nunc autem, Ecce! respice Domine,
 Populus tuus omnes nos. [Vers. 9.]
 Si iniquitates nostræ obstiterint nobis, Domine, fac nobis misericordiam propter nomen
 tuum,
 Quoniam multæ sunt aversiones nostræ,
 quibus tibi peccavimus. [Jer. xiv. 7.]
 Tu autem in nobis es, Domine,
 et nomen tuum invocatum est super nos,
 ne obliviscaris nostri. [Vers. 9.] Exspectatio nostra, Domine, Salvator in tempore tribulationis,
 quare quasi colonus factus es in terra tua,
 et quasi viator declinans ad manendum,
 velut vir dormiens,
 ut fortis qui non potest salvare? [Vers. 8, 9.] Propitiare, Domine, iniquitati nostræ, et peccata nostra ne memineris amplius. [Jer.
 xxxi. 34.]
 Domine, ego carnalis, venundatus sub peccato. Rom. vii. 14.
 Non habitat in me (h. e. in carne mea)
 bonum. Vers. 18.
 Non enim, quod volo bonum, hoc facio,
 sed quod nolo malum, hoc ago. Vers. 19.

is all our righteousness.
We have all faded as a leaf, because of our iniquities;
and so the wind carries us away.
And now, O Lord, thou art our Father,
and we are the clay, we all are the work of thy hands.
Be not wroth very sore, and remember not our sins for ever.
And now, behold, look upon us, O Lord,
we are all thy people.
If our sins have risen up against us,
O Lord, deal thou with us for thy name's sake,
For our sins are many,
wherein we have sinned against thee.
Yet thou art in the midst of us, O Lord,
and we are called by thy name;
forget us not.
O thou our hope, O Lord, who savest in the time of troubles,
why shouldest thou be as a stranger in thy land,
or as one native-born that turneth aside to a lodging,
as a man that sleepeth,
as a strong man that cannot save?
Be merciful, O Lord, unto our unrighteousnesses,
and our sins remember thou no more.
O Lord, I am carnal,
sold under sin.
In me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth
no good thing.
For the good that I would, I do not,
but the evil which I would not, that I do.
I consent unto the law, that it is good;

 ἁμαρτίας.
 Ταλαίπωρος ἐγὼ ἄνθρωπος,
 Τίς μὲ ρύσεται ἐκ τοῦ σώματος τοῦ θανάτου
 τούτου;
 Εὐχαριστῶ τῷ Θεῷ διὰ Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ,
 Ὅτι ὅπου ἐπλεόνασεν ἡ ἁμαρτία,

 Ἄμνέ, ἄμωμε, καὶ ἄσπιλε,
 ὅς ἐλύτρωσάς με ἐν τῷ τιμίῳ σου αἵματι,
 ἐν τῷ αἵματι αὐτῷ ἐλέησον καὶ σῶσόν με·

 Κύριε, ἐναντίον σου πᾶσα ἡ ἐπιθυμία μου,
 καὶ ὁ στεναγμός μου ἀπὸ σοῦ οὐκ

 Infelix ego homo,

 Gratia Deo per Jesum Christum, Vers. 24.
 Quod, ubi abundavit delictum, ibi
 superabundavit gratia. Rom. v. 2.
 O Domine, benignitas tua ad poenitentiam me
 deducit. Rom. ii. 4.
 Oh! da mihi aliquando poenitentiam ad resipiscendum

 illo sanguine tuo miserere, et serva me:
 illo sanguine,
 atque illo nomine tuo,
 extra quod non est aliud nomen
 datum hominibus sub caelo,
 in quo oporteat nos salvos fieri. Act. iv. 12.
 Domine, tu scis insipientiam meam,
 et delicta mea a te non sunt abscondita. Ps.
 lxix. 5.
 Domine, ante te omne desiderium meum,
 et gemitus meus a te non est absconditus. Ps.
 xxxviii. 9.
 Non erubescant in me qui exspectant

and I delight in it after the inward man.
But I see another law in my members,
warring against the law of my mind,
and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin.
O wretched man that I am!
who shall deliver me from the body of this death?
I thank God through JESUS CHRIST.
For where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.
O Lord, thy goodness leadeth me to repentance.
O give me repentance at the last, that I may recover myself out of the snare of the devil, who am taken captive by him.
The time past of my life may suffice me
to have wrought the will of my lusts,
walking in lasciviousness, revellings, drinkings,
and in the rest of the excess of riot.
O Lamb, without blemish and without spot,
who hast redeemed me with thy precious blood,
by that same blood have mercy on me and save me;
both by the blood,
and by that thy name,
beside which there is none other under heaven
given among men,
whereby we must be saved.
O God, thou knowest my foolishness,
and my sins are not hid from thee.
O Lord, all my desire is before thee,
and my groaning is not hid from thee.
Let not them that wait on thee be ashamed for my sake,

σε, Κύριε, Κύριε τῶν δυνάμεων· Μηδὲ ἐντραπήσαν ἐπ' ἐμέ, οἱ ζητοῦντές σε, ὁ Θεὸς τοῦ Ἰσραὴλ.
 Σῶσόν με ἀπὸ πηλοῦ, ἵνα μὴ ἐμπαγῶ·
 ῥυσθείην ἐκ τῶν μισούντων με, καὶ
 ἐκ τῶν βαθέων ὑδάτων.
 Μὴ με καταποντισάτω καταιγὶς ὕδατος,
 μηδὲ καταπιέτω με βυθὸς,
 μηδὲ συσχέτω ἐπ' ἐμέ φρέας τὸ στόμα
 αὐτοῦ.

O Lord, O Lord of hosts;
Neither let those that seek thee be confounded for my sake,
O God of Israel.

Save me out of the mire, that I sink not;
let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

Let not the waterflood overflow me,
neither let the deep swallow me up,

FURTHERMORE we beseech thee,
Remember, O Lord, all men for good,
 have mercy upon all, O Master,
 be reconciled unto us all.
Give peace to the multitudes of thy people,
 scatter the offences,
 make the wars to cease,
put down the risings-up of heresies;
 Thine own peace and love
grant thou unto us, O God, our Saviour,
 and the hope of all the ends of the earth.
Remember the crown of the year
 of thy goodness.
For the eyes of all wait upon thee,
 and thou givest them their meat in due season.
Thou openest thine hand,
 and fillest every living thing with thy good pleasure.

Remember them that bring forth fruit, and do good works
in thy holy churches,
and are mindful of the poor and needy,
recompense them,
out of thy rich and heavenly gifts;
grant unto them,

for corruptible things | the incorruptible,
for temporal things | the eternal.

Remember them that in virginity, and purity,
and continence,
and them also that in honourable wedlock, in reverence
and in thy fear do pass their days.

Remember every Christian soul
afflicted, and oppressed, and in sore conflict,
and standing in need of thy mercy and thy help;
and our brethren that are in captivities, and in prisons, and in bonds, and in bitter servitude,
granting conversion to them that are gone astray,

deliverance to the captives.

 Subde sub illo omnes adversarios:
 loquere ipsius cordi bona Pro Ecclesia et omni populo tuo.
 Concede illi profundam et illibatam pacem,
 ut in ipsius tranquillitate
 Tranquillam et quietam vitam degamus cum omni pietate et castimonia. [1 Tim.

 sancta,
 ob studium et alacritatem ipsorum.

Remember the godly and faithful kings,
whom thou hast held worthy to reign upon the earth;
And first of all remember, O Lord,
our God-guarded King;
strengthen his kingdom,
Subdue under him all that withstand him;
speak good things unto his heart
For the Church, and for all thy people.
grant him a deep and unshaken peace,
that in his tranquillity
we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

Remember, O Lord, all rule
and authority,
and the brethren in the Palace,
and them that bear office in council and in court,
and all that, by land and by sea,
wage thy wars on our behalf.

Vouchsafe also, O Lord, to remember
our Fathers in holiness,
the honourable Presbytery, and all the clergy,
rightly dividing the word of truth,
and walking uprightly therein.

Remember, O Lord, the brethren that stand round about us,
and pray together with us in this holy hour,
their earnestness and their zeal.

Μνήσθητι καὶ τῶν δι' εὐλόγους αἰτίας
ἀπολειφθέντων,
καὶ ἐλέησον αὐτοὺς καὶ ἡμᾶς

τὰ νήπια ἔκθρεψον,

Qui ad tribunalia, et in metallis, et exsiliis
et triremibus, et omni angustia, et necessitate,
et adversitate sunt, eorum memento, Deus,
et omnium qui indigent
magna tua misericordia;

Et diligentium nos,
et odio habentium,

Remember also them that for good cause are absent,
and have mercy upon them and upon us
according to the multitude of thy mercy.

Fill our storehouses with all good things,
keep our marriages in peace and concord,
nourish the little children,
train up the youth,
uphold the aged,
comfort the fainthearted,
gather together them that are scattered,
bring back them that are gone astray, and join them unto thy holy and catholic and apostolic Church;
them that are vexed by the unclean
spirits, set free,
with them that sail, sail thou,
with them that journey, journey thou,
stand up for the widows,
shield the fatherless,
deliver the captives,
heal the sick;

Them that are at the tribunals, and in the mines, and in banishments,
and in the galleys, and in all tribulation, and necessity,
and distress, remember, O God,
and all that stand in need
of thy great compassion;
Both them that love us,
and them that hate us,

καὶ τῶν ἐντειλαμένων ἡμῖν τοῖς ἀναξίοις,
ὥστε μνημονεύειν αὐτῶν ἐν ταῖς
προσευχαῖς ἡμῶν.

Καὶ παντὸς τοῦ λαοῦ σου μνήσθητι, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς ἡμῶν,
καὶ ἐπὶ πάντας ἔκχεον τὸ πλούσιόν σου
ἐλεος,
πᾶσι παρέχων τὰ πρὸς σωτηρίαν
αἰτήματα.

Καὶ ὧν ἡμεῖς οὐκ ἐμνημονεύσαμεν,
δι' ἄγνοιαν, ἢ λήθην, ἢ πλήθος ὀνομάτων,
αὐτὸς μνημόνευσον ὁ Θεός, ὁ εἰδὼς
ἐκάστου τὴν ἡλικίαν, καὶ τὴν προσηγορίαν,
ὁ εἰδὼς ἕκαστον ἐκ κοιτίας μητρὸς αὐτοῦ.

Σὺ γὰρ εἶ, Κύριε, ἡ βοήθεια τῶν ἀβοηθήτων,
καὶ ἡ ἐλπίς τῶν ἀπελπισμένων,
ὁ τῶν χειμαζομένων σωτὴρ,
ὁ τῶν πλεόντων λιμὴν,
ὁ τῶν νοσούντων ἰατρός,
αὐτὸς τοῖς πᾶσι τὰ πάντα γενοῦ.

Ὁ εἰδὼς ἕκαστον καὶ τὸ αἶτημα αὐτοῦ,
οἶκον καὶ τὴν χρεῖαν αὐτοῦ,

Ῥῦσαι, Κύριε, τὴν πόλιν ταύτην, καὶ
πᾶσαν τὴν χώραν ἐν ᾗ παροικοῦμεν,
ἀπὸ λοιμοῦ, λιμοῦ, σεισμοῦ,
καταποντισμοῦ,
πυρὸς, μαχαίρας, ἐπιδρομῆς ἀλλοφύλων,
καὶ ἐμφυλίου στασιασμοῦ.

Παῦσον τὰ σχίσματα τῶν Ἐκκλησιῶν, σβέσον τὰ φρυάγματα τῶν ἔθνων,
Καὶ πάντας ἡμᾶς πρόσδεξαι εἰς τὴν βασιλείαν
σου,

et mandantium nobis indignis,
ut memoriam illorum in orationibus
nostris haberemus.

Et omnis populi tui memento, Domine, Deus noster,
et super omnes effunde divitem tuam misericordiam,
omnibus præbens ad salutem requisita.

Et quorum nos non meminimus,
per ignorantiam, aut oblivionem, aut nominum
multitudinem,
Ipse memento Deus, qui nosti Uniuscujusque ætatem et appellationem,
qui nosti unumquemque ex utero matris ejus.

Tu enim es, Domine, opitulator inopum,
et spes desperantium,
Fluctuantium servator,
Navigantium portus,
Ægrotantium medicus,
Ipse omnibus omnia fias.

Qui nosti { hominem et desiderium ejus, / domum et necessitatem ejus, } Libera, Domine, istam civitatem, et omnem regionem in qua inhabitamus,
a peste, fame, terræ motu, diluvio,
igne, gladio, invasione hostili,
et civili bello.

Compesce schismata Ecclesiarum,
Exstingue fremitus Gentium,
Et nos omnes recipe in Regnum tuum,

and them that have charged us, unworthy as we are,
to make mention of them in our prayers.

And remember all thy people, O Lord our God,
and pour out upon all thy rich mercy,
affording unto all the petitions that are unto salvation.

And those whom we have not remembered,
through ignorance, or forgetfulness, or the multitude of names,
do thou thyself remember, O God, who knowest
the age and the name of every one,
who knowest each one from his mother's womb.

For thou, O Lord, art the help of the helpless,
and the hope of the hopeless,
the saviour of the tempest-tossed,
the haven of them that sail,
the physician of the sick;
be thou thyself all things unto all.

Thou that knowest each man and his petition,
his house and his need,
Deliver, O Lord, this city, and all the country wherein we sojourn,
from plague, famine, earthquake, flood,
fire, sword, the invasion of aliens,
and civil strife.

Make the schisms of the Churches to cease,
quench the ragings of the nations,
And receive us all into thy kingdom,

Υἱοὺς φωτὸς ἀναδείξας·
Καὶ τὴν σὴν εἰρήνην καὶ ἀγάπην
Χάρισαι ἡμῖν, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς ἡμῶν.

Μνήσθητι, Κύριε, ὁ Θεός, πάντων πνευμάτων, καὶ πάσης σαρκός,
ὧν ἐμνήσθημεν, καὶ ὧν οὐκ ἐμνήσθημεν.

Ἡμῶν δὲ τὰ τέλη τῆς ζωῆς Χριστιανὰ, εὐάρεστα (κᾶν σοι δοκῇ)
ἀνώδυνα,
ἐν εἰρήνῃ κατεύθυνον, Κύριε, Κύριε, Ἐπισυνάγων ἡμᾶς ὑπὸ τοὺς πόδας τῶν
ἐκλεκτῶν σου,
ὅτε θέλεις, καὶ ὡς θέλεις, μόνον χωρὶς αἰσχύνης,
καὶ ἁμαρτημάτων.

Ἔστω ἡ λαμπρότης τοῦ Κυρίου τοῦ Θεοῦ
ἡμῶν
ἐφ' ἡμᾶς,
Καὶ τὰ ἔργα τῶν χειρῶν ἡμῶν κατεύθυνον
ἐφ' ἡμᾶς,
καὶ τὸ ἔργον τῶν χειρῶν ἡμῶν κατεύθυνον.

ΕΥΛΟΓΗΤΟΣ εἶ, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς Ἰσραὴλ, ὁ Πατὴρ ἡμῶν,
 ἀπὸ τοῦ αἰῶνος καὶ ἕως τοῦ αἰῶνος.
 Σοὶ, Κύριε,
 ἡ μεγαλωσύνη,
 καὶ ἡ δύναμις,
 καὶ τὸ καύχημα,
 καὶ ἡ νίκη,
 καὶ ἡ ἐξομολόγησις,
 καὶ ἡ ἰσχὺς,
 ὅτι σὺ πάντων ἐν τῷ οὐρανῷ,
 καὶ ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς δεσπόζεις.
 Ἀπὸ προσώπου σου ταρασσεται πᾶς βασιλεὺς,
 καὶ πᾶν ἔθνος.
 Σοὶ, Κύριε, ἡ βασιλεία,
 καὶ ἡ ἑпарσις εἰς πάντα,
 καὶ εἰς πᾶσαν ἀρχήν.
 Παρὰ σοῦ ὁ πλοῦτος, καὶ ἡ δόξα ἐκ
 προσώπου σου.
 Σὺ πάντων ἄρχεις, Κύριε,
 ὁ ἄρχων πάσης ἀρχῆς,
 καὶ ἐν χειρὶ σου ἰσχὺς, καὶ δυναστεία,
 καὶ ἐν χειρὶ σου μεγαλύναι, καὶ κατισχύσαι τὰ πάντα.
 Καὶ νῦν, Κύριε, ἐξομολογούμεθά σοι
 καὶ αἰνοῦμεν τὸ ὄνομα τῆς καυχίσεώς σου.

BENEDICTUS es, Domine, Deus Israel, Pater noster,
 ab æterno in æternum, [1 Chron. xxix. 10.
 Tua est, Domine, Magnificentia,
 et Potentia,
 et Gloria,
 atque Victoria,

 et potestas,] Cuncta enim quæ in cœlo sunt,
 et in terra tua sunt. [Vers. 11.]
 A vultu tuo conturbatur omnis Rex,
 Et gens omnis. [Is. lxiv. 2.]
 Tuum, Domine, Regnum,
 et tu es celsus super omnia,
 et super omne dominium.
 Abs te divitiæ, et a facie tua gloria:
 Tu dominaris omnium, Dominator omnis Dominationis,
 in manu tua virtus et potentia,
 Et in manu tua magnitudo,
 et imperium omnium.
 Nunc igitur, Deus noster, confitemur tibi,
 et laudamus nomen tuum inclytum, [1 Chron.
 xxix. 12, 13.]

BLESSED art thou, O Lord, the God of Israel,
 our Father,
from everlasting to everlasting.
 Thine, O Lord,
 is the greatness,
 and the power,
 and the glory,
 and the victory,
 and the praise,
 and the might,
for thou art over all in heaven,
 and rulest upon the earth.
At thy presence every king is troubled,
 and every nation.
 Thine, O Lord, is the kingdom,
 and the exaltation above all,
 and above all rule.
Of thee cometh riches, and glory cometh from thy presence.
 Thou reignest over all, O Lord,
 the ruler of all rule,
and in thine hand is power and might,
 and in thine hand it is to make great,
 and to give strength unto all.
And now, O Lord, we give thee thanks,
 and praise thy glorious name.

ΤΗΣ ΠΕΜΠΤΗΣ ΗΜΕΡΑΣ.

καὶ εὐλογήσας αὐτὰ,

ἐπὶ πᾶσαν τὴν γῆν ἡ δόξα σου.
Δι' ἀναβάσεως σῆς,
καὶ ἡμᾶς ἔλκυσον, Κύριε, πρὸς σέ,
ὥστε τὰ ἄνω φρονεῖν,
καὶ μὴ τὰ ἐπὶ γῆς.
Διὰ τοῦ ἑξαισίου Μυστηρίου
τοῦ ἁγίου σώματος, καὶ τιμίου αἵματος,
ἐν ἑσπέρᾳ τῆσδε τῆς ἡμέρας,
Κύριε, ἐλέησον.

Per ingens Mysterium

in hujus diei vespera institutum, Domine, miserere.

Qui dixisti,
Vivo ego, dicit Dominus Deus,

OF THE FIFTH DAY.

O SATISFY us early with thy mercy,
O Lord.

Blessed art thou, O Lord,
who broughtest forth out of the waters
the moving creatures that have life,
and the whales,
and the winged fowl,
and blessedst them,
that they should increase and multiply.

THE THINGS OF THE ASCENSION.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens;
let thy glory be above all the earth.
By thine Ascension,
draw us also, O Lord, unto thee,
that we may mind the things that are above,
and not the things upon the earth.
Through the wondrous Mystery
of thy holy body, and precious blood,
instituted on the evening of this same day,
Lord, have mercy.

Thou who saidst,
As I live, saith Adonai the Lord,

οὐ βούλομαι τὸν θάνατον ἁμαρτωλοῦ,
ὥς τὸ ἀποστρέψαι τὸν ἀσεβῆ ἀπὸ τῆς ὁδοῦ
αὐτοῦ,

καὶ ζῆν αὐτόν.

Ἀποστrophῇ ἀποστρέψατε ἀπὸ τῆς ὁδοῦ
ὑμῶν πονηράς.

Καὶ ἵνα τί ἀποθνήσκετε οἶκος Ἰσραὴλ;
Ἐπίστρεψον ἡμᾶς, Κύριε, πρὸς σέ, καὶ ἐπιστραφησόμεθα.

Ἀπόστρεψον ἡμᾶς ἀπὸ πασῶν τῶν ἀσεβειῶν
ἡμῶν,

καὶ μὴ γένωνται ἡμῖν εἰς κόλασιν.

Ἡμαρτον, ἡδίκησα, ἡσέβησα,
ἀπὸ τῶν ἐντολῶν, καὶ τῶν κριμάτων σου.

Σοὶ, Κύριε, δικαιοσύνη,

καὶ ἐμοὶ ἡ αἰσχύνη τοῦ προσώπου,
ὥς ἡ ἡμέρα αὕτη.

ἐν ἀθεσίᾳ ἡμῶν, ἣ ἠθέτησας ἡμᾶς.

Κύριε, ἡμῖν ἡ αἰσχύνη τοῦ προσώπου,
καὶ τοῖς ἄρχουσιν ἡμῶν,

οἵτινες ἡμάρτομέν σοι·

Κύριε, ἐν πᾶσιν ἡ δικαιοσύνη σου,

εἰς πᾶσαν δικαιοσύνην σὴν,

ἀποστραφήτω δὴ ὁ θυμὸς καὶ ἡ ὀργή σου,
καὶ ἐπίφανον τὸ πρόσωπόν σου

ἐπὶ τὸν δοῦλόν σου.

Κλίνον, ὁ Θεός μου, τὸ οὖς σου, καὶ ἄκουσον, ἄνοιξον τοὺς ὀφθαλμούς σου, καὶ ἴδε
τὸν ἀφανισμόν μου.

Κύριε εἰσάκουσον, Κύριε ἰλάσθητι, Κύριε
πρόσχες,

πρόσχες, Κύριε, καὶ ποιήσον, ποιήσον καὶ
μὴ χρονίσῃς,

ἐνεκέν σου, Κύριε, Κύριε ὁ Θεός μου,

Nolo mortem peccatoris,

Quantum ut revertatur impius a via sua
et vivat.

Convertimini, convertimini a viis

vestris pessimis,

et quare moriemini, Domus Israel? [Ezech.
xxxiii. 11.]

Converte nos, Domine, ad te,

et convertemur. Lam. v. 21.

Converte nos ab omnibus iniquitatibus nostris,
et ne sint nobis in ruinam. Ezech. xviii. 30.

Peccavi, iniquitatem feci, impie egi et recessi,
et declinavi a mandatis tuis ac judiciis. Dan.

ix. 5

Tibi, Domine, justitia,

Mihi autem confusio faciei,

sicut est hodie,

in contemptione nostri, qua nos contempsisti.
[Vers. 7.]

Domine, nobis confusio faciei,

et principibus nostris,

qui peccavimus tibi. [Vers. 8.]

Domine in omnibus justitia tua,

in omnem justitiam tuam,

Avertatur, obsecro, ira tua, et furor tuus, [Vers.
16.]

et ostende faciem tuam

super servum tuum. [Vers. 17.]

Inclina, Deus meus, aurem tuam, et audi,

aperi oculos tuos, et vide

desolationem meam. [Vers. 18.]

Exaudi, Domine, placare, Domine, attende, Domine,

attende, Domine, et fac, fac, et ne moreris,

propter temetipsum Domine, Domine

Deus meus,

I desire not the death of a sinner,
but rather that the wicked turn from his way,
and live.
Turn ye, turn ye from your evil way.
For why will ye die, O house of Israel?
Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord,
and we shall be turned.
Turn us away from all our ungodlinesses,
that they be not unto us for punishment.
I have sinned, I have done iniquity, I have done wickedly,
departing from thy commandments, and thy judgments.
Unto thee, O Lord, belongeth righteousness,
but unto me confusion of face,
as at this day,
in our unfaithfulness, wherein thou hast rejected us.
O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face,
and to our princes,
for we have sinned against thee.
O Lord, in all is thy righteousness,
according to all thy righteousness,
let thine anger and thy fury be turned away, I pray thee,
and cause thy face to shine
upon thy servant.
Incline thine ear, O my God, and hear;
open thine eyes, and behold
my desolation.
O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken;
hearken, O Lord, and do; do, and defer not,
for thine own sake, O Lord, O Lord my God,

ὅτι τὸ ὄνομά σου ἐπικέκληται
ἐπὶ τὸν δούλόν σου.
Πολλὰ πααίμεν ἅπαντες·
Κύριε, κατακαυχάσθω τὸ ἔλεός σου τῆς
κρίσεώς σου,
ἐν ταῖς ἁμαρτίαις ἑμοῦ.
'Εὰν εἶπω, ἁμαρτίαν οὐκ ἔχω, πλανῶ ἑμαυτὸν,
καὶ ἡ ἀλήθεια οὐκ ἔστιν ἐν ἑμοί.
'Αλλ' ὁμολογῶ τὰς ἁμαρτίας μου πολλὰς καὶ
δεινὰς,
καὶ σὺ, Κύριε, ὁμολογοῦντι πιστὸς εἶ καὶ
δίκαιος,
ἵνα ἀφῇς μοι τὰς ἁμαρτίας μου.
'Αλλὰ καὶ περὶ τούτου Παράκλητον ἔχω παρὰ σοὶ πρὸς σέ,
τὸν υἱόν σου τὸν μονογενῆ, τὸν δίκαιον.
αὐτὸς ἰλασμός ἐστω περὶ τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν
ἑμῶν,
ὅς ἐστι καὶ περὶ τοῦ ὅλου τοῦ κόσμου.
Μὴ εἰς τοὺς αἰῶνας ἀπόσεται Κύριος,
καὶ οὐ προσθήσει τοῦ εὐδοκῆσαι ἔτι;
'Ἡ εἰς τέλος τὸ ἔλεος αὐτοῦ ἀποκόψει;
συνετέλεσέ ρῆμα ἀπὸ γενεᾶς εἰς γενεάν;
Μὴ ἐπιλήσεται τοῦ οἰκτερῆσαι ὁ Θεός;
ἢ συνέξει ἐν τῇ ὀργῇ αὐτοῦ
τοὺς οἰκτιρμούς αὐτοῦ;
Καὶ εἶπα, νῦν ἡρξάμην.
αὕτη ἡ ἀλλοιώσις τῆς δεξιᾶς τοῦ ὑψίστου.
'Ογκον πάντα,
καὶ εὐπερίστατον ἁμαρτίαν,
Πᾶσαν ρυπαρίαν,
καὶ περισσεῖαν κακίας,
'Επιθυμίαν { σαρκὸς, / ὀφθαλμῶν, }

quia nomen tuum invocatum est
super servum tuum. [Vers. 19.]
In multis offendimus omnes; Jac. iii. 2.
Domine, superexultet misericordia tua
judicium tuum in offensis nostris. [Jac.
ii. 13.]
Si dixerō, quia peccatum non habeo, ipse me seduco,
et veritas in me non est. 1 Jo. i. 8.
Sed confiteor peccata mea multa et gravia,
et tu fidelis es et justus, Domine,
ut confitenti mihi remittas peccata mea.
[Vers. 9.]
Ad quod etiam
Advocatum ad te apud te habeo, 1 Jo. ii. 1.
Filium tuum unigenitum, Justum:
Sit Ipse propitiatio pro peccatis meis,
qui est pro totius etiam mundi. [Vers. 2.] Nunquid in æternum projiciet Dominus, aut non apponet, ut complacitior sit adhuc?
Aut in finem misericordiam suam abscondet?
Consummavit verbum a generatione in genera-
tionem?
Aut obliviscetur misereri Deus?
aut continebit in ira sua misericordias suas? Ps. lxxvii. 7, [8, 9.]
Et dixi, Nunc cœpi.
Hæc mutatio dexteræ Excelsi. [Vers. 10.]
Omne pondus,
et circumstans me peccatum, } Heb. xii. 1.
Omnem immunditiam
et superfluitatem nequitiae, } Jac. i. 21.
Concupiscentiam { carnis, / oculorum, }

because thy name is called
upon thy servant.
In many things we offend all;
O Lord, let thy mercy glory over thy judgment,
in my sins.
If I say I have no sin, I deceive myself,
and the truth is not in me.
But I confess my sins, many and grievous, and thou, O Lord, to him that confesseth art faithful and just,
to forgive me my sins.
And yet even for this
I have an Advocate with thee, unto thee,
thy Son, the only-begotten, the righteous.
let him be the propitiation for my sins,
who is also for the whole world.
Will the Lord cast off for ever,
and will he be favourable no more?
Is his mercy clean gone for ever?
doth his promise fail from generation to generation?
Hath God forgotten to be gracious?
or hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies?
And I said, Now have I begun:
this is the change of the right hand of the Most High.
Every weight,
and the sin which doth so easily beset us,
All filthiness,
and superfluity of naughtiness,
the lust { of the flesh, / of the eyes, }

 that diligently seek him.

I know that my Redeemer liveth,
 that this is the Christ, the Son of the living God,
 that this is indeed the Saviour of the world,
 that he came into the world to save sinners,
 of whom I am chief.

Through the grace of JESUS CHRIST we believe that we shall be saved, even as also our fathers.

IN pace Dominum rogemus,

Pro pace superna, et

Pro pace universi mundi,

et omnium unione;

Pro temperie cæli, fertilitate frugum terræ,

I know that my skin shall be raised up upon the earth,
which endureth these things.

I believe that I shall see the goodness of the Lord
in the land of the living.

In the Lord shall our heart rejoice,
and in his holy name have we trusted.

Let thy mercy be upon us, O Lord,
according as we have hoped in thee.

IN peace let us pray unto the Lord.

For the peace that is from above,
and for the salvation of our souls;

For the peace of the whole world,
for the good estate of the holy churches of God,
and for the union of all;

For this holy house,
and for them that enter therein with faith and reverence;

and all the Clergy and People;

For this holy dwelling, and for every city and country, and for them that in faith
dwell therein;

For temperate airs, for plenteousness of the fruits of the earth,

Ὡ Κύριέ μου, Κύριε,

et temporibus pacificis;
 Pro navigantibus, itinerantibus, ægrotis,
 laborantibus et captivis,
 et eorum salute.
 Adjuva, serva, miserere et custodi nos
 tua gratia, Deus.
 Sanctissimæ, intemeratæ, super cæteros bene-
 dictæ,
 Deiparæ, et semper Virginis Mariæ,
 cum omnibus Sanctis, memoria habita, Nos ipsos, et vicissim alios, et omnem vitam
 nostram,
 Christo Deo commendemus:
 Tibi Domine,
 Quia tibi convenit gloria, honor, et adoratio.
 Gratia Domini nostri, Jesu Christi,

 Amen. 2 Cor. xiii. 14.
 Commendo et me, et meos, et mea omnia, Ei

 conspectum gloriæ suæ immaculatum, soli Deo sapienti,
 et Salvatori nostro,

 Amen.

O Domine, mi Domine,

and for peaceable seasons;
For them that sail, that travel, that are sick,
that labour, and the captives,
and for their salvation.
Help, save, have mercy, and keep us,
O God, by thy grace.
Making mention of the all-holy, undefiled, more than blessed,
Mother of God, and ever-virgin Mary,
with all the saints,
Let us commend ourselves, and one another, and all our life,
unto Christ our God;
To thee, O Lord,
for unto thee belong glory, honour, and worship.
The grace of our Lord JESUS CHRIST,
and the love of God,
And the communion of the Holy Ghost,
be with me, and with us all.
Amen.

I commend myself, and mine, and all that is mine,
unto him that is able to keep me from falling,
and to present me faultless before the presence of his glory,
to the only wise God, and our Saviour,
to whom be glory and majesty,
dominion and power,
both now, and unto all ages.
Amen.

and I will confess, I and I will bless, I and I will give thee thanks,

Quam gratiam possum Deo rependere
Pro omnibus in quibus { pepercit mihi / toleravit

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus,

Dignus es, Domine, Deus noster Sanctus,

What thanksgiving can I render unto God,
for all wherein he { hath spared me / hath waited for me } until now?

Holy, Holy, Holy;

Worthy art thou, O Lord, and our God the holy one,
to receive the glory, and the honour, and

OF THE SIXTH DAY.

IN the morning shall my prayer
come before thee.

Blessed art thou, O Lord,
who broughtest forth out of the earth the beasts, and the cattle,
and every creeping thing,
for { food, / covering, / help; }
and madest man
after thine image,
to have dominion over the earth,
and blessedst him.

Εὐλογητὸς εἶ, Κύριε,
διὰ τὴν μεγάλην σου καὶ τιμίαν ἐπαγγελίαν (ἐν ἡμέρᾳ ταύτῃ)
περὶ τοῦ ζωοποιοῦ σπέρματος·
καὶ διὰ τὸ ἐν πληρώματι τῶν καιρῶν
πληρῶσαι αὐτήν,
ἐν ἡμέρᾳ ταύτῃ.
Εὐλογητὸς εἶ, Κύριε,
διὰ τὰ ἅγια πάθη

Ὡς διὰ τῶν σωτηρίων σου παθημάτων,
ἐν ἡμέρᾳ τῆδε,
σῶσον ἡμᾶς, Κύριε.

Ἀντέστην σοι, Κύριε, ἀλλὰ ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ σέ·
ἡσθένησα ἐν ταῖς ἀδικίαις μου,
ἀλλὰ λαμβάνω μετ' ἐμοῦ λόγους,
καὶ ἐπιστρέφω πρὸς σέ, λέγων,
Ἄφες ἁμαρτίαν, καὶ λαβὲ προσευχὴν,
καὶ ἀνταποδώσω σοι καρπὸν χειλέων μου.
Φεῖσαι, Κύριε, φεῖσαι,
καὶ μὴ δῶς τὴν κληρονομίαν σου

Κύριε, Κύριε, ἵλεως γενοῦ, κόπασον δὲ·

Benedictus es, Domine,

hujus diei.

O per salutes passiones tuas,
hac in die susceptas,
Salva nos Domine.

Restiti tibi, Domine, sed convertor ad te,
Infirmatus sum in peccatis meis. Hos. xiii. 16.
Sed tollo mecum verba,

Omnem aufer iniquitatem, et accipe orationem,
et reddam vitulos labiorum meorum. Hos. xiv.

Blessed art thou, O Lord,
for thy great and precious promise (on this day)
 concerning the life-giving seed;
and for that, in the fulness of times,
 thou didst fulfil it,
 on this day.
Blessed art thou, O Lord,
for the holy sufferings
 of this day.
O by thy saving sufferings,
 on this day,
 save us, O Lord.

I have withstood thee, O Lord, but I turn again unto thee;
 I have grown weak in mine iniquities,
 but I take with me words,
 and turn to thee, saying,
Take away all iniquity, and receive my prayer,
 so will I render thee the fruit of my lips.
 Spare, O Lord, spare,
 and give not thine heritage
 to reproach, to thine enemies.
O Lord, O Lord, be merciful, cease, I pray;
 who shall raise up Jacob?
 for he is small.
Repent, O Lord, concerning this,

καὶ τοῦτο οὐ μὴ γένηται.
 Φυλασσόμενος τὰ μάταια καὶ ψευδῇ,
 τὸν ἔλεον ἐμοῦ ἐγκατέλιπον
 καὶ ἀπώσθη ἐξ ὀφθαλμῶν σου.
 Ἐν δὲ τῷ ἐκλείπειν ἐν ἐμοὶ τὴν ψυχὴν μου,
 τοῦ Κυρίου ἐμνήσθη.
 προσθήσω ἐπὶ ἐπιβλέψαι πρὸς ναὸν ἁγίόν
 σου,
 ἀναβήτω ἐκ φθορᾶς ἡ ζωὴ μου.
 Τίς Θεὸς ὥσπερ σὺ, ὑπερβαίνων ἀδικίας
 τοῖς καταλοιποῖς τῆς κληρονομίας σου;
 οὐκ αἶ κρατήσεις εἰς μαρτύριον τὴν ὀργὴν
 σου,
 ὅτι θελητὴς ἐλέους εἶ σύ· Ἐπίστρεψον, καὶ οἴκτειρον ἡμᾶς, Κύριε·
 κατὰδυσσον τὰς ἀνομίας ἡμῶν.
 Καὶ ἀπόρριψον εἰς τὰ βάθη τῆς θαλάττης
 πάσας τὰς ἁμαρτίας ἡμῶν
 κατὰ τὴν ἀλήθειαν, καὶ κατὰ τὸ ἔλεός
 σου.
 Κύριε, εἰσακήκοα τὴν ἀκοήν σου,
 καὶ ἐφοβήθην·
 Κατενόησα τὰ ἔργα σου,
 καὶ ἐξέστην.
 Ἐν τῇ ὀργῇ μνήσθητι τοῦ ἐλέους.
 Ἰδοὺ με, Κύριε, ἐνδεδυμένον ἱμάτια ῥυπαρά,
 ἰδοὺ τὸν διάβολον ἐστηκότα μοι ἐκ δεξιῶν·
 καὶ, ὦ Κύριε, ἐν αἵματι διαθήκης σου,
 ἐν πηγῇ διανοιγομένη
 εἰς ραντισμὸν πάσῃ τῇ ἀκαθαρσίᾳ,
 ἀφαίρει ἀπ' ἐμοῦ τὰς ἀνομίας,
 καὶ τὰς ἁμαρτίας μου περικαθάρισον·

 li. 2.]

and this shall not be.
They that observe lying vanities
forsake their own mercy.
and I am cast out of thy sight.
And when my soul fainted within me,
I remembered the Lord.
I will look yet again toward thy holy temple.
let my life come up from corruption.
Who is a God like unto thee, that passeth by iniquity
for the remnant of thine heritage?
thou wilt not keep thine anger for ever for a testimony,
for thou delightest in mercy.
Turn again, and have compassion on us, O Lord;
subdue our iniquities.
And cast into the depths of the sea
all our sins
according to thy truth, and according to thy mercy,
thy mercy.
O Lord, I have heard thy speech,
and was afraid;
I considered thy works,
and was astonished.
In wrath remember mercy.
Behold me, O Lord, clothed with filthy garments,
behold the devil standing at my right hand;
and, O Lord, by the blood of thy covenant,
by the fountain opened
for sprinkling, for all uncleanness,
take away from me mine iniquities,
and purge away my sins;

Πάτερ, ἄφες μοι· οὐ γὰρ οἶδα,
ἀληθῶς οὐκ οἶδα τί ἐποίησα,
ἐν τῷ ἁμαρτῆσαί με σοι·

Μνήσθητί μου, Κύριε,
ἐν τῇ βασιλείᾳ σου.

Κύριε, μὴ στήσης τοῖς ἐχθροῖς μου
τὰς ἁμαρτίας αὐτῶν.

Κύριε, μὴ στήσης μοι
τὰς ἁμαρτίας μου.

 illum. Gen. ii. 2, 3.

Quæ ad Sabbatum spectant,
 De requie pariter nostra succedanea;
 De emortalibus Christi,
 et cessatione a peccatis;
 De iis qui prius requieverint.

Deus meus, confundor, et erubesco
 levare faciem meam ad te,
 Quoniam iniquitates meæ multiplicatæ sunt
 super caput meum,
 et delicta mea creverunt
 usque ad cælum.
 A diebus juventutis
 sum in delicto magno,
 usque ad diem hanc,

OF THE SEVENTH DAY.

LORD, have mercy upon us,
for in thee have we trusted.
Be thou our arm in the morning,
and our salvation in the time of trouble.
Blessed art thou, O Lord,
who didst rest on the seventh day
from all thy works,
and didst bless,
and didst hallow
it.

The things that concern the Sabbath,
concerning the rest that is our recompense;
concerning the dying of Christ,
and the ceasing from sins;
concerning them that have fallen asleep before us.

I am ashamed and confounded, O my God,
to lift up my face unto thee;
for mine iniquities are increased
over my head,
and my trespasses are grown up unto the heavens.
From the days of my youth
am I in great trespass,
unto this day,

Καὶ οὐκ ἔστι στήναι ἐνώπιόν σου,
ἐπὶ τούτου.

Ἦμαρτον ὑπὲρ ἀριθμὸν ψάμμου θαλάσσης,
ἐπλήθυναν αἱ ἀνομίαι μου,
καὶ οὐκ ἄξιός εἰμι ἀτενίσαι, καὶ
ἰδεῖν τὸ ὕψος τοῦ οὐρανοῦ,
ἀπὸ τοῦ πλήθους τῶν ἀδικιῶν μου,
καὶ οὐκ ἔστι μοι ἄνεσις,
διότι παρώργισα τὸν θυμόν σου,
καὶ τὸ πονηρὸν ἐνώπιόν σου
ἐποίησα,
μὴ ποιήσας τὸ θέλημα,
μὴ φυλάξας τὰ προστάγματά σου.
καὶ νῦν κλίνω γόνυ καρδίας,
δεόμενος τῆς παρὰ σοῦ χρηστότητος.
Ἠμάρτηκα, Κύριε, ἡμάρτηκα,
καὶ τὰς ἀνομίας μου ἐγὼ γινώσκω,
ἀλλ' αἰτοῦμαι δεόμενος,
ἄνες μοι, Κύριε, ἄνες μοι.
Καὶ μὴ συναπολέσης με ταῖς ἀνομίαις μου, μηδὲ εἰς αἰῶνα μηνίσας
τηρήσης τὰ κακά μοι·
μηδὲ καταδικάσης με,
ἐν τοῖς κατωτάτοις τῆς γῆς.
Διότι σὺ εἶ Θεὸς, Θεὸς μετανοούντων,
καὶ ἐν ἐμοὶ δείξεις πᾶσαν τὴν ἀγαθωσύνην
σου,
ὅτι ἀνάξιον ὄντα με σώσεις
κατὰ τὸ πολὺ ἐλεός σου,
καὶ αἰνέσω σε διαπαντός.

Nec stari potest coram te super hoc. Ezr. ix. 6, 7. 15.

Peccavi super numerum arenæ maris,
multiplicate sunt iniquitates meæ,
et non sum dignus intueri, et
aspicere altitudinem cæli,
præ multitudine iniquitatum mearum,
et non est respiratio mihi,
quia excitavi iracundiam tuam,
et malum coram te feci,
non facta voluntate tua,
mandatis tuis non custoditis,
Et nunc flecto genu cordis mei,
precans a te bonitatem. [Orat. Manassis.] Peccavi, Domine, peccavi,
Et iniquitates meas agnosco,
Quare peto rogans,
Remitte mihi, Domine, remitte mihi.
[Ibid.]
Et ne simul perdas me cum iniquitatibus meis,
neque in æternum iratus
reserves mala mihi,
neque damnes me
in infima terræ loca.
Quia tu es Deus, Deus prænitentium,
et in me ostendes omnem bonitatem tuam,
quia indignum salvabis me
secundum magnam misericordiam tuam,
et laudabo te semper. [Ibid.]

and there is no standing before thee, because of this.

I have sinned above the number of the sand of the sea,
my transgressions are multiplied,
and I am not worthy to look up, and to behold the height of heaven,
for the multitude of mine iniquities,
and I have no relief,

because I have provoked thy wrath,
and done that which is evil before thee,
not doing thy will,
not keeping thy commandments.

And now I bow the knee of my heart,
beseeching of thee thy goodness.

I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned,
and I acknowledge mine iniquities,
but I ask, beseeching thee,
forgive me, O Lord, forgive me.

And destroy me not with mine iniquities,
neither, being angry for ever,
reserve thou evil for me;
neither condemn me
into the lower parts of the earth.

For thou art God, the God of them that repent,
and in me thou wilt show forth all thy goodness,
for thou wilt save me, unworthy as I am,
according to thy great mercy,
and I will praise thee for ever.

I BELIEVE in thee the Father,
Behold now, if thou be a Father, and we sons,
like as a father pitieth his sons,
be thou tenderly compassionate toward us, O Lord.
I believe in thee the Lord,
Behold now, if thou be Lord, and we servants,
our eyes are unto thee our Lord,
until thou have mercy upon us.
I believe that though we be neither sons, nor servants,
but dogs only,
yet it is lawful for us to eat of the crumbs which fall from thy table.
I believe that Christ is the Lamb of God,
O Lamb of God that takest away the sins of the world,
take away mine also.
I believe that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners;
thou who camest to save sinners,
save me also, of sinners
the first and the greatest.
I believe that Christ came to save that which was lost;
thou who camest to save that which was lost,
suffer not, O Lord, that to perish which thou hast saved.
I believe that the Spirit is the Lord and giver of life;
who gavest me a living soul,
grant that I take not in vain
my soul.
I believe that the Spirit, in his holy things,
imparteth grace,
grant me not to receive that grace

ἀπὸ τῶν ὀφθαλμῶν αὐτῶν,
καὶ ὁ θάνατος οὐκ ἔσται ἔτι,
οὔτε κραυγὴ,
οὔτε πόνος οὐκ ἔσται ἔτι,
ὅτι τὰ πρῶτα ἀπῆλθον.

Laudem dicite Deo nostro omnes servi ejus,
et qui timetis eum,
pusilli et magni, Apoc. xix. 5.

Alleluja.
Quoniam regnavit Dominus,
Deus noster omnipotens, Gaudeamus, et exsulemus,
et demus gloriam ei. [Vers.] 6, 7.

Ecce tabernaculum Dei
cum hominibus,
et habitabit cum eis.
Et ipsi populus Ejus erunt: et Ipse Deus cum eis erit,
et absterget omnem lacrymam
ab oculis eorum.
Et mors ultra non erit,
neque clamor,
neque dolor erit ultra,
quia prima abierunt. Apoc. xxi. 3, 4.

Praise our God, all ye his servants,
and ye that fear him,
both small and great,
Alleluia.

For the Lord God reigneth,
our God omnipotent,
let us be glad and rejoice,
and give the glory
unto him.

Behold, the tabernacle of God
is with men,
and he will dwell with them,
And they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them.
And he shall wipe away every tear
from their eyes,
and there shall be no more death,
neither crying,
neither shall there be any more pain,
for the former things are passed away.

HOSANNA IN THE HIGHEST.

REMEMBER me, O Lord,
with the favour of thy people,
O visit me with thy salvation,
that I may see the good of thy chosen,
that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation,
that I may give thanks unto thee with thine inheritance.
For there is a glory that shall be revealed.
For when the Judge cometh,
some shall see his face gladsome,
they shall be set on the right hand,
they shall hear the sweetest voice,
Come, ye blessed.
They shall be caught up in the clouds to meet the Lord,
they shall enter into the joy,
they shall have the fruition of the sight of him,
they shall ever be with him.
They alone, they only, are blessed
among the sons of men.
O grant me, the last, a last place there,
beneath their feet;
beneath the feet of thy chosen,
the least among them.
And that this may be,

[?]ν χάριν ἐνώπιόν σου,
 ὥστε ἔχειν με χάριν, [?] λατρεύσαι σοι εὐαρέστως,
 μετὰ αἰδοῦς καὶ εὐλαβείας.
 [?] δὲ καὶ τὴν χάριν δευτέραν, [?] χάριν ἐκείνην,
 μὴ εἰς κενὸν δέξασθαί με,
 μὴ ὑστερῆσαι ἀπ' αὐτῆς.
 [?] μὴ ἀμελῆσαι αὐτῆς,
 [?] ἐκπίπτειν αὐτῆς.
 Ἀλλὰ ἀναζωπυρεῖν αὐτήν, [?] αὐξάνειν ἐπ' αὐτῇ.

 [?] καταρτισόν μοι τὰ ὑστερήματα
 τῶν χαρισμάτων σου, [?]. προσθες τῇ ὀλιγοπιστίᾳ.
 [?]. στήριξον ἐλπίδα περίτρομον.
 [?]. ἅπτε λίνον αὐτῆς τυφόμενον.
 [?] ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ μου

 [?] με [?] φίλον ἔν σοι,

 [?]δοὺς χάριν τοῖς ταπεινόφροσι,

[?]+ grace in thy sight,
 that I may have grace,
 [?] to serve thee acceptably,

 that I fail not of it.
 [?] not to neglect it,

 ὥστε τὸ αὐτὸ φρονεῖν ἐν ἀλλήλοις, Ὅρθοτομεῖν, Ἄρθοποδεῖν,

 ὁμοθυμαδὸν ἐν ἐνὶ στόματι δοξάζειν τὸν Θεόν.
 Εἰ δέ τι ἑτέρως,

my fear, my hope,
 that I may fear one thing only,
 to fear aught more than thee.
As I would that men should do unto me,
 so also do I to them likewise.
Not to think more highly than I ought to think,
 but to think soberly.

Shine upon them that sit in darkness,
 and in the shadow of death.
Guide our feet
 into the way of peace;
 that we may be of the same mind one toward another,
 Rightly dividing, | walking uprightly,
 building up,
 with one accord, with one mouth, glorifying God.
And if in anything otherwise,
 to walk by the same rule
 whereunto we have already attained,
 to keep order,
 comeliness,
 and stedfastness.

HOSANNA ON EARTH.

REMEMBER, O Lord, to crown
the year with thy goodness.
For the eyes of all wait upon thee,
thou givest them their meat in due season.
Thou openest thine hand, and
fillest every living thing with good pleasure.
And upon us also, O Lord, bestow
the blessings of heaven and of the dew from above,
the blessings of the springs and of the deep beneath,
the courses of the Sun, the conjunctions of the Moons,
the tops of the mountains of the sunrising, of the everlasting hills,
the fulness of the earth and of its increase,
a fruitful season, a good temper of the airs,
plenty of corn, and abundance of fruits,
health of bodies, and peaceful times,
good rule, | good counsel,
good laws, | good justice,
good obedience,
good redress, | good store,
good increase, | good birth,
good children,
good nurture, | good instruction.

Ὡστε

οἱ υἱοὶ ἡμῶν
ὥς νεόφυτα ἰδρυμένα
ἐν νεότητι·

Αἱ θυγατέρες
καλαί, ὥς ὁμοίωμα ναοῦ· Τὰ ταμεία ἡμῶν
ἐξερευγόμενα ἐξ αὐτοῦ εἰς αὐτὸ,
τὰ πρόβατα πολυτόκα,
οἱ βόες παχεῖς,

μηδὲν κατάπτωμα φραγμοῦ,
μηδεμία διέξοδος,
μηδεμία κραυγή.

Μίαν ἡγησάμην παρὰ Κυρίου, ταύτην
ζητήσω,
τὸ κατοικεῖν με ἐν τῷ οἴκῳ τοῦ Κυρίου
πάσας τὰς ἡμέρας τῆς ζωῆς μου·
τὸ θεωρεῖν με τὴν τερπνότητα Κυρίου, καὶ ἐπισκέπτεσθαι τὸν ναὸν ἅγιον
αὐτοῦ.

Δύο αἰτοῦμαι παρὰ σοῦ, Κύριε,
μὴ ἀφέλῃς μου χάριν πρὸ τοῦ ἀποθανεῖν με, Μάταιον λόγον καὶ ψευδῇ μακράν μου
ποιήσον.

Πλοῦτον καὶ πενίαν μὴ μοι δῶς,
σύνταξον δέ μοι τὰ δέοντα καὶ τὰ αὐτάρκη.
Ἵνα μὴ πλησθῆις ὑπερήφανος γένωμαι,
καὶ εἴπω, Τίς ὁ Κύριος;
Ἵνα μὴ πένης γενηθεῖς κλέψω,
καὶ ἐπομόσω τὸ ὄνομα τοῦ Θεοῦ μου.
Μυηθῶ καὶ περισσεῦσαι,
μυηθῶ καὶ ὑστερεῖσθαι,

Ut

Filii nostri
sint sicut novellæ plantationes
in juventute sua;

Filiæ nostræ
compositæ, ut similitudo templi; Promptuaria nostra,
eructantia ex hoc in illud,
Oves nostræ fœtosæ,
Boves nostræ crassæ,

Ne sit ruina maceriæ,
neque transitus,
neque clamor. Psal. cxliv. 12, 13, 14.

Unam petii a Domino, hanc requiram, ut inhabitem in domo Domini omnibus diebus vitæ meæ:
Ut videam voluptatem Domini,
et visitem templum ejus
sanctum. Psal. xxvii. 4.

Duo rogavi te, Domine,
Ne deneges mihi antequam moriar,
Vanitatem et verba mendacia longe fac a me.
Mendicitatem, et divitias, ne dederis mihi.
Tribue tantum victui meo necessaria,
ne forte satiatu, superbus fiam,
et dicam, Quis est Dominus?
aut egestate compulsus furer,
et perjurem nomen Dei mei. Prov. xxx. 7, 8, 9.

Discam et abundare,
discam et humiliari,

So that our sons
 may be as plants set fast
 in their youth;
 our daughters
 fair, as the similitude of a temple;
 our garners
 overflowing from this to that,
 our sheep bringing forth thousands,
 our oxen fat,
no breaking-down of the hedge,
 no going-out,
 no complaining.
One thing have I asked of the Lord, that will I seek after:
 that I may dwell in the house of the Lord
 all the days of my life;
 to behold the delightsomeness of the Lord,
 and to visit his holy temple.
Two things have I required of thee, O Lord,
 deny me them not before I die:
Remove far from me vanity and lies.
 Give me neither riches nor poverty,
but appoint me that which is needful and sufficient.
 Lest I be full, and become proud,
 and say, Who is the Lord?
 lest I be poor, and steal,
 and forswear the name of my God.
Let me be instructed both to abound,
 let me be instructed also to suffer need,

καὶ ἐν οἷς εἰμι, αὐτάρκης εἶναι· παρεκτὸς δὲ ὧν ἔχω, Μηδὲν ἐπίγειον, πρόσκαιρον, φθαρτὸν,
 μήτε ἐπιθυμῆσαι,
 μήτε προσδοκῆσαί ποτε.
 Εὐζωΐαν ἐν
 εὐσεβείᾳ, σεμνότητι, ἀγνεΐᾳ,
 πάσῃ καλοκάγαθῇ,
 εὐθυμίᾳ, ὑγιείᾳ, εὐφημίᾳ,
 αὐταρκεΐᾳ, ἀσφαλείᾳ, ἐλευθερίᾳ,
 ἡσυχίᾳ,
 Εὐθανασίαν, Ἀθανασίαν.

et, in quibus sim, sufficiens esse; Phil. iv. 11, 12.

Extra quæ habeam vero,
 Nihil terrenum, temporarium, caducum,
 neque concupiscere,
 neque unquam flagitare.
 Vitam facilem in Pietate, gravitate, puritate,
 omni probitate,
 Cum mente composita, sano corpore, bona
 fama,
 Animo æquo, incolumi conditione, libera,
 Ætate tranquilla,
 Mortem lenem, Immortalitatem.

and in whatsoever state I am, to be content;
and beyond what I have,
nothing earthly, temporal, corruptible
either to desire,
or ever to look for.

A good life in godliness, gravity, purity,
all nobleness of good,
cheerfulness, health, good report,
sufficiency, security, freedom,
quietness,
A good death,
Immortality.

[Ἡ ΔΕΙΛΙΝΗ ΑΚΟΛΟΥΘΙΑ.]

ΤΗΝ ἡμέραν διαβάς
 εὐχαριστῶ σοι, Κύριε.
 Ἐγγίζει ἡ ἑσπέρα,
 παιδρὰν αὐτὴν χορήγει.
 Ἑσπέρα ὥσπερ τῆς ἡμέρας,
 οὕτω καὶ τῆς ζωῆς ἐστὶ,
 Ἑσπέρα τῆς ζωῆς τὸ γῆρας,
 ἐφθασέ με γῆρας,
 παιδρὸν αὐτὸ χορήγει.
 Μὴ με απορρίψῃς εἰς καιρὸν γήρωσ,
 ἐν τῷ ἐκλείπειν τὴν ἰσχύν μου,
 μὴ ἐγκαταλίπῃς με.
 Ἔως γήρωσ ἴσθι σὺ,
 ἔως ἂν καταγηράσω ἀνέχου μου· Αὐτὸς ποιήσον, καὶ αὐτὸς ἄνεις,
 καὶ αὐτὸς ἀνάληψαι, καὶ
 σῶσόν με, Κύριε.
 Μείνον μετ' ἐμοῦ, Κύριε,
 ἤδη γὰρ πρὸς ἑσπέραν μοι ἐστὶ,
 καὶ κέκλικεν ἡ ἡμέρα
 τῇσδε τῆς πολυμόχθου ζωῆς.
 Τελειωθήτω ἡ δύναμίς σου
 ἐν τῇ ἀσθενείᾳ μου.
 ὦχετ' ἀπιοῦσα ἡ ἡμέρα,
 οἴχεται καὶ ὁ βίος,
 ὁ βίος ἄβιος.

[OFFICIUM VESPERTINUM.]

DIE transacta,
 Ago tibi gratias, Domine.
 Appropinquat vespera,
 Lætam illam concede.
 Sicut diei vespera,
 sic est et vitæ.
 Vitæ vespera, senectus,
 occupavit me senectus,
 Lætam illam concede.
 Ne projicias me in tempore senectutis,
 cum defecerit virtus mea,
 ne me derelinquas. Psal. lxxi. 9.
 Usque ad senectam esto tu ipse,
 et usque ad canos porta me;
 Tu facias, et tu feras,
 Tu portabis, et
 salvabis me, Domine. [Is. xlvi. 4.] Mane mecum, Domine,
 quoniam advesperascit, Luc. xxiv. 29.
 Et inclinata est jam dies
 laboriosæ hujus vitæ. Jerem. vi. 4.
 Perficiatur virtus tua
 in infirmitate mea. 2 Cor. xii. 9.
 Abiit decedens dies,
 abit et vita,
 Vita minime vitalis.

[THE EVENING OFFICE.]

NOW that I have passed through the day,

I give thee thanks, O Lord.

The evening draweth nigh,
grant it bright.

As is the evening of the day,

so also is the evening of life;

The evening of life is old age,

old age hath overtaken me,
grant it bright.

Cast me not off in the time of old age;

when my strength faileth,
forsake me not.

Be thou the same even unto old age,

until I grow grey, bear thou with me;

Do thou it thyself, and thyself bear me,

and thyself take me up, and save me, O Lord.

Abide with me, O Lord,

for it is now toward evening with me,

and the day is far spent

of this toilsome life.

Let thy power be made perfect

in my weakness.

The day is gone and passed away,

and life too passeth,

life that is no life.

Ἔρχεται νύξ,
 ἔρχεται καὶ θάνατος,
 ὁ θάνατος ἀθάνατος.
 Ἐγγὺς ὡς τέλος ἡμέρας,
 οὕτω καὶ τέλος τῆς ζωῆς.
 Μемνημένοι οὖν καὶ ἡμεῖς αὐτοῦ,
 δεόμεθά σου,
 ὥστε ἡμῶν τὰ τέλη τῆς ζωῆς Χριστιανὰ, καὶ εὐάρεστα,
 ἀναμάρτητα, ἀνεπαίσχυντα, (κἂν σοι δοκῇ) ἀνώδυνα,
 ἐν εἰρήνῃ κατευθῆναι, Κύριε, Κύριε,
 ἐπισυνάγων ἡμᾶς
 ὑπὸ τοὺς πόδας τῶν ἐκλεκτῶν σου
 ὅτε θέλεις, καὶ ὡς θέλεις, μόνον χωρὶς αἰσχύνης, καὶ
 ἀμαρτημάτων.
 Μνησθῆναι τῶν ἡμερῶν τοῦ σκότους, ὅτι
 πολλά,
 εἰς τὸ μὴ ἐκβληθῆναι εἰς σκότος ἐξώτερον.
 Μνησθῆναι καὶ φθάσαι τὴν νύκτα,
 ἐργαζομένους ἀγαθόν τι.
 Ἐγγὺς κρίσις,
 Καλὴν καὶ εὐπρόσδεκτον ἀπολογίαν,
 ἐπὶ τοῦ φοβεροῦ καὶ φρικτοῦ βήματος Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ,
 χάρισαι ἡμῖν, ὦ Κύριε.
 Ἐν ταῖς νυξὶν ἐπαείρω τὰς χεῖρας
 εἰς τὰ ἅγια, καὶ εὐλογῶ τὸν Κύριον.
 Τῆς ἡμέρας ἐνετείλατο Κύριος τὸ ἔλεος αὐτοῦ,

Venit nox,
 venit et mors,
 Mors immortalis.
 Prope, ut finis diei,
 sic et finis vitae.
 Memores igitur ipsius et nos
 Te rogamus,
 Ut nobis exitus vitae
 Christianos, et tibi acceptos,
 Peccati, pudoris, et, si
 tibi videbitur, doloris expertes.
 In pace dirigas, Domine, Domine,
 nos colligens
 sub pedes electorum tuorum,
 ubi voles, et quomodo voles,
 duntaxat absque pudore,
 et peccato.
 Meminisse dies tenebrarum quia multi, Eccl. xi.

 Meminisse et antevertere noctem,
 aliquid boni operando. [Joan. ix. 4.]
 Instat Judicium,
 Bonam et acceptam defensionem,
 ad tremendum et terribile Jesu Christi tribunal, Concede nobis, Domine.
 In noctibus attollo manus,
 in sancta, et benedico Domino. [Psal. cxxxiv.

 In die mandavit Dominus misericordiam ejus,

Night cometh,
 death too cometh,
 death, the undying.
Nigh, as the end of the day,
 so also the end of life.
Being mindful, then, we also thereof,
 we beseech thee,
that the endings of our life
 be Christian, and well-pleasing,
 without sin, without shame,
 (if it seem good to thee) without pain,
thou wouldest order in peace, O Lord, O Lord, gathering us together
 beneath the feet of thy chosen,
 when thou wilt, and as thou wilt,
 only without shame, and without sins.

To be mindful of the days of darkness, that they are many,
 that we be not cast out into outer darkness.
To be mindful, and to forestall the night,
 working some good thing.

Judgement is at hand:
A good and acceptable defence,
 at the dread and fearful judgement-seat of JESUS CHRIST,
 grant thou us, O Lord.

In the night seasons I lift up my hands
 unto the sanctuary, and bless the Lord.
In the day-time the Lord hath commanded his mercy,

καὶ νυκτὸς ἤδη ἄρα ὥδῃ αὐτοῦ παρ' ἐμοὶ,
καὶ προσευχῇ τῷ Θεῷ τῆς ζωῆς μου.
Οὕτως εὐλογησὼ σε ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ ζωῇ μου,
ἐν τῷ ὀνόματί σου ἁρῶ τὰς χεῖράς μου.
Κατευθυνθήτω ἡ προσευχή μου,
ὡς θυμίαμα ἐνώπιόν σου·
ἡ ἑπαρσις τῶν χειρῶν μου,
ὡς ἡ θυσία ἑσπερινή.

Εὐλογητὸς εἶ, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς ἡμῶν,
ὁ Θεὸς τῶν πατέρων ἡμῶν,
ὁ κτίσας ἀμοιβὰς ἡμερῶν τε καὶ νυκτῶν,
ὁ χορηγῶν ἡμῖν ἀφορμὰς ὕμνων
νυκτερινῶν.
ὁ ῥύσας ἡμᾶς ἀπὸ τῆς κακίας τῆς ἡμέρας
ταύτης.
ὁ μὴ ὡς ἰσθὸν ἐρίθου ἐκτεμῶν τὴν ζωὴν μου,
μηδὲ ἀπὸ πρωῒ ἕως ἑσπέρας καταλύσας με.

ΟΜΟΛΟΓΗΣΙΣ ΔΕΙΛΙΝΗ.

ΚΥΡΙΕ,
ὡς ἡμέρας ἐπὶ ταῖς ἡμέραις ἡμῶν,
οὕτω καὶ ἁμαρτίαις προστίθεμεν.
Ἐπτάκις ἡμέρας πεσεῖται ὁ δίκαιος,
Ἐγὼ δ' ὑπὲρ λίαν ἁμαρτωλὸς
ἑβδομηκοντάκις ἑπτὰ,
Καὶ ἔκστασιν καὶ φρικτὰ, ὦ Κύριε.
Ἀλλὰ ἀποστρέφω
ἀπὸ τῶν ὁδῶν μου πονηρῶν στενάξας,
καὶ ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ τὴν καρδίαν μου,
καὶ ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ καρδίᾳ ἐπιστρέφω ἐπὶ σέ.

ideo nocte apud me Canticum ejus,
et oratio ad Deum vitæ meæ. Psal. xlii. 10.
Sic benedicam tibi in vita mea,
et in nomine tuo levabo manus meas. Psal.
lxiii. 5.

Dirigatur oratio mea,
sicut incensum in conspectu tuo,

Benedictus es, Domine, Deus noster,

neque de mane vespertam usque abstulisti me.

and now in the night his song is with me,
and a prayer unto the God of my life.
So will I bless thee in all my life,
in thy name will I lift up my hands.
Let my prayer be set forth
as incense before thee;
the lifting up of my hands,
as the evening sacrifice.

Blessed art thou, O Lord our God,
the God of our fathers,
who hast made the interchange of day and night,
who givest us occasions of songs in the night,
who hast delivered us from the evil of this day,
who hast not cut off my life as a weaver his web,
nor made an end of me from morning even unto evening.

CONFESSION AT EVENING.

O LORD,
as day upon our days,
so also do we add sin upon sin.
Seven times a day shall the righteous fall,
but I, a sinner above measure,
seventy times seven,
yea, a thing of astonishment and horror, O Lord.
But I turn away
from my evil ways with groaning,
and I turn again unto mine own heart,
and with my whole heart I turn again unto thee.

O God of them that repent, and Saviour of them that sin,
even from evening to evening will I turn again,
from the inmost marrow of my soul,
and out of the deep my soul crieth unto thee,
I have sinned against thee, O Lord, I have sinned grievously against thee, ah, ah! alas, alas! O the misery!
I repent, woe is me, I repent: spare me, O Lord,
I repent, woe is me, I repent,
help thou mine impenitence.

Be thou merciful. | Spare me, O Lord.
Be thou merciful. | Have mercy upon me.
I said, Have mercy upon me, O Lord,
heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.
Have mercy upon me, O Lord, after thy great mercy,
and according to the multitude of thy compassions
blot out mine offence.

Forgive the guilt,
heal the wound,
blot out the stains,
deliver me from the turning-aside,
rescue me from the tyranny,
and make me not a public example.
Bring me out of my distresses, O Lord,
cleanse me from my secret faults,
from other men's sins spare thy servant;
the wanderings of the mind,
and idle talk,
lay not to my charge.
Take away the murky flood, and the Deal not with us after our iniquities,

Look mercifully upon our infirmities,
and for the glory of thy most holy name,
Turn away from us all evils, and all grievous things,
which by our sins, and to us because of them,
are most justly and worthily our due.

PRAYER AT EVENING.

TO me also, O Lord, being weary, grant rest,
to me that labour renew my strength.
Lighten mine eyes,
that I sleep not in death.
Deliver me from the terror by night,
from the thing that walketh through in darkness;
grant me wholesome sleep, and
to pass this night through without fear.

O Keeper of Israel,
who neither hast slept nor slumbered at any time,
keep me this night from all evil,
keep my soul, O Lord.
Visiting me with the visitation of thine own,
reveal to me my mind in visions of the night.

 Καὶ τὸ ἄτονον τῆς ἀθλίας μου σαρκὸς,
 ὃ πλάσας με.
 Σκεπασάτω με ἡ πτέρυξ
 τοῦ ἐλέους σου.
 Διέγειρόν με ἐν καιρῷ εὐθέτῳ,
 ἐν καιρῷ τῆς προσευχῆς,
 Καὶ δὸς ὀρθρίζειν ἐπὶ σέ,
 καὶ ἐπὶ τὴν δοξολογίαν,
 καὶ θεραπείαν σὴν.

Sin minus, (non enim dignus, non sum dignus)
 Saltem, benigne Domine,
 Sit somnus meus, ut laboris

 Peccati somno,
 Omnemque terrenum, et pravum sensum

 Concede mihi somnum facilem,

 in tempore orationis, Psal. xxxii. 7.
 Et da ad te de luce vigilare, Psal. lxiii. 1.
 ad te glorificandum,
 et colendum.

But if not — (for I am not worthy, I am not worthy) — yet at the least, O Master, lover of men,
let my sleep be unto me a respite,
as from labour, so also from sinning,
Yea, O Lord.
And when I sleep, let me imagine nothing
that angereth thee,
nor that defileth me.
Let not my loins be filled with illusions,
but rather let my reins chasten me,
yet without dread terror.
Keep me safe from the gloomy sleep
of sin,
and every earthly and evil thought
lay thou to rest within me.
Grant me a light sleep,
and from all imagining,
fleshly and Satanic,
clean delivered.
How sleepless mine unseen enemies are,
thou knowest well, O Lord,
and the feebleness of my wretched flesh,
thou that didst fashion me.
Let the wing of thy mercy
cover me.
Rouse me up at the fitting time,
at the time of prayer,
And grant me to rise early unto thee,
to give thee glory,
and to do thee service.

[(1.) Before Communion.]

O LORD,

I am not worthy, neither sufficient,
That thou shouldest come in under the unclean roof of the house of my soul,

For it is all desolate and fallen down,
and thou hast with me no place worthy whereon to lay thy head.

But as thou vouchsafedst
to be laid in a cave and in a manger of the unreasoning beasts;

As thou disdainedst not to be received also in the house of Simon the Leper;

As thou disdainedst not
her that was as I, the harlot, the sinful woman,
drawing near to thee and touching thee;

as thou didst not abhor
that foul and accursed mouth of hers, neither the thief upon the cross
that confessed thee;

So vouchsafe unto me also,
the abandoned, the wretched,
the sinner above measure,

To be received unto the touching and partaking
of the immaculate, dread, life-giving,

καὶ σωτηρίων μυστηρίων
 τοῦ παναγίου σώματος,
 καὶ τοῦ τιμίου αἵματός σου.
 Πρόσχε, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς ἡμῶν,
 ἐξ ἁγίου κατοικητηρίου,

Memores igitur et nos, Domine,
 in præsentia Sacramenti Tui,
 Salutarium Christi Tui Passionum, Vivificæ Crucis, Pretiosissimæ Mortis,
 Triduanæ Sepulturæ, Resurrectionis a Mortuis,
 Ascensionis in cælum,
 Sessionis a dextra Dei Patris,
 Gloriosi et formidabilis Adventus,
 Rogamus Te, Domine,
 ut in puro testimonio Conscientiæ nostræ
 accipientes partem
 Sacramentorum tuorum,
 Adunemur Sancto Corpori et Sanguini
 Christi Tui:
 Et illa digne recipientes,
 Habeamus Christum
 Cordibus nostris inhabitantem, [Eph.
 iii. 17.]
 et fiamus Templum
 Sancti Tui Spiritus; [1 Cor. vi.
 19.]
 Etiam, O Deus noster!
 Neque quenquam nostrum reum facias
 horum tremendorum et Cælestium Sacramentorum,
 neque infirmum anima vel corpore,
 propter indignam horum
 receptionem. [1 Cor. xi. 27. 30.]

Remembering therefore, O Master, we also,
in the presence of thy holy Mysteries,
the saving sufferings of thy Christ,
the life-giving Cross,
the most precious Death,
the three-days' Burial,
the Resurrection from the dead,
the Ascension into the heavens,
the Sitting at thy right hand, O Father,
his glorious and fearful
coming again,
We beseech thee, O Lord,
that in the pure witness of our conscience
receiving the portion
of thy hallowed gifts,
we may be made one with the holy Body and Blood
of thy Christ;
and receiving them not unworthily,
may have Christ dwelling
in our hearts,
and may become a temple of thy Holy Spirit;
Yea, O our God.
And make thou none of us guilty
of these thy dread and heavenly Mysteries,
neither weak in soul or body,
through partaking of them
unworthily.

Ἀλλὰ δὸς ἡμῖν
 μέχρι τῆς τελευταίας καὶ ἐσχάτης
 ἡμῶν ἀναπνοῆς,
 ἀξίως ὑποδέχεσθαι ἐλπίδα
 τῶν ἁγιασμάτων σου, Εἰς
 ἁγιασμόν, φωτισμόν, ῥῶσιν, κουφισμόν τοῦ βάρους τῶν πολλῶν μου
 ἁμαρτημάτων,
 Φυλακτήριον πάσης διαβολικῆς
 ἐνεργείας,
 Ἀποτροπὴν καὶ ἐμπόδιον τῆς φαύλης
 μου συνειδήσεως,
 Ἀπονέκρωσιν τῶν παθῶν,
 Περιποίησιν τῶν ἐντολῶν,
 Προσθήκην θείας σου χάριτος,
 καὶ τῆς σῆς Βασιλείας οἰκείωσιν.

[(2.) Μετὰ τὴν μετάληψιν.]

ΗΝΥΣΤΑΙ καὶ τετέλεσται, ὅσον εἰς τὴν ἡμετέραν δύναμιν, Χριστέ, ὁ Θεὸς ἡμῶν,
 τὸ τῆς Οἰκονομίας σου μυστήριον.
 Εἵχομεν γὰρ τοῦ θανάτου σου μνήμην,
 εἶδομεν τῆς ἀναστάσεως σῆς τὸν τύπον,
 ἐνεπλήσθημεν τῆς ἀτελευτήτου σῆς ζωῆς,
 ἀπελαύσαμεν τῆς ἀκενώτου σῆς τρυφῆς,
 ἥς καὶ ἐν τῷ μέλλοντι αἰῶνι
 πάντας ἡμᾶς καταξιωθῆναι
 εὐδόκησον.

Sed da nobis
 usque ad finalem et extremum
 spiritum,
 digne spem suscipere
 sanctitatum tuarum,
 Ad
 Sanctificationem, Illuminationem, Corroborationem, Levationem oneris multorum meorum
 peccatorum,
 Averruncationem omnis Diabolicæ
 obsessionis,
 Depulsionem et aversionem malæ meæ
 conversationis,
 Mortificationem passionum,
 Custodiam præceptorum,
 Augmentum divinæ Tuæ gratiæ,
 et Regni Tui acquisitionem.

[(2.) POST SUSCEPTIONEM.]

ABSOLUTUM et consummatum est,
 quicquid in nostra potestate est, Christe, Deus noster,
 quoad Dispensationis Tuæ mysterium.
 Habuimus enim memoriam Mortis Tuæ,
 Vidimus typum Resurrectionis Tuæ,
 Impleti sumus vita Tua æterna, Fruitionem habuimus deliciarum Tuarum,
 quarum nulla est satiety,
 Qua et in futuro sæculo
 Nos omnes dignari complaceat tibi,
 Domine Deus.

But give us,
even unto our last and
latest breath,
worthily to receive the hope
of thy hallowed gifts,
Unto
sanctification, illumination, strength,
the lightening of the burden of my many
sins,
A safeguard against all working of the devil,
A warding-off and a hindrance of my evil
conscience,
A mortifying of the passions,
A keeping of the commandments,
An increase of thy divine grace,
and the making-mine-own of thy Kingdom.

[(2.) After Communion.]

IT is accomplished and finished,
so far as lieth in our power,
O Christ our God,
the mystery of thy Dispensation.
For we have kept the memorial of thy death,
we have seen the figure of thy resurrection,
we have been filled with thine unending life,
we have had the fruition of thine inexhaustible delight,
whereof, in the age to come also,
be pleased to count us all worthy.

MEDITATION I.

OF THE DAY OF JUDGEMENT.

O FATHER without beginning, O only-begotten Son,

 O quickening Spirit,

pitiful, merciful, longsuffering,

 of great mercy, of many tender compassions,

who lovest the righteous, and hast mercy on sinners,

who passest over sins, and grantest petitions,

 God of them that repent,

 Saviour of them that sin;

I have sinned before thee, O Lord,

 and thus and thus have I done.

 Ah, ah! alas, alas!

How was I enticed by mine own lust?

 How did I hate instruction?

And I neither revered, nor stood in awe of,

 the incomprehensibleness of thy glory,

 the awfulness of thy presence,

 the terribleness of thy power,

 the exactness of thy justice,

 the loveliness of thy goodness.

I will call, if there be any that will answer me;

 to which of the holy angels shall I look?

 O wretched man that I am!

Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

ὥς φοβερὰ ἡ κρίσις σου, Κύριε;
 τιθεμένων τῶν θρόνων,
 τῶν Ἀγγέλων παρισταμένων,
 τῶν ἀνθρώπων εἰσαγομένων,
 τῶν βιβλῶν ἀνεωγμένων,
 τῶν ἔργων ἐρευνημένων,
 τῶν λογισμῶν
 τῶν κρυπτῶν τοῦ σκούτου } ἐξεταζομένων.
 ποία κρίσις ἔσται ἐν ἐμοί;
 τίς μου τὴν φλόγα κατασβέσει;
 τίς μου τὸ σκότος καταλάμψει;
 εἰ μὴ σὺ ἐλεήσης με.
 Κύριε, ὡς φιλάνθρωπος, Δάκρυα δός μοι,
 δὸς μυρία, δὸς σήμερον.
 Τότε γὰρ δικαστὴς ἀδέκαστος,

 ἡ ἀπολογία ἀπροφάσιτος,
 οἱ ἐλεγχοὶ ἄφευκτοι,
 ἡ τιμωρία ἀπότομος,
 ἡ γέεννα ἀτελεύτητος,
 οἱ Ἀγγελοὶ ἀνελεήμονες,
 ὁ ἄδης πλατύνων τὸ στόμα,
 ὁ ποταμὸς πυρὸς συρόμενος,
 πυρὸς ἀσβέστου,
 τὸ δεσμωτήριον σκοτεινόν,
 τὸ σκότος ἀφεγγές,
 ἀνθρακῶδεις αἱ κλῖναι,
 ὁ σκώληξ ἀκοίμητος,
 τὰ δεσμὰ ἅλута,

Quam tremendum est iudicium tuum, Domine!
 Positis Thronis,
 Adstantibus Angelis,
 Introductis hominibus,
 Apertis libris,
 Investigatis operibus,
 Indagatis cogitationibus,
 Manifestatis tenebrarum occultis.
 Quale iudicium erit in me?
 Quis flammam meam restinguet?
 Quis tenebras meas illustrabit?
 Nisi Tu mei fueris misertus.
 Domine, sicut es hominum amans,
 Lacrymas da mihi,
 Da plurimas, da praesentes.
 Tunc enim Iudex incorruptus,
 Tribunal horrendum,
 Defensio sine excusatione,
 Argumenta inevitabilia,
 Supplicium asperum,
 Gehenna sempiterna,
 Angeli immites,
 Infernum dilatans os,
 Flumen ignis stridens,
 Ignis qui non exstinguitur,
 Carcer tenebrosus,
 Tenebrae prorsus exsortes luminis,
 Reclinatoria e prunis,
 Vermiculus irrequietus,
 Vincula indissolubilia,

how fearful is thy judgement, O Lord!
when the thrones are set,
the Angels stand by,
men are brought in,
the books are opened,
the works are searched out,
the thoughts,
the hidden things of darkness, } are examined.
what judgement shall there be upon me?
who shall quench my flame?
who shall lighten my darkness?
if thou have not mercy upon me.

O Lord, as thou art the lover of men,
give me tears,
give ten thousand, give them this day.

For then the Judge is unbribable,
the judgement-seat terrible,
the defence without excuse,
the convictions inescapable,
the punishment severe,
the hell unending,
the Angels without pity,
Hades opening wide his mouth,
the river of fire streaming down,
of fire unquenchable,
the prison-house dark,
the darkness without a beam,
the beds of glowing coal,
the worm unsleeping,

Behold, O Lord, that I am indignant
with mine own self,

because of the

Because I abhor myself,

because of the { strangeness, unseemliness and deformity,

baseness } of the desire,
a thing of shame,
and of reproach:

Because all the day long my confusion is before me,
and the shame of my face hath covered me.

Ah, alas, alas!

Woe is me! how long?

Behold, O Lord, that I myself judge myself
worthy of eternal punishment,
yea, and of all the hardships of this world.

Ἴδου ἐμὲ, Κύριε, αὐτοκατάκριτον,

Παρελθέτω ἀπ' ἐμοῦ τὸ ποτήριον τοῦτο.
 διαπεταννύω πρὸς σέ τὰς χεῖράς μου,

I bow my knees unto thee, O Lord,
 I fall upon the earth,
 upon my face.

Let this cup pass from me.
 I stretch forth my hands unto thee,
 I smite upon my breast,
 upon my thigh.

Out of the deep my soul crieth unto thee,
 as a thirsty land unto thee,
 and all my bones,
 and all that is within me.

O Lord, hear my voice.

MEDITATION II.

OF THE SHORTNESS OF LIFE.

HAVE mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak;

Remember what my substance is,

remember that I am but flesh,

a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

My days are as grass, as a flower of the field,

for a wind hath gone over me, and I shall not be,

and I shall know my place no more.

For I am earth and ashes,

dust and grass,

flesh and breath,

corruption and the worm.

As a sojourner upon the earth,

dwelling in a house of clay,

of few days and evil,

to-day and not to-morrow,

in the morning, and no more until night,

in a body of sin,

in an age of corruption,

short-lived and full of wrath,

as a flower that flourished and fled away,

and as a shadow, that in no wise abideth.

Remember this, O Lord, and forbear, forgive;

for what profit is there in my destruction,

ἢ ἐν τῷ καταβαίνειν με εἰς διαφθοράν;
 Διὰ τὸ πλῆθος τῶν οἰκτιρμῶν σου,
 διὰ τὸν πλοῦτον καὶ ὑπερεκπερισσὸν
 πλεονασμὸν τῶν ἐλέων σου, Διοτιοῦν ἢ φιλεῖς σὺ, ἢ ἡμᾶς χρὴ μνησθῆναι,
 καὶ πρὸ καὶ ὑπὲρ πάντων, διὰ σαυτοῦ,
 διὰ σαυτοῦ, Κύριε, καὶ Χριστοῦ σου, Κύριε, ἰλάσθητί μοι τῷ ἁμαρτωλῶν πρώτῳ.
 ὦ Κύριε μου, κατακαυχάσθω
 τὸ ἔλεος τῆς κρίσεως ἐν τῇ ἁμαρτίᾳ
 μου.
 Εἰσάκουσον, Κύριε,
 ἰλάσθητι, Κύριε,
 πρόσχες, ὦ Κύριε,
 Κύριε, πρόσχες καὶ ποιήσον,
 ποιήσον καὶ μὴ χρονίσης ἕνεκά σου, Μὴ χρονίσης, Κύριε, ὁ Θεός μου.

dum descendo in corruptionem? Psal. xxx. 9.

or in my going down into corruption?
For the multitude of thy compassions,
 for the riches, and the exceeding overflowing abundance of thy mercies,
For whatsoever is dear to thee, or meet for us to remember,
 and before and above all, for thine own sake,
 for thine own sake, O Lord, and for thy Christ's,
O Lord, be merciful to me, the chief of sinners.
 O my Lord, let mercy
 rejoice against judgement in my sin.
Hear, O Lord;
 forgive, O Lord;
 hearken, O Lord;
O Lord, hearken and do;
 do, and defer not, for thine own sake;
 defer not, O Lord, my God.

PART II — PRECES
QUOTIDIANAE

DUO in me cognosco, Domine, Naturam, quam Tu fecisti,
Peccatum, quod ego adjeci;
Fateor quod per culpam deformavi naturam,
sed memento quod sum spiritus vadens,
non rediens; [Psal. lxxviii. 39.]
Per meipsum enim a peccato redire non possum.
Eja! tolle a me quod ego feci,
Remaneat in me quod Tu fecisti;
Ut ne pereat, quod pretioso Tuo sanguine redemisti.
Eja! ne perdat improbitas mea, quod redemit bonitas Tua.
Domine, Deus mi, si feci, ut essem reus Tuus,
Nunquid facere potui, ut non essem servus Tuus?
Si inde innocentiam mihi ademi,
Nunquid et inde misericordiam Tuam peremi?
Si commisi, unde me damnare posses,
Nunquid et Tu amisisti, unde salvare soles?
Verum est, Domine, conscientia mea meretur damnationem,
Sed misericordia Tua superat omnem offensionem.

TWO things I know in myself, O Lord,
The nature, which Thou madest,
The sin, which I have added thereto;
I confess that by my fault I have marred the nature,
but remember that I am a wind that passeth away,
and cometh not again; [Ps. 78:39]
For of myself I cannot come back from sin.
O come! take from me what I have done,
Let there abide in me what Thou hast done;
That it perish not, which Thou hast redeemed with Thy precious blood.
O come! let not my wickedness destroy what Thy goodness hath redeemed.
O Lord my God, if I have wrought that I should be guilty before Thee,
Could I ever have wrought that I should not be Thy servant?
If thereby I have taken innocence from myself,
Have I thereby also made an end of Thy mercy?
If I have committed that whereby Thou couldest condemn me,
Hast Thou also lost that whereby Thou art wont to save?
It is true, O Lord, my conscience deserveth damnation,
But Thy mercy surpasseth every offence.

Parce ergo,
Quia non est { difficile potentiae / indecens justitiae / insolitum clementiae } Tuæ, parcere delinquenti.
Qui me { creasti, / redemisti, } ne me { perimas, / condemnes. }
Qui me creasti Tua bonitate,
 Ne pereat opus Tuum mea iniquitate.
 Agnosce in me quod est Tuum,
 Et tolle a me quod est meum.
Respice ad me infelicem, Pietas immensa:
 ad me sceleratum,
 Misericordia publica.
Infirmus ad Omnipotentem venio,
 Vulneratus ad Medicum curro.
Serva mihi mansuetudinem miserationis,
 Qui tamdiu suspendisti gladium ultionis.
Dele numerositatem criminum meorum,
 Renova multitudinem miserationum Tuarum.
Quantumvis sum
 { immundus, / cæcus, / infirmus, / vel si mortuus, } Tu potes me { mundare, / illuminare, / sanare, / resuscitare. } Qualiscunque sum, sive bonus, sive malus, semper Tuus sum.
Si Tu me { ejicis, / despicias, } quis me { recipiet? / respiciet? }

Spare me therefore,
Because it is not { hard for Thy power / unseemly for Thy justice / strange to Thy clemency },
 to spare him that offendeth.
Thou who hast { made / redeemed } me, { destroy / condemn } me not.
Thou who hast made me by Thy goodness,
 Let not Thy work perish by mine iniquity.
 Own in me what is Thine,
 And take from me what is mine.
Look upon me, unhappy,
 O boundless Pity:
 upon me, wicked,
 O Mercy open to all.
Sick, I come to the Almighty,
 Wounded, I run to the Physician.
Keep for me the gentleness of Thy compassion,
 Thou who so long hast held back the sword of vengeance.
Blot out the multitude of my crimes,
 Renew the multitude of Thy compassions.
However much I am { unclean, / blind, / sick, / yea, though dead, } Thou canst { cleanse / enlighten / heal / raise } me.
Whatsoever I am, whether good or evil,
 I am ever Thine.
If Thou { cast me out / despise me }, who shall { receive / regard } me?

Plus potes { remittere, / parcere, } quam ego { committere, / peccare. }
Ne premat delectatio noxia,
Saltem ne opprimat consuetudo perversa.
A pravis et illicitis desideriis,
A vanis, noxiis, immundis cogitationibus,
Ab illusionibus malignorum spirituum,
A pollutionibus mentis et corporis.

Thou canst more { forgive / spare } than I can { commit / sin }.

Let not hurtful delight oppress me,

At the least, let not perverse custom overwhelm me.

From depraved and unlawful desires,

From vain, hurtful, unclean thoughts,

From the illusions of malignant spirits,

From the pollutions of mind and body.

QUI exaudis orationem,
ad Te omnis caro veniet, Psal. lxxv. 2.
Vespere, mane, et meridie,
narrabo et annuntiabo,
et Tu exaudies vocem meam. Psal. lv. 17.
Ad Te, Domine, orabo mane:
exaudies vocem meam mane. Psal. v. 3.
Dirigatur oratio mea,
sicut incensum in conspectu Tuo. Psal. cxli. 2.
In matutinis, Domine, meditabor in Te,
quia fuisti adjutor meus. Psal. lxxiii. 7, 8.
Gratias Tibi ago, Domine, omnipotens, æterne Deus, qui me in hac nocte, non meis meritis, sed Tua sancta misericordia, custodire dignatus es. Concede mihi, Do-mine, diem istum in Tuo sancto servitio ita peragere, ut Tibi placeat obsequium servitutis meæ.
Levo cor cum manibus ad Dominum in cœlis. [Thren. iii. 41.]
Ecce, sicut oculi servorum ad manus dominorum,
et sicut oculi ancillæ ad manus dominæ,
Ita oculi nostri ad Dominum Deum nostrum, donec
misereatur nostri. Psal. cxxiii. 2.
Respice in me, et miserere mei,
secundum judicium diligentium nomen Tuum. [Psal. cxix. 132.]

I give Thee thanks, O Lord, almighty, everlasting God, who hast this night, not by my own merits, but of Thy holy mercy, vouchsafed to keep me. Grant me, O Lord, so to pass this day in Thy holy service, that the obedience of my servitude may be pleasing unto Thee.
I lift up my heart with my hands unto the Lord in the heavens. [Lam. 3:41]
Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress,
So our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until

Of whom I am chief: save me.
Thou that takest away the sins of the world, take away my sins, [John 1:29]
Thou that camest to redeem that which was lost, [Luke 19:10]
Suffer not him to perish whom Thou hast redeemed.
From the remembrance of evils,
that of those things which I have seen or heard from the wicked, in this world I may not remember,
nor ever tell to others;
that I may hate every wicked way.
I have deserved death,
yet still I appeal from the throne of Thy justice,
to the throne of Thy grace.

 From the spirit of fornication,
 From the appetite of vain-glory,
 From all uncleanness of mind and body, [2 Cor. 7:1]
 From wrath and ill-will,
 From infected thoughts,
 From blindness of heart.

Who saidst to Thy smiting Angel,
 It is enough; now stay Thine hand, [2 Sam. 24:16]
 In prayers and vows,
 In straits and perils,
 In infirmities and necessities,
 In temptations and tribulations,
 Drive off the lust of the belly, | Give { The virtue of abstinence,
 Put to flight the spirit of fornication, | The love of chastity,
 Quench the coveting of the world, | Poverty of spirit, }
 Curb headlong wrath, | Kindle in me meekness,
 Take away worldly sorrow, | Increase spiritual joy,
 Drive off boasting of mind, | Grant the pricking of the heart,
 Give { strength of faith, / security of hope, / the safeguard of salvation, }
 Give contempt of the world.

They shall enter into joy, [Matt. 25:21]

Grant me the power and the opportunity of well-doing, that before the day of my departure I may work at the least some good,
 whose fruit may abide, [John 15:16]
 That I may be able to appear in righteousness,
 and to be satisfied with glory. [Ps. 17:15]
 Who addedst unto Hezekiah fifteen years of life, [2 Kings 20:6] grant me but so much space of life,
 at the least in measure,
 while I may bewail my sins,

Et concede finem bonum,
Quod est super omne donum,
Bonum et sanctum vitæ finem,
Gloriosam et lætam resurrectionem.

De frugibus terræ et plenitudine ejus,
Benedic capturam nostram, Ps. cxxxii. 15.
Pone fines pacem,
Imple nos adipe frumenti, Ps. cxlvii. 14.
Satura pauperes panibus, Ps. cxxxii. 15.
Conforta seras portarum,
Benedic filiis nostris in nobis, Ps. cxlvii. 13.
Indue inimicos confusione, Ps. cxxxii. 18.
Aëris temperiem indulgeas,
Fruges terræ concedas,
Carnalia desideria repellas,
Infirmis sanitatem restituas,
Lapsis reparationem annuas, Navigantibus et itinerantibus,
iter prosperum et salutis portum,
Tribulatis gaudium,
Oppressis releuationem,
Captivis libertatem concedas,
Sanitatem mentis,
Integritatem corporis,
Robur fidei,
Securitatem spei,
Tutelam salutis.

And grant a good end,
 which is above every gift,
A good and holy end of life,
 A glorious and joyful resurrection.

For the fruits of the earth and the fulness thereof,
 Bless our store, [Ps. 132:15]
 Make peace in our borders,
 Fill us with the flour of wheat, [Ps. 147:14]
 Satisfy the poor with bread, [Ps. 132:15]
 Make fast the bars of our gates,
 Bless our children within us, [Ps. 147:13]
 Clothe our enemies with confusion, [Ps. 132:18]
Grant a temperate air,
Grant the fruits of the earth,
Drive off carnal desires,
Restore health to the sick,
Grant to the fallen restoration,
To them that sail and travel,
 a prosperous journey and the haven of safety,
To the afflicted, joy,
To the oppressed, relief,
To captives grant liberty,
Soundness of mind,
Wholeness of body,
Strength of faith,
Security of hope,
The safeguard of salvation.

Do the same grace unto us,
And, though late, as it were about the eleventh hour, [v. 9]

Quoniam secundum altitudinem cœli a terra, corroboravit misericordiam suam super timentes Eum.

iniquitates nostras.

Quomodo miseretur pater filiorum, misertus est Dominus

His mercy over them that fear Him.

our iniquities.

unto them that fear Him. [Ps. 103:8–12]

 nomen Tuum. Psal. lxxiv. 18.

Hodie et non cras, Prov. xxvii. 1.

Mane et non usque ad vesperam, Is. xxxviii. 13.

/ fail of Thy truth, [Ps. 89:49] / rebuke me in Thine anger, [Ps. 6:1] / chasten me in Thy hot displeasure, [Ps. 38:1] / cast me away from Thy presence, [Ps. 51:11] / (cast me not off from among Thy children,) [Wisd. 9:4] / take not Thy Spirit from me, [Ps. 51:11] / forget me not for ever, [Ps. 74:19] / be not wroth very sore, [Isa. 64:9] / { deliver, [Ps. 27:12] / dash, [Isa. 64:7] } me into the hand of iniquity, / be slow to return, [Hab. 2:3] / destroy not my soul with the wicked. [Ps. 26:9] }

If for a time, by Thy permission, we suffer the power of the enemy, let us in no wise be swallowed up by his insatiable jaws.

Let there be conquered
 the Lion by the weak Sheep,
 the violent spirit by the feeble flesh.

Let not the tempest of water drown me,

Neither let the deep swallow me up,

Introductis hominibus,

That I abhor mine own self, [Job 42:6]

 That all the day long my shame is before me, and the confusion of my face hath covered me. [Ps. 44:15]
 Ah, ah! Alas, alas! that I have not revered, neither dreaded [Heb. 12:21]
 The incomprehensibleness of thy glory,
 Thy dread power,
 The awfulness of thy presence,
 Thine exact justice,
 Thy lovely goodness.
 How was I enticed by mine own lust? [Jas. 1:14]
 How have I detested discipline?
 And my heart hath not yielded to reproofs? [Prov. 5:12]
 Behold, O Lord,
 That fear and trembling are come upon me,
 And the terror of death is fallen upon me. [Ps. 55:5]
 What fear, and trembling, and shuddering,
 and agony, and the last extremity, have I to see?
 What confusion shall seize me?
 With what darkness shall I be compassed?
 How dreadful is thy judgement, O Lord?
 When the thrones are set,
 The angels standing by,
 Men brought in,

Apertis libris,
Investigatis operibus,
Indagatis cogitationibus,
Manifestatis tenebrarum occultis.

Quale iudicium erit in me?

Judex incorruptus, | Tribunal horrendum,
Defensio sine excusatione, | Argumenta inevitabilia,
Supplicium asperum, | Gehenna sempiterna,
Angeli immites, | Infernum dilatans os,
Flumen ignis stridens, | Ignis qui non exstinguitur,
Carcer tenebrosus, | Tenebræ prorsus exsortes luminis,
Reclinatoria e prunis, | Vermiculus irrequietus,
Vincula indissolubilia, | Chaos immensurabile,
Murus quem transgredi non | Clamor inconsolabilis,

Nullus qui { assistat / patrocinetur / liberet }.

Etiam et omnium difficultatum hujus mundi.

{ Meritus sum mortem a Te, / Sed adhuc appello ad Te, } Domine, { a Te justo. / ad Te misericordem,
}

a solio justitiæ ad thronum gratiæ.

Admitte, Domine, provocationem hanc;

Ni admiseris, perimus.

Et, O Domine, non ad Te pertinet, si perimus? [Mar. iv. 38.]

The books opened,
 Works searched out,
 Thoughts sifted,
 The secrets of darkness made manifest.
 What judgement shall there be upon me?
 An incorruptible Judge, | A dreadful tribunal,
 A defence without excuse, | Arguments not to be escaped,
 A bitter punishment, | An everlasting Gehenna,
 Pitiless angels, | Hell widening her mouth,
 A hissing river of fire, | A fire that is not quenched,
 A dark dungeon, | Darkness wholly void of light,
 A couch of live coals, | The restless worm,
 Bonds that cannot be loosed, | Chaos immeasurable,
 A wall we cannot | An inconsolable clamour,
 pass over,
 None to { stand by / plead for / deliver } me.
 Behold, O Lord,
 I judge mine own self worthy, liable, guilty
 of eternal punishment,
 Yea, and of all the hardships of this world.
 { I have deserved death from thee, / Yet still I appeal unto thee, } O Lord, { from thee the just. / to thee the merciful, }
 from the throne of justice to the throne of grace.
 Admit, O Lord, this appeal;
 If thou admit it not, we perish.
 And, O Lord, doth it not concern thee, if we perish? [Mark 4:38]

ut auferatur ira Tua

ab hac urbe,

ab hac domo,

quia peccavimus Tibi;

Ut locum hunc una cum universa regione,
confortes justitia per misericordiam

mitigando.

Da redamare mei amantes,

etsi mihi ignotos,

Et perduc eos in Regnum Tuum coeleste,

Et da mihi ostendere illis misericordiam Dei,
in precibus meis.

O God of truth also, and Prince of peace, [Deut. 32:4;

Let there be peace and truth in our days, [Is. 39:8]
Let there be one heart, and one soul,
in the multitude of them that believe. [Acts 4:32]

O thou that breakest not the bruised reed, neither quenchest the smoking flax, [Is. 42:3; Matt. 12:20]
Stablish all that stand in truth and in grace,
Restore all that slip into heresies or into sins.
I beseech thee, O Lord, according to all thy mercy,
that thy wrath may be turned away
from this city,
from this house,
for we have sinned against thee;
That this place, together with the whole region round about,
thou wouldest strengthen with justice, by mercy
tempering it.
Grant me to love again them that love me,
though they be unknown to me,
And bring them into thy heavenly Kingdom,
even as me also,
And grant me to shew unto them the mercy of God,
in my prayers.
That with these for whom I have prayed,
or in whatsoever manner I am bound to pray,
and with all the people of God,
it may be given me to be brought into thy Kingdom,
there to appear in righteousness,
there to be satisfied with glory.

O Lord, in thy Name shall they rejoice all the day,
and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted. [ver. 17]

O magnify the Lord with me,
and let us exalt his Name together. [Ps. 34:3]
O come hither and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what he hath done for my soul. [Ps. 66:14]
Set up thyself, O God, above the heavens,
and thy glory above all the earth. [Ps. 57:12]
I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart,
in the assembly of the saints,
and in the congregation. [Ps. 111:1]
Open thou my mouth to bless thy Name, [Ps. 51:15]
Make me to be at leisure for thy praises,
Even before the angels will I sing praise unto thee. [Ps. 138:1]
Receive the praises which I desire to sing,
I, an unworthy sinner, unworthy indeed,
Yet would God they were devout, and acceptable unto thee.
Thou art worthy, O Lord God, to receive, [Rev. 4:11]
Thou art my God, and I will give thanks unto thee,
I will exalt thee. [Ps. 118:28]
I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live,
I will praise my God while I have my being. [Ps. 104:33]

THE CONFESSION OF PRAISE.

Me, that sin, O Lord, and repent not,
 and am therefore altogether unworthy,
 It were more fitting to lie prostrate before thee,
 and with weeping and groaning
 to beg pardon for my sins, than to praise thee
 with a polluted mouth.
 Yet, trusting in thine inborn goodness,
 Blessed art thou, O God,
 Who hast created me, and brought me into this life,
 and hast ordered me,
 that I should be a living soul, and not a senseless thing,
 a man, | not a brute,
 a man of the city, | not a barbarian,
 free-born, | not house-born a bondman,
 lawfully begotten, | not a bastard,

Ex honesta | non { mali corvi / malum ovum, }

Qui, secundum misericordiam Tuam magnam,
 regenerasti nos in spem vivam,
 per resurrectionem JESU CHRISTI,
 in hæreditatem incorruptibilem,
 et incontaminatam,
 et immarcessibilem,
 conservatam in cœlis pro nobis. 1 Pet. i. 3. [4.]

 of an honest estate, | so that I have need
 | neither to flatter,

 delivered from many sins, endowed with the gifts { of Grace { redemption, / calling, } / of Nature, / of

Who, according to thy great mercy,
 hast begotten us again unto a lively hope,
 by the resurrection of JESUS CHRIST,
 to an inheritance incorruptible,
 and undefiled,
 and that fadeth not away,
 reserved in heaven for us. [1 Pet. 1:3, 4]
 Who hast blessed me with all blessing spiritual in heavenly places
 in Christ. [Eph. 1:3]
 Who hast comforted me in all my tribulation,

Quoniam sicut abundarunt passiones Christi
in me, ita et per Christum abundat
consolatio mea. 2 Cor. i. 4, 5.

Tibi, Deus patrum meorum, confiteor,
Teque laudo, quia sapientiam et fortitudinem
secundum partem aliquam dedisti mihi;
et ostendisti mihi quæ rogavi Te,

Et quid addam adhuc
ut loquar ad Te?

Tu enim nosti servum Tuum, Domine, Domine mi.

2 Sam. vii. 20.

Quis ego sum, Domine, servus Tuus, et quæ domus mea,
quoniam respexisti super canem mortuum similem mei,

2 Sam. ix. 8.

Quoniam adhuc usque dilexisti me? [Jo. xiii. 1.]

Quid retribuam Domino pro omnibus quæ tribuit mihi?

Psal. cxvi. 12.

Quam gratiarum actionem possumus Deo retribuere in omni gaudio quo gaudemus coram Eo? [1 Thess. iii. 9.]

Qui dignatus es me, Domine, sancta hac die,
et hora hac levare animam meam, et lau-
dare Te, et offerre debitam Tibi gloriam,

Ipse, Domine, ab anima mea suscipe spirituale hoc sacrificium: illudque recipiens ad Te in spirituale Tuum Altare, digneris vicem ejus mittere in me gratiam SS. Spiritus Tui.

Visita me in bonitate Tua,

Ignosce mihi peccatum omne, tam voluntarium
quam involuntarium.

Libera me ab æternis suppliciis, etiam et omnibus
hujus mundi ærumnis.

Transmuta cogitationes meas in pietatem,

Sanctifica spiritum, animum et corpus meum,

Et da mihi adorare et placere Tibi

in pietate et sanctitate vitæ
usque ad extremum vitæ terminum.

And what can I say more
to speak unto thee?
For thou knowest thy servant, O Lord, my Lord.
[2 Sam. 7:20]
Who am I, O Lord, thy servant, and what is my house, that thou hast looked upon such a dead dog as I am,
[2 Sam. 9:8]
For that thou hast loved me hitherto? [John 13:1]
What reward shall I give unto the Lord for all that he hath done unto me?
[Ps. 116:12]
What thanks can we render to God again for all the joy wherewith we joy before him? [1 Thess. 3:9]
Who hast vouchsafed me, O Lord, this holy day,
and this hour, to lift up my soul, and to praise thee, and to offer thee the glory that is thy due,
Do thou thyself, O Lord, receive from my soul this spiritual sacrifice: and receiving it unto thee upon thy spiritual Altar, vouchsafe to send down upon me in return the grace of thy Most Holy Spirit.
Visit me in thy goodness,
Forgive me every sin, both voluntary and involuntary.
Deliver me from everlasting torments, yea, and from all the miseries of this world.
Transmute my thoughts into godliness,
Sanctify my spirit, and my soul, and my body,
And grant me to worship and to please thee
in godliness and holiness of life even unto the utmost end of life.

Πατὲρ ἡμῶν,

Our Father,

1. Holy art thou,
 holy is thy Name, above every name,
 to be held holy and with all reverence by all men, and by some more than by others,
 and by me first of all above many.

Yet I have not so held it:

neither have I endeavoured to do what lay in me.

Woe is me, wretched, that I have not —

I confess it freely.

From my soul I grieve { in heart, / in mind, / in soul, / in spirit. }

A suppliant I ask pardon, a suppliant grace,

That henceforth I may so speak, so do, so live,

that thy Name may be hallowed,

and would to God by others also for my sake!

2. Thy Kingdom, the chief of all my desires,

That I may come unto it in the state of glory,

Adveniat mihi hic in statu gratiæ.

In regno terrenorum hic aliquid
per Tuam gratiam præstem,

Quo in regno cœlorum illic,
ad aliquem locum perveniam, vel novissimum
subter pedes sanctorum Tuorum.

3. Voluntas { carnis / viri } facessant a me.

Voluntas Tua { sancta / justa / gratiosa } fiat { a terra hac, / de terra hac, } quæ ego sum,
sicut in cœlis.

4. Da quæ ad { sanitatem, / pacem, / sufficientiam, }
Da panem Angelorum ad salutem æternam.

5. Dimitte mihi debita, æcs ingens debitorum, [Matt. xviii. 24.]
prolapsiones fœdas,
recidivas crebras,
volutabra diutina.

Tibi, Domine, justitia, et mihi confusio faciei. [Dan. ix. 8.]

Perditio mea mihi a me est. [Hos. xiii. 9.]

Si iniquitates observaveris, Domine, Domine, quis sustinebit? [Psal. cxxx. 3.]
sed apud Te propitiatio,

Apud Deum misericordia,

Copiosa apud Deum redemptio,

Et liberabit ab omnibus iniquitatibus. [Vers. 7, 8.]

Let it come to me here in the state of grace.

That in the kingdom of earthly things here

I may perform somewhat by thy grace,

That in the kingdom of heaven there,

I may attain to some place, even the last of all,

beneath the feet of thy saints.

3. The will { of the flesh / of man } — let them be gone from me.

Thy will, { holy, / just, / gracious, } be done { by this earth, / upon this earth, }

which I am,

as it is in heaven.

4. Give the things that make for { health, / peace, / sufficiency, }

Give the bread of Angels unto everlasting salvation.

5. Forgive me my debts,

the huge sum of my indebtedness, [Matt. 18:24]

my foul slidings-away,

my frequent relapses,

my long wallowings.

To thee, O Lord, belongeth righteousness, and to me confusion of face. [Dan. 9:8]

My destruction is of myself. [Hos. 13:9]

If thou, Lord, wilt mark iniquities,

O Lord, who shall abide it? [Ps. 130:3]

but with thee there is forgiveness,

With God is mercy,

and with God is plenteous redemption,

And he shall deliver from all iniquities. [vv. 7, 8]

- Libera me, Domine, a meis,
 Libera animam meam ab inferno inferiori. [Ps. lxxxvi. 13.]
 Abyssus abyssum invocat, [Psal. xlii. 7.]
 Ut de abyssu eripiat.
 Sed et alia, quæ minus sentio,
 Non minus gravia, fortasse graviora,
 De quibus peto illuminari,
 ut possim confiteri.
6. Et ne inducas,
 ne me induci sinas,
 ne me sinas intrare in tentationem,
 Memor et misertus fragilitatis, [Psal. ciii. 14.]
 et infirmitatis meæ toties exploratæ.
7. Sed libera me a malo, Malo in meipso et carne,
 et surreptione ejus;
 Malo Dæmone et suggestionem ejus;
 Malis pœnalibus, quæ justissime
 dignissimeque commeritus sum;
 Malis sæculi futuri;
 ibi parce, hic ure, hic seca, Domine.
 Malis sæculi præsentis;
 parce et hic.
 Malitia mundi hujus,
 et accidentium in eo;
 Malitia morbi hujus,
 quicum confictor;
 Malitia negotii, cui implicor;
 Malis præteritis, præsentibus, et futuris,
 Ab his omnibus libera me, Domine.

Deliver me, O Lord, from mine own,
 Deliver my soul from the nethermost hell. [Ps. 86:13]
 Deep calleth unto deep, [Ps. 42:7]
 That out of the deep it may pluck me forth.
 But there are others also, which I feel less,
 Not less grievous, perhaps more grievous,
 Concerning which I ask to be enlightened,
 that I may be able to confess them.

6. And lead us not in,
 suffer me not to be led in,
 suffer me not to enter into temptation,
 Being mindful, and having pity on my frailty, [Ps. 103:14]
 and on my weakness so often proved.

7. But deliver me from evil,
 From the evil in myself and in my flesh,
 and from its stealing upon me;
 From the evil Fiend and his suggestion;
 From penal evils, which most justly
 and most worthily I have deserved;
 From the evils of the world to come;
 there spare, here burn, here cut, O Lord.
 From the evils of the world that now is;
 here also spare.
 From the malice of this world,
 and of the things that befall in it;
 From the malice of this sickness,
 wherewith I wrestle;
 From the malice of the business wherein I am entangled;
 From evils past, present, and to come,
 From all these deliver me, O Lord.

Et serva me servum Tuum in æternum,
 vel inter novissimos novissimum.
 Obsecro Te, Domine, in omnem misericordiam Tuam, Avertatur a me justissima indignatio Tua, [Dan. ix. 16.]
 quia { sæpissime, gravissime / gravissime, sæpissime } peccavi Tibi, præcipue quæ { nuperrime / novissime } peccavi Tibi;
 Avertatur a me, a parentibus,
 fratribus, sororibus,
 Domino Reverendo, familiaque,
 Cognatione, amicis, vicinia, patria,
 Populo Christiano universo,
 Amen.

 I beseech thee, O Lord, according to all thy mercy,
 Let thy most just indignation be turned away from me, [Dan. 9:16]

 So deliver us also, O Lord, who hope in thee.

PREPARATION FOR THE BLESSING.

Thanksgiving.

Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thine own strength:
 So will we sing and praise thy mighty acts. [Ps. 21:13]

Confiteantur Tibi opera, Deus;
 Et sancti Tui benedicant Tibi. [Psal. cxlv. 10.]
 Aperi os meum ad benedicendum nomen Tuum;
 Domine, labia mea aperies,
 Et os meum annuntiabit laudem Tuam. [Psal. li. 15.]
 Peccantem me, Domine, et non pœnitentem,
 ac ita prorsus indignum,
 Deceret magis coram Te jacere prostratum,
 ac cum fletu et gemitu peccatorum veniam postulare, quam Te ore polluto laudare.
 De ingenti tamen bonitate Tua confisus, do.
 O, suscipe laudes quas decantare desidero.
 Ego indignus peccator, certe indignus,
 sed utinam devotus et Tibi gratus, Tibi gratias ago, Te adoro, laudo, benedico, Teque glori-fico. Dignus es, Domine Deus, accipere laudes et gratias. [Apoc. iv. 11.]
 Quem ego peccator non sum dignus invocare, nec vel
 nominare, vel in corde cogitare.
 Te invoco, adoro, Te toto cordis affectu nunc et in sæculum benedico.

Actus Spei.

In Te, Domine, speravi; ne confundar in æternum.
 [Psal. xxxi. 1.]
 Spes mea { ab uberibus matris, [Psal. xxii. 9.] / a juventute. [Psal. lxxi. 5.] }
 Requiescit caro mea in spe. [Psal. xvi. 9.]
 Verbum Tuum in quo mihi spem dedisti. [Psal. cxix. 114.]

Let thy works confess thee, O God;
 And let thy saints bless thee. [Ps. 145:10]
 Open thou my mouth to bless thy Name;
 O Lord, thou shalt open my lips,
 And my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. [Ps. 51:15]
 Me, that sin, O Lord, and repent not,
 and am therefore utterly unworthy,
 It were more meet that I should lie prostrate before thee,
 and with weeping and groaning
 crave pardon for my sins, than that I should praise thee
 with a polluted mouth.
 Yet, trusting in thy exceeding goodness, I give them.
 O, receive the praises which I long to sing thee.
 I, an unworthy sinner, unworthy indeed,
 yet would God devout, and acceptable unto thee,
 give thee thanks, adore thee, praise, bless, and glorify thee. Thou art worthy, O Lord God, to receive praise and thanks. [Rev. 4:11]
 Whom I, a sinner, am not worthy to call upon, no, nor yet to name, nor to think upon in my heart.
 Thee I call upon, thee I adore, thee with the whole affection of my heart I bless, now and for ever.

The Act of Hope.

O Lord, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded.
 [Ps. 31:1]
 My hope { from my mother's breasts, [Ps. 22:9] / from my youth up. [Ps. 71:5] }
 My flesh also shall rest in hope. [Ps. 16:9]
 Thy word, wherein thou hast given me hope. [Ps. 119:114]

Habebit spem in novissimo. [Jer. xxxi. 17.]

Vallis Achor porta spei. [Hos. ii. 15.]

Spes non confundit. Spe salvi facti sumus. [Rom. v. 5; viii. 24.]

Dominus spei repleat nos. [Rom. xv. 13.]

Si occiderit me, sperabo. [Job. xiii. 15.]

Qui salvos facis sperantes in Te. [Psal. xvii. 7.]

In nomine Tuo sacro speravimus. [Psal. ix. 10.]

In tegmine alarum, in umbra, sub pennis. [Psal. lvii. 1.]

Tu, Domine, spes mea, [Psal. lxxi. 5.]

Spes mea in Te, [Psal. xxxix. 7.]

Spes omnium finium terræ. [Psal. lxxv. 5.]

Spera in Deo. [Psal. xlii. 11.]

Vellem, si plus. | Metuo, ne.

ORATIO THO. BRADWARDINI,

Lib. I. De Virtute, cap. i. coroll. 39.

Teipsum, Deus meus, Teipsum propter Teipsum super alia cuncta amo. Teipsum desidero. Teipsum finaliter concupisco. Teipsum propter Teipsum, non aliud quodlibet, semper et in omnibus quæro. Ex totis meis præcordiis et medullis, cum gemitu et ploratu, cum labore continuo, et dolore. Quid ergo finaliter mihi reddes? Si non Teipsum mihi reddideris, nihil reddis. Si non Teipsum mihi donaveris, nihil donas. Si non Teipsum invenio, nihil invenio. Nequicquam me præmias, sed crucias vehementer. Prius enim quam Te quæsivi, speravi Te tandem invenire, et tenere. Et hac spe melliflua in omnibus laboribus meis dulciter consolabar. Nunc autem si Teipsum mihi negaveris, quicquid aliud dederis, tanta spe frustratus (nec ad tempus modicum, sed in perpetuum) nonne semper amore languebo, languore mœrebo, mœrore dolebo, dolore lugebo et flebo, quia semper inanis et vacuus remanebo? Nonne inconsolabiliter contristabor? incessabiliter querulabor? interminabiliter cruciabor? Non est hoc Tuum, optime, clementissime, amantissime Deus; nullatenus congruit, nusquam decet. Fac igitur, optime Deus meus, ut in vita præsentis semper Teipsum propter Teipsum amem præ omnibus, quæram in omnibus, et tandem in futura inveniâ ac teneam in æternum.

A PRAYER OF THOMAS BRADWARDINE,

Book I. Of Virtue, chap. i. coroll. 39.

Thyself, my God, thyself for thine own sake above all things else do I love. Thyself I desire. Thyself, as my last end, I long after. Thyself for thine own sake, and no other thing whatsoever, alway and in all things I seek. Out of all mine inward parts and marrow, with groaning and with weeping, with continual labour, and with grief. What then wilt thou render me at the last? If thou render not thyself to me, thou renderest nothing. If thou give not thyself to me, thou givest nothing. If I find not thyself, I find nothing. To no purpose dost thou reward me; nay, thou dost torment me sore. For before ever I sought thee, I hoped at the last to find thee, and to hold thee. And with that honey-sweet hope I was sweetly comforted in all my labours. But now, if thou deny me thyself, whatsoever else thou givest — cheated of so great a hope, and that not for a little while, but for ever — shall I not alway languish for love, and for languishing mourn, and for mourning grieve, and for grief lament and weep, seeing I shall remain for ever empty and void? Shall I not be sorrowful past comfort? complain without ceasing? be tormented without end? This is not thy way, O most good, most merciful, most loving God; it nowise agreeth with thee, it nowhere becometh thee. Grant therefore, O most good my God, that in this present life I may alway love thyself for thine own sake above all things, and seek thee in all things, and at the last, in the life to come, find thee and hold thee for ever.

CONFESSIO PECCATORUM.

- I. Ecce me, Domine, Ecce me, peccatorum { Maximum, / Pessimum, / Miserrimum ! } (Et quid dicam jam, aut in quo aperiam os meum?
 Quid respondebo, cum ipse fecerim, fecerim, fecerim?)
 [Is. xxxviii. 15.]

 { The devil / The flesh / The world } it overcometh | to God. / to ourselves. / to our

THE CONFESSION OF SINS.

- I. Behold me, Lord,
 Behold me, of sinners { the Greatest, / the Worst, / the Most wretched ! }
 (And what shall I now say, or wherein shall I open my mouth?
 What shall I answer, seeing I myself have done it, have done it, have done it?)
 [Is. 38:15]

Recogitabo Tibi omnia peccata mea

In amaritudine animæ meæ:

O utinam in amaritudine amarissima. [Ibid. et Vers. 17.]

Domine, si sic vivitur, et in talibus est vita spiritus mei, corripies me et vivificabis me. [Vers. 16.]

Ecce enim in pace mea

amaritudo mea facta est amarissima. [Vers. 17.]

At ego sicut pullus hirundinis trinsabo,

Gemam velut columba. [Vers. 14.]

Deprecor autem Te, Domine, in omnem misericordiam Tuam,

Ut avertatur a me justissima indignatio, et furor Tuus,

Quia peccavi, idque graviter, peccavi Tibi,

Graviter et sæpe peccavi Tibi.

II. O Pater misericordiarum,

Obsecro paterna viscera miserationum Tuarum,

Et ne { Vermem immundum, / Canem mortuum, / Cadaver putridum, } ne me despice.

Quin respice me, Domine,

Oculis illis respice

quibus { Magdalenam in convivio, / Petrum in atrio, / Latronem in patibulo; }

Ut cum { Petro defleam, / Latrone confitear, / Magdalena diligam; }

Diligam Te multum,

Plurimum, ut cui remissa sunt plurima.

Parce, quæso, Domine; parce, parce pœnitenti;

I will go over all my sins before thee

In the bitterness of my soul:

O that it were in bitterness most bitter. [Ibid. and ver. 17]

Lord, if a man so live, and the life of my spirit be in such things, thou wilt correct me and make me to live. [ver. 16]

For behold, in my peace

my bitterness was made most bitter. [ver. 17]

But I, like a swallow's young, will chatter,

I will mourn as a dove. [ver. 14]

And I beseech thee, Lord, by all thy mercy,

That thy most just indignation and thy wrath be turned from me,

Because I have sinned, and that grievously, I have sinned against thee,

Grievously and often have I sinned against thee.

II. O Father of mercies,

I beseech the fatherly bowels of thy compassions,

And { an unclean worm, / a dead dog, / a putrid carcase, } O despise me not.

Nay rather look upon me, Lord,

Look with those eyes

wherewith thou lookedst on { the Magdalen at the feast, / Peter in the hall, / the Thief
on the gibbet; }

That with { Peter I may weep, / the Thief confess, / the Magdalen love; }

That I may love thee much,

Yea most, as one to whom most is forgiven.

Spare, I pray thee, Lord; spare, spare the penitent;

Certe { Pœnitere disponenti et cupienti; / Peccata cum amaritudine recogitanti, / Sibi ipsi de peccatis admissis indignanti, / Passionis Tuæ amarissimæ recordanti, / Eique adhærenti. }

Parce, Domine; propitius esto.

Parce mihi, Domine, propitius esto;

Miserere mei,

Quia { non est difficile potentia; / nec indecens justitiæ / nec insolitum clementia; } Tuæ.

III. Siccine, ut pro porris et alliis

Panem Angelorum?

Siccine ut pro porcorum siliquis

Mensam paternam?

Væ misero mihi, vœ insensato!

Quis me fascinavit

Ut sic desiperem?

O si Tu modo recipere digneris,

Omnino mihi reverti mens est:

Melius enim mihi tum fuit, prout nunc est.

Totus ergo confusus,

{ Nec dignus nominare / Nec invocare / Nec in corde cogitare } Nomen Tuum

Absque ingenita Tua bonitate;

Sed enim illa fretus,

{ Supplex, / Demissus, / Prostratus, } revertor ad Te;

Surely { him that is minded and desirous to repent; / him that thinketh over his sins with bitterness, / him that is indignant with himself for the sins he hath done, / him that remembereth thy most bitter Passion, / and cleaveth unto
it. }

Spare, Lord; be merciful.

Spare me, Lord, be merciful unto me;

Have mercy upon me,

Seeing it { is not hard to thy power, / nor unbecoming to thy justice, / nor unwonted to thy clemency. }

III. What, for leeks and for garlick,
the Bread of Angels?

What, for the husks of swine,
my Father's table?

Woe is me, wretched, woe is me, senseless!

Who hath bewitched me
that I should so dote?

O if thou wouldest but vouchsafe to receive me,

I am wholly minded to return:

For then was it better with me than now.

Wholly confounded therefore,

{ Not worthy to name / Nor to call upon / Nor to think in my heart } thy Name but for thy inborn goodness;

Yet trusting in that,

{ a suppliant, / abased, / prostrate, } I return unto thee;

Nec peto ut facias
Nisi quod fecisti sæpissime,
Et facis libentissime;
Quod nisi facturus etiam atque etiam,
Non subsistet ulla caro,
Nemo sustinebit.
Miserere peccatoris, peccatoris maximi,
Ac proin maxima misericordia indigentis.
Et Tibi maxima est,
Et ad celos usque pertingens,
Et eripiens de inferno inferiori.
Mirifica est.
Mirifica misericordiam Tuam erga me:
Quam si vis glorificare in immensum,
Prætende mihi eam.
Nunquam ea, nunquam ea in peccatoris cujusquam venia
Magis gloriosa { aut fuit, / aut futura est. }
Domine, si vis ut recedam a Te, da mihi alium Te, Alioqui non dimittam Te.
Spiritus veritatis doceat me veritatem.
IV. Tibi, Domine, confiteor (Quia, si volo, abscondere non possum);
Tibi peccata mea plurima, maxima, gravissima.
Profiteor et dolere me, quod et Tu nosti.
Sed peccasse me plus magis prout dolor est,
Qui mihi adjacet quo peccata defleam.
Deest mihi dolor tantus, deest plane.
Longe absum ab eo quam par est esse.
Multum peccare possum;

Nor do I ask that thou do
 aught but what thou hast done most often,
 And doest most willingly;
Which unless thou wert to do again and again,
 No flesh should stand,
 None should abide it.
Have mercy upon a sinner, upon the greatest of sinners,
 And therefore upon one that needeth the greatest mercy.
And thine is the greatest,
 And reacheth even unto the heavens,
 And plucketh out of the nethermost hell.
 Marvellous it is.
Shew thy marvellous mercy toward me:
 Which if thou wilt glorify beyond measure,
 Hold it out to me.
Never, never in the pardon of any sinner
 More glorious { either was it, / or shall it be. } Lord, if thou wilt that I depart from thee, give me another Thee, Else will I not let thee go.
 Let the Spirit of truth teach me the truth.
IV. To thee, Lord, I confess
 (Because, if I would, I cannot hide them);
 To thee my sins, most many, most great, most grievous.
I profess also that I grieve for them, which thou too knowest.
 But that I have sinned more than I grieve,
 which grief lieth by me, that I might weep for my sins.
So great a grief I lack, I lack it utterly.
Far am I from being what it is meet I should be.
 Much can I sin;

Multum dolere non possum.
Ariditas mea, ariditas mea! vae mihi!
Non possum multum, sed cupio multum.
Scio enim nec multum, satis multum esse.
 Utinam is dolor suppeteret mihi;
 utinam vero et major.
Sed nequeo impetrare a me.
Exarui, exarui velut testa.
 Vae mihi!
Tu, Domine, { adauge, quem habeo, / supple, quem non habeo, } fontem lacrymarum, liquefactum cor, gemitus inenarrabiles.
Interim, cum mihi promptus sit animus,
 Acceptum habeas me secundum id quod habeo,
 Non secundum id quod non habeo.
Extendam autem, quia intendere non possum magis,
 Per omnes annos vitæ meæ.
V. Sed toties relapsus, qua fronte, qua mente Reverti nunc potero?
 Nulla. Totus enim confusus,
 Confusione mea opertus { incedo, / sedeo, / jaceo. }
Nec auderem facere,
 Nec facerem, quin plane desperarem penitus,
 Et, quod desperantes faciunt, facerem,
Nisi quia spes adhuc reliqua.
 Quæ spes?
Usque ad septuagies septies
 Porrigere Te misericordiam Tuam.

Much can I not grieve.
 My drought, my drought! woe is me!
 I cannot much, but I desire much.
 For I know that not much is much enough.
 Would God that grief were at hand for me;
 yea, would God a greater.
 But I cannot obtain it of myself.
 I am dried up, dried up like a potsherd.
 Woe is me!
 Thou, Lord, { increase that which I have, / supply that which I have not, } a fountain of tears,
 a melting heart, groanings that cannot be uttered.
 Meanwhile, seeing the spirit is willing with me,
 Accept thou me according to that I have,
 Not according to that I have not.
 But I will lengthen it out, since I cannot strain it further,
 through all the years of my life.
 V. But having so often fallen back, with what face, with what mind shall I now be able to return?
 With none. For wholly confounded,
 Covered with mine own confusion, I { walk, / sit, / lie down. }
 Nor durst I do it,
 Nor would I, but that I should despair outright,
 And do that which they do that despair,
 Save that there is yet hope left.
 What hope?
 That unto seventy times seven
 Thou reachest forth thy mercy.

Et ultra,
Hanc enim mensuram nobis commendasti.
Nobisne, ut nos inter nos eam præstemus,
Tute vero eandem ut non præstes?
Præstabis vero et multo magis.
Absit enim ut plus in nobis perfectionis esse velis,
quam in Teipso est.
Ut nos ad septuagies septies velis remittere,
Nolis autem Ipse.
Quia Tua nostram superat misericordia,
Quantum Tu nos.
Illa ergo fretus,
Saltem quadringenties nonagies condonante
misericordia Tua,
A longe stans provolvo me,
Et demississime, ut par est, humillimeque
Percutiens illud
(Quod me non satis percutit) cor meum,
{ Dico / Ingemino } iterum iterumque,
Propitius esto, { Domine, mihi peccatori, / Mihi miserrimo peccatori, / Mihi peccatorum primo, /
Mihi toti peccato, / Peccato καθ' ὑπερβολήν, }
O, cui nunquam sine spe veniæ supplicatur!
VI. Ille vero ut propitius sit, at tu non doleas?
Non peto.
Doleo enim utcunque;
Metuo quidem ut satis.

And beyond,
 For this is the measure thou hast commended to us.
 To us, that we should render it among ourselves,
 And thou thyself not render the same?
 Nay, thou wilt render it, and much more.
 God forbid thou shouldest will more perfection to be in us than is in thyself.
 That thou shouldest will us to forgive unto seventy times seven,
 And thyself be unwilling,
 For thy mercy surpasseth ours,
 as far as thou surpassest us.
 Trusting therefore in that,
 yea, in thy mercy that pardoneth four hundred and ninety times over,
 Standing afar off I cast myself down,
 And most abjectly, as is meet, and most humbly
 Smiting that heart of mine
 (Which smiteth me not enough),
 { I say / and say again } over and over,
 Be merciful, { Lord, to me a sinner, / to me the most wretched sinner, / to me the chief of sinners, / to me that am all sin, / to sin exceeding sinful, }
 O thou to whom none ever sueth without hope of pardon!
 VI. But that he should be merciful, and thou not grieve?
 I ask it not.
 For grieve I do, after a fashion;
 I fear indeed that it is but enough.

Cuperem ut magis;
Gauderem si magis;
Doleo, quia non magis.
Cupio enim ut magis possem, et Doleo quia magis non possum.
Fateor dolendum dolorem meum,
Et doleo ipse tam dolendum.
Et, O quis mihi det, ut plus magisque possem?
Ego, si penes me esset, præstarem.
Sed penes me non est;
In potestate mea non est.
Penes me quidem est appetiari quod plus magis;
Velle etiam ut plus magis.
Velle mihi adjacet; perficere autem non invenio.
Tu, Domine, da, penes Te est ut des.
Tu qui vertis vel silicem in aquas stagnantes.
Da lacrymas; da fontem capiti meo.
Da gratiam lacrymarum.
Rorate, cœli, desuper,
Et rigate ariditatem deserti mei.
Da, Domine, gratiam hanc,
Nullum mihi donum gratius,
Non si opes multas,
Non si terrena vel optima;
Quam si mihi lacrymas;
Quales Davidi olim, vel Jeremiæ:
Quales Magdalenæ, vel Petro indulsisti.
Saltem stillantem oculum,
Ne totus sim silex.
Non ut stratum meum lavare possim,

I would desire it were more;
I should rejoice if it were more;
I grieve that it is not more.
For I desire that I might more, and I grieve that more I cannot.
I confess my grief is to be grieved for,
 And I grieve myself that it is so much to be grieved for.
And, O who shall give me that I might more and more?
 I, if it lay with me, would perform it.
 But with me it lieth not;
It is not in my power.
 With me indeed it lieth to prize that which is more;
 yea, to will that it were more.
 To will is present with me; but to perform I find not.
Thou, Lord, give: with thee it lieth to give.
 Thou that turnest even the flint into standing water.
Give tears; give a fountain to my head.
 Give the grace of tears.
 Drop down, ye heavens, from above,
 And water the drought of my desert.
Give, Lord, this grace,
No gift were welcomer to me,
 Not great riches,
 Not earthly things, no, not the best;
Than if thou give me tears;
 Such as thou grantedst David of old, or Jeremiah:
 Such as thou grantedst the Magdalen, or Peter.
At least a dropping eye,
 that I be not all flint.
Not that I may wash my bed,

Non ut pedes Tuos rigare,
Non copiose, ut Jeremias,
Non amare, ut Petrus, (Quanquam O, si sic!)
At vel lacrymulam saltem unam
 Atque alteram supple;
Quam Tu in utre Tuo recondas,
Quam in commentarios Tuos referas.
Sin nec hoc impetro, ah, pumex!
Ah me, vere calcem! in aqua frigida ferventem,
Extra, ubi minus oportet, absque fervore,
Ubi non oportet dolentem satis,
Ubi maxime oportet, frigidum, aridum, emortuum,
Saltem de lacrymis Christi Tui
 Imperti mihi aliquas,
Quas in diebus carnis suæ fudit ubertim.
Imperti O mihi de iis.
Supersunt in illo mihi, quæ in me mihi desunt.

Oratiuncula post Confessionem.

O Servator mi, Christe, Servator mi, Quis mihi det, ut prius moriar
 quam Te denuo offendam, Christe Servator mi, O Servator mi?
 O Domine, novum supervenisse Spiritum
 Nova vitæ ratio demonstret;
Nam poenitentia vera, nova vita,
Et vera confessio, sine intermissione poenitere,
 Observando Sabbatum perpetuum

Not that I may water thy feet,
Not copiously, as Jeremiah,
Not bitterly, as Peter,
 (Though O, that it were so!)
Yet one little tear at the least
 And a second supply thou;
 Which thou mayest lay up in thy bottle,
 Which thou mayest enter in thy book.
But if I obtain not even this — ah, pumice-stone!
 Ah me, very quicklime! seething in cold water,
 Without, where it less behoveth, without fervour,
 Where it behoveth not, grieving enough,
 Where it most behoveth, cold, dry, dead,
At least of the tears of thy Christ
 Impart to me some,
Which in the days of his flesh he shed abundantly.
Impart, O impart to me of them.
 There is left over in him for me what in myself is lacking to me.

A Short Prayer after Confession.

O my Saviour, Christ, my Saviour,
 Who shall grant me that I may die
 before I offend thee again,
Christ my Saviour, O my Saviour?
 O Lord, let a new manner of life
 shew that a new Spirit is come upon me;
For true penitence is a new life,
And true confession is to repent without ceasing,
 keeping a perpetual sabbath

A peccato ejusque { Occasione, / Fomite, / Periculo. }
 Sicut enim poenitentia destruit vetera peccata,
 Sic nova peccata poenitentiam.

Oratio Præparatoria.

Domine, paratum est cor meum:
 (sic Psaltes, Psal. cviii. 1.)
 Sed, Domine, metuo ne meum non sit;
 Cupio certe, et doleo si minus.
 Utinam esset paratum! hei mihi, quod non est!
 Domine, dispono me, et præparo.
 Adjuva dispositionem, et præparationem meam supple.
 Ponam peccata mea coram me,
 Ut non sint coram Te.

*Ante Concionem Cautela cum Precatione
 ex Fulgentii l. i. ad Mon.*

Prædicator laboret, ut libenter, ut intelligenter, et obedienter audiatur. Et hoc se posse magis pietate orationum, quam orationis facultate, non dubitet. Orando pro se, ac illis quos est allocuturus, sit prius orator, quam doctor; et devote accedens, priusquam exserat proferentem linguam ad Deum, elevet animam sitientem; ut eructet, quod inde biberit, et effundat quod impleverit.
 Ergo a vero Domino ac Magistro nostro postulare non desino, ut ea me, sive per eloquia Scripturarum suarum, sive per sermocinationem fratrum, sive per inspira-

from sin and from its { Occasion, / Fuel, / Peril. }
 For as penitence destroyeth old sins,
 So new sins destroy penitence.

A Preparatory Prayer.

Lord, my heart is ready:
 (so saith the Psalmist, Ps. 108:1.)
 But, Lord, I fear that mine is not;
 Desire it I surely do, and grieve if it be less.
 Would God it were ready! woe is me, that it is not!
 Lord, I dispose myself, and prepare.
 Help my disposing, and supply my preparation.
 I will set my sins before me,
 That they be not before thee.

*A Caution before Preaching, with a Prayer,
 out of Fulgentius, Bk i, to Monimus.*

Let the preacher labour to be heard willingly, understandingly, and obediently. And let him not doubt that he can do this more by the piety of his prayers than by any faculty of speech. Praying for himself and for those he is to speak to, let him be one that prays before he is one that teaches; and drawing near devoutly, before ever he puts forth the tongue that is to utter, let him lift up his thirsting soul to God; that he may pour out what he has there drunk in, and shed forth what has filled him.

Therefore I cease not to ask of our true Lord and Master that he would vouchsafe to teach me those things — whether by the words of his Scriptures, or by the conversation of the brethren, or by

Ipsam rogo ut (præveniente ac subsequente misericordia) quæcunque salubriter scienda nescio, doceat me; in his, quæ vera novi, custodiat me; in quibus, ut homo fallor, corrigat me; in quibus veris titubo, confirmet me, et a falsis et noxiis eripiat me, et ea faciat de ore meo procedere, quæ sunt coram ipsa veritate principaliter grata, sic fiant fidelibus cunctis accepta, per Jesum Christum, Dominum ac Servatorem nostrum.

Rom. viii. 26. The Spirit maketh intercession for us
with groanings which cannot be uttered.

Augustine, against Maximinus. The Spirit asketh for us with groanings unutterable: is thy spirit, or mine, unutterable — which is oftentimes no spirit at all, oftentimes cold? But because there is no day, no moment, wherein God is not besought by the saints, by one more fervently, by another more lukewarmly; and because they all make up one Dove, hence come the unutterable groanings, namely out of the groanings of all in common, which profit all that are set in the body of the Church.

He that prayeth for others laboureth for himself.

If thou ask for thyself alone, thou shalt be alone in asking for thyself.

If thou pray for all, they shall pray for thee.

Judith xvi. 16. Every sacrifice for a sweet savour is a small thing.

Ecclus. xliii. 27. We may say much, and yet come short.

Aug. Conf. bk. i. Woe unto them that keep silence of thee, O Lord: seeing Sed peccantem me, Domine, et prorsus indignum magis deceret coram Te jacere prostratum, ac cum fletu ac gemitu peccatorum veniam postulare, quam Te ore polluto laudare.

Verum de ingenita Tua bonitate confido;

O suscipe laudes quas decantare desidero,

That as before we abounded in sins, so now we may abound in good works and in the praises of God.

But who am I, O Lord?—&c.

A Prayer of Preparation before the BLESSING.

Make me, O Lord, to have leisure for my repentance and for thy praises — Χωρῆσαι εἰς μετάνοιαν καὶ εὐλογίας, room enough for repentance and for blessings.

O Lord, thou shalt open my lips, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

But me a sinner, O Lord, and altogether unworthy, it were more
seemly to lie prostrate before thee, and with weeping and groaning to beg pardon for my sins, than to praise thee
with a polluted mouth.

Yet I trust in thine inborn goodness;

O receive the praises which I long to sing,

An unworthy sinner,

Unworthy indeed,

But would God, devout, and pleasing unto thee.

THE MORNING HYMN.*

GLORY be to God on high,
and on earth peace,
good will among men.
We praise thee,
we bless thee,
we worship thee,
we glorify thee,
we give thanks to thee,
for thy great glory,
O Lord, heavenly King,
O God the Father Almighty,
O Lord, the only-begotten Son,
Jesu Christ,
and O Holy Ghost.
O Lord God,
the Lamb of God,
the Son of the Father,
Thou that takest away the sins of the world,
have mercy upon us.
Thou that takest away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer.
Thou that sittest at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy upon us.

* This is perhaps that Hymn which C. Pliny makes mention of, in the Epistle xxvii. of book x., in these words: "That the Christians were wont on a set day to meet before daylight, and to sing a Hymn to Christ as unto God, by turns among themselves."

THE EVENING HYMN.

of the immortal Father, heavenly, holy,

we, being come to the setting of the sun,

and the Holy Spirit of God.
Worthy art thou at all times
to be hymned with holy voices, O Son of God,
thou giver of life.
Wherefore the world doth glorify thee.

Quoniam Tu solus sanctus,
Tu solus Dominus,
Jesu Christe,

ON THE CRUCIFYING OF CHRIST

Monostrophics.

ENOUGH of inspired babbling;
Change, O Muse, thy strings,
and taking up the lyre,
strike a solemn hymn
to the King upon his cross.
O Treasure of wonders, unsated
and unbounded:

What shall I say to thee, and what first?
I would tell a thing unspeakable to mortals,
and a riddle to the blessed spirits,
How, being God, thou didst die!
I would tell the untrackable deeps
of Mercy, that for a ransom, at the hands of enemies,
the Father gave the Son.
I would cry aloud on high
the oracled triumph
of the three-days' dead,
and Hades led captive,
and death subdued by death.
But the hill of Skulls roars round about me,
and mine ears are full of a many-voiced clamour,
of them that destroy, and them that perish.
Leap forth to the hill, mine eyes;
who is it hangeth in the midst of three,
(how nothing like unto the two!)

ORATIONIS fundamentum et basis est fides. Theophylact.

Fidei fundamentum est Dei promissio.

Sursum corda.

Ecl. xxxv. Oratio humilientis se nubes penetrabit.

Oratio cum Deo collocutio est.

Ponam peccata meam coram me, ut non sint coram Te.

Domine, metuo ne non sit.

Utinam esset paratum.

Hei mihi quod non est.

Domine, dispono me et præparo.

THE foundation and ground of prayer is faith. Theophylact.

The foundation of faith is the promise of God.

Lift up your hearts.

He that made us to live taught us also to pray.

Eccclus. xxxv. The prayer of him that humbleth himself shall pierce the clouds.

Prayer is a speaking together with God.

I will set my sins before me, that they be not before Thee.

Lord, my heart is ready.

Lord, I fear that it is not.

Would God it were ready.

Woe is me, that it is not.

Lord, I dispose myself, and prepare.

Help my disposing, and supply my preparation.

CONFESSIO FIDEI.

CREDO, Domine, adjuva incredulitatem meam,

9. That He ascended into heaven,
To prepare a place for us,
where we had no right at all.
10. That He sitteth at the right hand of the Father,

Out of the whole world,
Unto the faith of divine truth,
Unto holiness of conversation,
Of all the members of this body

reciprocam participationem,
Ad
Communione sanctorum, et Remissionem peccatorum,
in præsente,
Ad spem
Resurrectionis et translationis
ad vitam æternam.

Credo, Domine; supple defectus fidei meæ;
Ut Te
Patrem diligam,
Omnipotentem reverear;
Tibi, ut Creatori fidei, commendem
animam meam. 1 Pet. iv. [19.]
Ut Verbo Tuo et Filio unico
Indesinenter memoria gratias agam,
Ut mundatori naturæ nostræ,
in { conceptione et / nativitate; }
Ut liberatori personarum, in Passionibus,
Cruce,
Morte;
Ut triumphatori
de inferno, in descensu;
de morte, in resurrectione;
Ut præcursori nostro,
in ascensione;
Advocato nostro,

a mutual partaking,
 Unto
 The Communion of Saints, and
 The Remission of sins,
 in the present,
 Unto the hope
 Of the Resurrection and the translation
 unto life everlasting.

I believe, Lord; supply the defects of my faith;
 That Thee
 As Father I may love,
 As Almighty revere;
 That to Thee, as unto a faithful Creator, I may commit
 my soul. 1 Pet. 4:[19]
 That to Thy Word and only Son
 I may give thanks with unceasing remembrance,
 As to the cleanser of our nature,
 in { conception and / nativity; }
 As to the deliverer of our persons, in His Passions,
 Cross,
 Death;
 As to the conqueror
 over hell, in His Descent;
 over death, in His Resurrection;
 As to our Forerunner,
 in His Ascension;
 To our Advocate,

in sessione;
Instauratori fidei nostræ,
in adventu secundo.
Ut Ipse Christus formetur in nobis,
ut fiamus conformes
Imagini Ejus in operibus,
Conceptioni Ejus in fide,
Nativitati Ejus in humilitate;
Pro passionibus Ejus Sympathiam habere cum Eo,
tanquam pro nobis patientem;
Pati propter Eum quando beneplacitum est Ei.
Antipathiam cum peccato habere,
tanquam harum passionum causam.
Ulcisci, Crucifigere,
Mortificare,
Sepelire
peccatum in nobis.
Conformes fieri nos
Descensioni Ejus in infernum, Crebra meditatione in infer-
num descendentes;
Resurrectioni, ad vitæ novita-
tem resurgentes;
Ascensioni, sapientes, et quæ-rentes ea quæ sursum sunt, et viciniora salutis;
Judicio, nosmetipsos dijudi-

in His Session;
To the finisher of our faith,
in His second Advent.
That Christ Himself may be formed in us,
that we may be made conformable
To His Image in works,
To His Conception in faith,
To His Nativity in humility;
For His Passions,
To have a fellow-feeling with Him,
as with one suffering for us;
To suffer for His sake when it is His good pleasure.
To have an antipathy against sin,
as the cause of these His sufferings.
To avenge,
To crucify,
To mortify,
To bury
the sin that is in us.
That we be made conformable
To His Descent into hell,
By frequent meditation into hell
going down;
To His Resurrection, unto newness of life
rising again;
To His Ascension, being wise, and seeking those things which are above, and nearer to salvation;
To His Judgment, judging ourselves,

cantes, ne cum mundo condemnemur.
Cum frigidi sumus in oratione,
et indigemus gratiæ alicujus
et consolationis cœlestis, Meminisse
Cathedræ, Apparitionis,
Intercessionis
Tuæ.
Cum fecundi simus in affectu,
Et concupiscentia mala,
Nunquam oblivisci tremendi Tui Et horrendi tribunalis, et indesinenter auribus nostris
insonare sonum tubæ ultimæ.
Ut propter Christum Tuum, a Te
Patre unigenitum,
Accipiamus
Unctionem Tuam,
Gratiam salutiferam
Spiritus Sancti,
Ineffabile donum Tuum,
In salutari compunctione,
Liquida scientia,
Fervida oratione,
Diffusione charitatis.
Ne Spiritum exstinguam unquam,
Neque obnitar Ei,
Contrister Ipsum

that with the world
we be not condemned.
When we are cold in prayer,
and stand in need of some grace and of heavenly consolation,
To remember
The Throne,
The Appearing,
The Intercession
that are Thine.
When we teem with affection,
And with evil concupiscence,
Never to forget Thy dread
And terrible judgement-seat, and unceasingly in our ears
to sound the sound of the last trump.
That for Thy Christ's sake, of Thee
the Father only-begotten,
We may receive Thine Unction,
The grace that bringeth salvation,
Of the Holy Ghost,
Thine unspeakable gift,
In saving compunction,
Clear knowledge,
Fervent prayer,
The shedding abroad of charity.
That I never quench the Spirit,
Nor strive against Him,
Nor grieve Him,

Contumeliis unquam
Afficiam.
Ut in Ecclesia Tua simus vocati
Catholica, partes quædam
Viventes, voto et voluntate;
Sanctæ communionis simus participes,
Sanctarum personarum,
Actionum,
Precum,
Liturgiarum,
Ad fidem remissionis peccatorum,
Ad spem { Resurrectionis, / Translationis, } ad vitam æternam.
Domine, adauge mihi fidem,
ut granum sinapis;
non mortuam,
temporariam,
hypocriticam,
destruentem Legem;
Sed fidem
per charitatem operantem,
operibus cooperantem,
subministratorem virtutis,
viventem,
mundam,
sanctissimam.
Amen.

Nor ever do Him
despite.
That in Thy Church we may be called Catholic, certain parts thereof
Living, by vow and by will;
That we may be partakers of the holy communion
Of holy persons,
Actions,
Prayers,
Liturgies,
Unto the faith of the remission of sins,
Unto the hope of { the Resurrection, / the Translation, } unto life everlasting.

Lord, increase my faith,
as a grain of mustard seed;
not dead,
nor for a time,
nor hypocritical,
nor destroying the Law;
But faith
working by love,
working together with works,
ministering virtue,
living,
pure,
most holy.
Amen.

THE CONFESSION OF SINS.

I CONFESS unto Thee, O Lord,
 That I was conceived in unclean seed, [Job 14:14]
 warmed in iniquity
 in my mother's womb, [Ps. 51:6]
 A root of bitterness, [Deut. 29:18]
 A wild vine of Sodom, [Deut. 32:32]
 A generation of vipers, [Matt. 3:7]
 A shoot of the wild olive, [Rom. 11:24]
 A child of wrath, [Eph. 2:3]
 A vessel of destruction, [Rom. 9:22]
 Having a rebellious heart, like a deceitful bow, [Hos. 7:16]
 A mouth as an open sepulchre, [Ps. 5:11]
 Bubbling out follies, [Prov. 15:2]
 Having polluted lips, [Isa. 6:5]
 A tongue that is a world of iniquity, [Jas. 3:6]
 Wicked eyes, prone to lusts, [Ecclus. 31:13]
 Uncircumcised ears, like the deaf adder, [Jer. 6:10]
 A whore's forehead, like brass, [Jer. 3:3]
 A hard neck, like an iron sinew, [Isa. 48:4]
 Hands slack unto good, [Heb. 12:12]
 Feet swift unto evil. [Prov. 6:18]
 Whatsoever I have done
 Is either a spider's web, [Isa. 59:5]
 Or a cockatrice' egg. [Ibid.]

Peccavi, Domine,
Tibi, Domine, Tibi,
In oculis Tuis non reveritus
conspectum Tuum,
Ego natura putredo et vermis,
vilis pulvisculus,
Peccato, mancipium Satanæ;
Vitio, inferno vilior.

Peccavi
Peccata
numero multa, stillæ
supra capillos capitis. Psal. xl. 12.
Specie multiplicia,
Multiplicia locis, super omnem campum viridem,
subter omnem arborem frondosam,
Multoties, iterata multis vicibus,
Quas fons aquas,
Sic cor peccata; Jer. vi. 7.
Donec in habitum
coccinea, Is. i. 18.
venundata; 1 Reg. xxi. 25. Rom. vii. 14.
Donec in naturam
Pardi maculæ,
Æthiopis pellis; Jer. xiii. 23.
Donec ipse non peccator,
sed peccatum. Mich. i. 5.

Peccavi
Peccata
Is. lii. 8. Lata,

I have sinned, O Lord,
 Against Thee, O Lord, against Thee,
 In Thine eyes having no reverence
 for Thy presence,
 I by nature rottenness and a worm,
 vile dust,
 By sin, the bonds slave of Satan;
 By vice, viler than hell.

I have sinned
 Sins
 many in number, drops
 more than the hairs of my head. [Ps. 40:12]
 Manifold in kind,
 Manifold in their places, upon every green field,
 under every leafy tree,
 Many times over, done again and again,
 As a fountain its waters,
 So my heart its sins; [Jer. 6:7]
 Until into a habit,
 scarlet, [Isa. 1:18]
 sold; [1 Kgs. 21:25 Rom. 7:14]
 Until into a nature,
 the leopard's spots,
 the Ethiopian's skin; [Jer. 13:23]
 Until I am myself not a sinner,
 but sin. [Mic. 1:5]

I have sinned
 Sins
 [Isa. 52:8] Broad,

Jer. xxx. 14. Dura,

15. Quantitate magna,

Psal. xxv. 11. Longa, ab uberibus matris;

Is. v. 18. Crassa, funes iniquitatis;

Hos. ix. 9. Profunda,

Psal. xxxv. 4. Gravia instar { oneris. / plumbi. }

Ad cœlum ipsum clamore
suo pertingentia.

Peccavi

Peccata

Qualitate pessima,

Quia gratis, propter vana, Rom. vi. 21.

pro pugillo hordei, pauxillo panis; Ezech. xiii. 19.

Quia cum aviditate, Eph. iv. 19.

peccatum super peccatum; [Is. xxx. 1.]

Quia dura fronte; Jer. iii. 3.

Quia in scandalum; Matt. xiii. 7.

Quia ingratus, Rom. i. 21.

Canis ad vomitum,

Sus ad volutabrum; 2 Pet. ii. 22.

Quia Christianus. Gal. ii. 21.

Inde autem, quia

Justus es Tu, et vera

Judicia Tua,

Comedo fructus mendacii.

Rom. vi. 21. Nam quem fructum jam habeo in iis de quibus erubesco?

[Jer. ii. 13.] Cisternas vacuas, aquam non habentes.

[Jer. 30:14] Hard,
 [ver. 15] In quantity great,
 [Ps. 25:11] Long, from my mother's breasts;
 [Isa. 5:18] Thick, cords of iniquity;
 [Hos. 9:9] Deep,
 [Ps. 35:4] Heavy as { a burden. / lead. } Reaching to heaven itself
 with their own cry.

 I have sinned
 Sins
 Worst in quality,
 Because for nothing, for vanities, [Rom. 6:21]
 for a handful of barley, a morsel of bread; [Ezek. 13:19] Because with greediness, [Eph. 4:19]
 sin upon sin; [Isa. 30:1]
 Because with a hard forehead; [Jer. 3:3]
 Because unto offence; [Matt. 13:7]
 Because unthankful, [Rom. 1:21]
 A dog to the vomit,
 A sow to the wallowing; [2 Pet. 2:22]
 Because a Christian. [Gal. 2:21]

 But from thence, because Thou art just, and true
 are Thy judgments,
 I eat the fruits of lying.
 [Rom. 6:21] For what fruit have I now in those things whereof I am ashamed?
 [Jer. 2:13] Empty cisterns, that hold no water.

Psal. xl. 9. Defecerunt in vanitate dies mei, et anni in anxietate cordis.

[Rom. i. 28.] Tradidisti me in desideria cordis mei, ut ea facerem quæ non convenirent.

[Ps. xxxviii. 3.] Et jam non est sanitas in carne mea a facie iræ Tuæ, nec pax ossibus meis a facie peccati mei.

[Ps. xlv. 15.] Adde huic confusionem faciei quæ mihi, ob oculos versatur, et ignominia quæ vultum obtegit.

[Ps. cxix. 120.] Porro cor meum fluctuans, et tremo-rem carnis ab æternis judiciis Tuis;

[Jer. ii. 19.] Denique amaritudinem supra mortem
amaram, dereliquisse Deum, et derelictum esse apud Eum.

Væ mihi desertori ut

hæc facerem.

Vide, Domine, quam vilis factus sum,

et jam abominatur anima

mea vitam meam. [Job. x. 1.]

Obrigui præ magnitudine doloris.

Is. xxxiii. 15. Et quid dicam jam? aut in quo aperiam os meum? quid respondebo, cum ipse hæc fecerim?

Ad quem Sanctorum confugiam? [Job. v. 1.]

Miser et infelix homo,

quis me liberabit de corpore

mortis hujus? [Rom. vii. 24]

Cum non habeo ultra quod

agam dicamve, hoc solum restat,

- [Ps. 40:9] My days are consumed in vanity, and my years
in anguish of heart.
- [Rom. 1:28] Thou hast given me over to the desires of mine own heart, that I should do the things which were not convenient.
- [Ps. 38:3] And now there is no health in my flesh because of Thy wrath, neither is there rest in my bones because of my sin.
- [Ps. 44:15] Add to this the confusion of face that is ever before mine eyes, and the shame that covereth
my countenance.
- [Ps. 119:120] Moreover my heart is tossed to and fro, and my flesh
trembleth for fear of Thine eternal judgments;
- [Jer. 2:19] And last of all, a bitterness beyond bitter death, that I have forsaken God, and am forsaken of Him.
- Woe is me, a deserter, that I should have done these things.
Behold, O Lord, how vile I am become,
and now my soul
loatheth my life. [Job 10:1]
I am stiff and numb with the greatness of my grief.
- [Isa. 33:15] And what shall I say now? or wherein shall I open my mouth? what shall I answer, when I myself have done these things?
To which of the saints shall I flee? [Job 5:1]
O wretched and unhappy man,
who shall deliver me from the body
of this death? [Rom. 7:24]
- When I have no more that I may do or say, this only remaineth,

ut oculos meos ad Te dirigam.
Indignus qui dirigam, sed
dirigam tamen.
Psal. cxxx. 2. De profundis clamavi ad Te, Domine;
Domine, exaudi vocem meam.
Si iniquitates observaveris,
Domine, Domine, quis sustinebit?
Ne intres in iudicium cum servo Tuo, quoniam in conspectu Tuo non iustificabitur omnis vivens.
Provoco igitur, Domine, a Te ad Te,
A Te justo,
Ad Te misericordem,
A solio iustitiæ,
Ad thronum gratiæ,
A Te iudice,
Ad Te in Christo Patrem.
Admitte, Domine, placidam provocationem hanc.
Ni admiseris, perimus.
Et, Domine, ad Te non pertinet, si
perimus? [Marc. iv. 28.]

that I direct mine eyes unto Thee.
Unworthy am I to direct them, yet
direct them I will.
[Ps. 130:2] Out of the deep have I called unto Thee, O Lord;
Lord, hear my voice.
If Thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities,
O Lord, Lord, who may abide it?
Enter not into judgment with Thy servant, for in Thy sight shall no man living be justified.
I appeal therefore, O Lord, from Thee unto Thee,
From Thee the just,
Unto Thee the merciful,
From the seat of justice,
Unto the throne of grace,
From Thee the judge,
Unto Thee the Father in Christ.
Admit, O Lord, this peaceable appeal.
If Thou admit it not, we perish.
And, O Lord, carest Thou not, if we perish? [Mark 4:28]
[1 Tim. 2:4] Thou who wouldst have all men saved,
[2 Pet. 3:9] Thou who wouldst have none perish.
1. Surely, O Lord, I am Thine, [Ps. 119:94] oh save me.
[Ps. 138:10] The work of Thine own hands, I beseech Thee, [Wisd. 11:25] despise not.

ciii. 14. Agnosce figmentum nostrum, ex quo conflati sumus; Recordare quod tantum pulvis sumus.

[Ps. 116:16] Thy servant, the son of Thine handmaid, [Matt. 18:27] A servant, and a waster,
 yet a servant.
 Thy son, bought namely with the price
 Of the blood of Thy Son, that I might receive the adoption, [Gal. 4:5]
 Though I have lost the free birth of a son, yet Thou hast not lost the pity of a Father.
 [Luke 15:17] Though a naughty son, and a prodigal,
 yet a son for all that.
 [Dan. 9:19] Thy Name is called upon me.
 [Heb. 11:16] Thou art not ashamed to be called
 our God.
 We are Christians,
 For we are bought with Thy Christ,
 And of Him are we named.
 Spare Thine own work,
 Spare Thine own Name,
 Spare the price of Thine own blood,
 If Thou wilt not spare us.

2. But I am a sinner,
 [John 9:30] And God heareth not sinners:
 [Ps. 89:46] Yet remember, I beseech Thee, what my substance is;
 [Ps. 68:39] Call to mind that I am flesh, and a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
 [Ps. 103:14] Know our frame, whereof we are made; Remember that we are but dust.

3. Thy creature,
 And now wretched,
 Yea, and a suppliant unbidden,
 Spare the suppliant.

[2 Sam. 19:19] David spared Shimei that cursed him,

[1 Sam. 13:14] And David was a man after Thine own heart,
 Do Thou therefore spare.

[1 Kgs. 20:31] Behold, we have heard that the kings of Israel are merciful; let us put therefore sackcloth upon our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and let us go out to meet him, and say, Let my soul,
 I pray Thee, live;

Peradventure he will save our souls.

Is there any King of Israel
 more merciful than Thou?

[1 Kgs. 21:29] Because Thou, O Lord, didst spare Ahab, who had sold himself unto sin, when he humbled himself,
 Spare me also, I beseech Thee.

- Of mine own accord I confess,
 I have sinned, I have done iniquity,
 I have dealt unjustly, I have been rebellious,
 [1 Cor. 11:30] But I judge myself,
 I think upon it again,
 I pronounce the sentence,
 [2 Cor. 7:10] I take vengeance myself upon myself.
 Spare, O Lord,
 Accept the sacrifice
 [Ps. 51:17] Of a troubled spirit,
 Of a contrite heart,
 Of a disquieted soul,
 Of wounded reins,
 Of a conscience sore.
4. Against Thee have I sinned,
 And yet, O Lord, Thou wilt have mercy upon some.

redire cupienti.

[Job 25:3] Neither the infant of one day, nor the very stars are clean in Thy sight, and in Thine angels
Thou hast beheld folly.

[Ps. 130:3] If Thou wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, none shall abide it;

If to enter into judgment, none shall thence depart justified.

[Josh. 7:9] And what wilt Thou do unto that great Name of Thine?

What unto those riches of Thy mercy,

[Gal. 2:21] What unto the blood of Thy Son?

Shall He die for nought?

Surely the world shall perish, except Thou multiply

Thy mercy toward us.

God forbid.

[Rom. 11:32] Surely Thou hast concluded all under sin,

That Thou mightest have mercy upon all.

Upon all { Who can acknowledge their sins, / Who have thereby deserved misery, }

Who desire to return unto Thee with their whole heart.

All these hast Thou made beloved in

Thy Beloved;

And not little sinners,

But { Manasseh in the old, / Paul in the new, }

That in them Thou mightest shew the excellency of Thy compassion;

that Thou mightest open the gate of hope

Unto the chief of sinners.

5. Wherefore spare me, that desire to return into favour.

- Psal.* xxx. 11. Quæ enim utilitas in sanguine meo, si
descendero in infernum?
- vi. 5. Numquis in mortuis confitebitur Tibi?
aut in inferno erit, qui memor sit Tui?
- liii. 13. Numquid cognoscentur in tenebris mirabilis Tua, aut justitia Tua in terra oblivionis?
- Is.* xxxviii. 18. Certe Infernus non confitebitur Tibi, neque Mors laudabit Te, non expectabunt qui de-scendunt in lacum veritatem Tuam; Vivens, vivens, ipse confitebitur Tibi, sicut ego hodie.
- Psal.* cxviii. 17. Non moriar, quin vivam, et narrabo opera Domini.
6. Quin si bene Te novi, Domine, et Indolem Tuam,
Bonus es, bonis et bene meritis,
gratiosus, peregrinis et immerentibus,
misericors malis, et male merentibus.
In ultimo hoc insisto.
- Is.* xliii. 24. Cum propter neminem potes,
Cum propter nihil, propter
Temetipsum dimittis peccata,
Adeo facilis ad veniam.
7. David vero propheta sic ausus est precari,
- Psal.* cxix. 29. Miserere mihi de lege Tua; quasi lex ipsa Te mitem prædicet.
Et vere sic es;
Lex Tua ex Tuo Ipsius ore sic sonat.
- Exod.* xxxiv. [6, 7.] Dominator Dominus Deus misericors,
et clemens, patiens in multa miseratione,

- [Ps. 30:11] For what profit is there in my blood, if I go down into the pit?
 [Ps. 6:5] Shall any in death give Thee thanks?
 or shall there be any in hell to remember Thee?
 [Ps. 53:13] Shall Thy wondrous works be known in the dark, or Thy righteousness in the land where all things are forgotten?
 [Isa. 38:18] Surely the grave shall not confess Thee, neither shall Death praise Thee, they that go down into the pit shall not look for Thy truth; The living,
 the living, he shall confess Thee, as I do this day.
 [Ps. 118:17] I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

6. Nay, if I know Thee well, O Lord, and Thy disposition,
 Thou art good to the good and to them that deserve well,
 gracious to strangers and to them that deserve nothing,
 merciful to the evil, and to them that deserve ill.
 Upon this last I take my stand.

- [Isa. 43:24] When for no man's sake Thou canst,
 When for nothing's sake, for Thine own sake Thou forgivest sins,
 So easy art Thou to pardon.

7. But David the prophet durst pray thus, [Ps. 119:29] Have mercy upon me out of Thy law; as though the law itself proclaimed Thee gentle.
 And so indeed Thou art;
 Thy law from Thine own mouth soundeth thus.

- [Exod. 34:6, 7] The Ruler, the Lord God, merciful
 and gracious, longsuffering and of much compassion,

qui custodit misericordiam in millia, qui aufert iniquitatem et scelera.

Num. xiv. 7. Perque hanc ipsam vocem Tuam adjuravit
Te postea Moses, ut ignosceres populo.

8. Audent vero Esaias et Abacuc, propter hoc Tuum, misereri opus Tuum appellare:
Ac si punire et plectere opus alienum foret,
et abhorrens ab indole Tua.

9. Neque vero lex et prophetæ tantum, natura ipsa hoc persuasit Jobo, ductu Spiritus Tui.

Job. xxxiii. 23. Si fuerit cum eo Angelus loquens, unus de millibus, ut annuntiet homini Justitiam Tuam,
Miserebitur ejus, et dicet, Libera eum,
ne descendat in corruptionem;
Inveni enim, in quo ei propitier.
Tum deprecabitur Deum, et placabilis erit.

Psal. xxxiv. 6. Gustate et videte quam suavis est
Dominus:

1 Pet. ii. 3. Beatus vir qui sperat in Eo.

MISERICORDIA EJUS.

Psal. cix. 20. Suavis, lxix. 17. Dulcis,

lxiii. 4. Melior vita.

who keepeth mercy for thousands, who taketh away iniquity and wickedness.

[Num. 14:7] And by this very word of Thine did Moses afterward adjure Thee, that Thou wouldest pardon the people.

8. But Esaias and Abacuc dare, for this cause, to call it Thine own work to shew mercy:
 As though to punish and to chastise were a strange work,
 and abhorrent from Thy disposition.

9. Nor was it the law and the prophets only, nature itself persuaded Job of this, by the leading of Thy Spirit.

[Job 33:23] If there be with him an Angel speaking,
 one of a thousand, to declare unto man
 Thy righteousness,
 He will have mercy upon him, and say, Deliver him,
 that he go not down into corruption;
 For I have found wherein I may be gracious unto him.
 Then shall he pray unto God, and He will be favourable.

[Ps. 34:6] O taste and see how gracious is
 the Lord:

[1 Pet. 2:3] Blessed is the man that hopeth in Him.

HIS MERCY.

[Ps. 109:20] Sweet,

[Ps. 69:17] Pleasant,

[Ps. 63:4] Better than life.

Psal. lix. 18. Misericordia ipsa dicitur Deus.

August. O nomen, sub quo nemini desperandum.

Chrysos. Grande est barathrum peccatorum meorum, sed major est abyssus misericordiæ Dei.

1. Qualis vero in specie,

THE MERCY OF GOD.

- [Ps. 5:7] Many,
 [Ps. 51:1] Manifold,
 [1 Pet. 4:10] Plenteous, [Ps. 119:156] Great,
 [Ps. 103:12] { Broad, / the east and the west, }
 [Ps. 42:7] Deep, a deep.
 { [Ps. 36:5] / [Ps. 108:4] } High { unto the heavens, / above the heavens. }
 { [Ps. 25:6] / [Ps. 103:17] / [Ps. 13:6] } Everlasting { Before, / After. } [Ps. 145:9] His tender mercies are over all His works.
 [Rom. 5:20] Over our sin,
 [Jas. 2:13] Over His own justice.
 [Ecclus. 2:18] According to the greatness of Him, so is His mercy with Him.
 [Ps. 71:13] A salvation infinite, for I know no end thereof.

THE FATHER OF MERCIES.

- [1 Cor. 1:3] Natural unto Him.
 [Ps. 59:18] Mercy itself is called God.
August. O Name, under which no man may despair.
Chrysos. Great is the gulf of my sins, but greater is the deep
 of the mercy of God.
 1. But of what kind it is in particular:

{ Patiens, / Longanimis, / Tardus ad iram, / Diu se continens, }
Sap. xi. 23. Dissimulans peccata hominum propter pœnitentiam.

Psal. [xcv. 10.] Perferens quadraginta totos annos

 that they may repent.

[Ps. 95:10] Bearing with them forty whole years

 was He, and soon appeased, that He destroyed them not.
 Yea, many a time turned He His wrath away,
 and would not suffer His whole displeasure to arise.

[Luke 19:42] O if thou also knewest.
 [Lam. 3:22] It is of the mercies of God
 that we are not all consumed.

2. Gentle in the very chastising, so that not even His judgment is void of mercy.

The punishment is a part of the mercy,
 [Ps. 89:32] I will visit their offences with the rod,
 Yet My mercy will I not take from him.
 [Ps. 103:10] He hath not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our wickednesses.
 For a great sin a little punishment sufficeth a father.

 easily and sparingly.

 mercy, O Lord, shall hold me up.

 ness against myself unto the Lord, and Thou forgavest
 the wickedness of my sin.
 It is as nothing with us; for His own sake, said God.
 [2 Sam. 12:13] David said, I have sinned, O Lord.
 Nathan answered, The Lord also hath put away thy sin, thou shalt not die.

 [Ps. 106:47] Nevertheless, when He saw their affliction,
 He had compassion upon them.
 Who not only heareth sinners, but also in the day of their trouble those who in the time of their peace despised Him.

Quod si vel tum quærat, cum sub cruce sumus, tum etiam non amovet preces nostras a Se, nec misericordiam suam a nobis.

6. Neque veniam modo, sed
et gratiam

And if He be sought even then, when we are under the cross, then also He putteth not our prayers away from Him, nor His mercy from us.

5. Pardon, and not only pardon,
but lavish pardon.

[2 Sam. 13:10] As David of his own accord brought

[2 Sam. 14:24] Absalom back, yet at the first that he should not see his face, and at the last admitted him to the kiss.

[Luke 15:22] As the father, when the naughty son returned, not only forgave him, but made ready the best robe and the ring, and the fatted calf.

[Luke 15:7] He will have joy and triumph in heaven
over one sinner that repenteth.

And not over little faults only,

But over grievous crimes.

[Jer. 3:1] They say commonly, If a man put away his wife, and she depart from him and become another man's,
shall not that woman be polluted and defiled?
Shall she return unto him again? But thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again unto Me, saith the Lord.

[Acts 3:15, 19] Wherewith He pardoned the disciples that forsook Him, Peter that forswore Him, the thief that blasphemed, and the Jews that crucified Him.

rewarded.

8. And He is merciful not by nature only, but by practice.

[Ps. 25:6] He hath learned to shew mercy, and hath had the practice of it from of old.

[ver. 1] Rightly therefore do we so call Him.

[Ps. 22:4] Our fathers hoped in Thee, they trusted
in Thy mercy, and were not confounded.

[Ps. 77:5] Hath God now forgotten to be merciful? and will He shut up His mercies within Himself?

August. Lord, look not so upon my sin that Thou shouldest therefore forget Thine own Name.

Son of David, who forgave Shimei that blasphemed,

and was his sworn enemy,

Do Thou also, O Lord, forgive;

Christ, hear us;

Christ, intercede with us;

Christ, intercede for us.

Do away our sins,

Redde Patrem nobis propitium,
Da nobis quod Ipse es,
Dic animæ meæ, Salus tua sum.

Matt. xi. 25. Venite ad Me, qui laboratis et onerati estis, et Ego reficiam vos.

Make the Father gracious unto us,
 Give us what Thou Thyself art,
 Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

Nor had Thine Apostle said it in vain,

 That Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief.

Ejus, et oratio mea ad Deum vitæ meæ.
- cxli. 2. Dirigatur oratio mea sicut incensum in conspectu Tuo; et elevatio manuum mea-

THE EVENING PRAYERS.

[Ps. 134:3] IN the night seasons lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless the Lord.

[Ps. 55:17] At evening, and morning, and at noonday will I pray, and that instantly; and Thou, O Lord, shalt hear my voice.

[Ps. 42:10] The Lord hath granted His loving-kindness in the day-time, therefore in the night season did I sing His praises, and my prayer was unto the God of my life.

[Ps. 141:2] Let my prayer be set forth as incense in Thy sight; and the lifting up of mine hands, as the evening sacrifice.

Blessed art Thou, O Lord,
Who hast made the courses of the day and of the night, and givest rest to the weary,
and renewest strength to the fainting.

[Job 35] Who givest songs in the night,

[Ps. 65:8] And makest the outgoings of the morning and of the evening to praise Thee.

[Ps. 91:5] Who hast delivered us from the arrow that flieth by day, from the assault,
and from the noonday devil.

[Isa. 38:14] Who hast not cut off, like a weaver, our life, nor from the morning even unto
the evening made an end of us.

O Lord, as day upon day,
so sin upon sin do we add.

Pro. xxiv. 16. Septies in die impingit justus, nos vero (miseri peccatores)
septuaginta septies.
Hodie quoque suum [malum] habuit,
et suum merebi[tur].
Sed revertimur ad Te, et omnia
ossa nostra dicunt, Pœnitet, Nec occidat sol
super iram Tuam.
Domine, universa opera nostra bona
Tu operatus es in nobis.
Quicquid recte egimus,
Propitius respice.
Domine, peccatum et perditio
nostra ex nobis sunt.
Quicquid deliquimus,
Clementer ignosce,
Respice bonum,
Malum condona.
Benedictus es Tu, Domine,
Qui das dilectis Tuis somnum suavitatis,
et timentibus Te dormire fiducialiter.
Illumina oculos nostros, ne obdor-miremus in morte.
Libera nos a terrore nocturno,
a negotio perambulante in tenebris.
Ecce non dormitabit neque dormiet,
Qui custodit Israel.
Dominus custodiat nos ab omni
malo, etiam custodiat
animas nostras Dominus.

[Prov. 24:16] Seven times in the day the just man stumbleth, but we (miserable sinners)
seventy times seven.
This day too hath had its own [evil],
and shall deserve its own.
Yet we return unto Thee, and all our bones say, It repenteth us,
And let not the sun go down upon Thy wrath.
O Lord, all our good works
Thou hast wrought in us.
Whatsoever we have done aright,
Look Thou graciously upon.
O Lord, our sin and our perdition
are of ourselves.
Whatsoever we have done amiss,
Mercifully forgive,
Look upon the good,
Pardon the evil.
Blessed art Thou, O Lord,
Who givest Thy beloved the sleep of sweetness,
and to them that fear Thee to sleep in confidence.
Lighten our eyes, that we sleep
not in death.
Deliver us from the terror by night,
from the thing that walketh about in darkness.
Behold, He shall neither slumber nor sleep,
Who keepeth Israel.
The Lord preserve us from all evil, yea, the Lord preserve
our souls.

Domine, ego dormiam, sed
Cor meum vigilabit.
Visita me, Domine, visitatione
sanctorum, et revela mihi
aurem in visionibus noctis.
Sit somnus meus, ut laboris,
sic peccati cessatio.
Ne quid vel per insomnia cogitem,
quod Te offendat, vel me polluat.
Da, Domine, recordari apud Te noctem non esse noctem, et tenebras esse instar lucis meridianæ.
Da, Domine, fugiente somno ab oculis meis,
nocte recordari nominis Tui,
ut custodiam legem Tuam.
Da meditari nocte cum corde,
et excruciami, et scrutari spiritum meum,
et increpationem renum non negligere,
Quid recte, quid rectius,
Quomodo Tibi magis acceptus,
Quomodo hominibus magis gratus;
Semitas meas, et lectum meum,
Te circumdare,
Te possidere Vias meas:
Lucerna ardente videre Te,
Lucerna exstincta videre Te.
Da, Domine, cogitare
Somnum longum,
Somnum mortis,
Lectum sepulchri,

O Lord, I shall sleep, but
My heart shall wake.
Visit me, O Lord, with the visitation
of saints, and uncover mine
ear in the visions of the night.
Let my sleep be, as a rest from labour,
so a rest from sin.
Let me think nothing, even in my dreams,
that may offend Thee, or defile me.
Grant, O Lord, that I may remember before Thee that the night is no night, and that the darkness is as the light of noonday.
Grant, O Lord, when sleep fleeth from mine eyes,
to remember Thy Name in the night,
that I may keep Thy law.
Grant me to commune by night with mine own heart,
and to be pierced, and to search out my spirit,
and not to neglect the chastening of my reins,
What is right, what is more right,
How I may be more acceptable unto Thee,
How more pleasing unto men;
That my paths and my bed,
Thou dost compass about,
That Thou possessest my ways:
By the lamp burning, to see Thee,
By the lamp quenched, to see Thee.
Grant, O Lord, to think upon
The long sleep,
The sleep of death,
The bed of the sepulchre,

Stramentum vermium,
Operimentum pulveris.
In pace in idipsum dormiam
et requiescam;
Quia Tu, Domine, singulariter
in spe constituisti me.
In manus Tuas, Domine, Commendo spiritum
meum, quia Tu
redemisti me,
Domine Deus.

The litter of worms,
The covering of dust.
In peace, in the selfsame, will I sleep
and take my rest;
For Thou, Lord, only
hast set me in hope.
Into Thy hands, O Lord,
I commend my spirit, for Thou
hast redeemed me,
O Lord God.

APPENDIX

Some of the sources Andrewes drew on

This note is illustrative and not a source apparatus. It names enough of what Andrewes gathered to show the kind of book he was making, and stops well short of what a full accounting would require.

Three sorts of attribution are mixed in what follows, and they are not of equal weight. Some authorities are printed in the 1853 itself, standing in the margin at the head of the sentence they belong to — Cyprian., Beda., Seneca. Some are the 1853 editor's own identifications, which he set in square brackets, and which are printed here in brackets for that reason. And some were identified neither by Andrewes nor by his editor but by F.E. Brightman in 1903, working from the sources; where a line below rests on Brightman it says so. The page numbers are the 1853's, as printed on the inner edge of every leaf here.

SCRIPTURE, BEFORE ANYTHING ELSE. The 1853 prints better than two thousand scripture references. That number is the plainest fact about this book: it is a cento, and the greater part of what Andrewes prays is quotation. The text he quotes is the Septuagint and the Vulgate, not any English Bible — which is why the translation here reaches for Coverdale's Psalter ahead of the Authorised Version, as the preface explains. The Prayer of Manasses is drawn on at printed 171 (the editor's identification, [Orat. Manassis.]).

THE LITURGIES. The Liturgy of S. Chrysostom is named twice in Part I, at printed 33 and 55, in the plate itself. The Sursum corda that opens the epigraph leaf of Part III at printed 398 is older than any of the liturgies Andrewes could have held: it stands in the Hippolytean canons and in Cyprian's treatise on the Lord's Prayer, an identification we owe to Brightman.

THE CREEDS AND THE PRAYER BOOK. The Nicene Creed is named in the plate at printed 177. The Te Deum is drawn on at printed 25 and again at 431, on the editor's identification. And at printed 199 the margin reads [Litan. Angl.] — the English Litany. A bishop's private book, kept in Greek and Latin, quietly quoting the vernacular liturgy he had to lead on Sundays.

THE GREEK FATHERS. Chrysostom again at printed 417. Theophylact opens Part III at printed 398, and Brightman located the passage exactly: the commentary on S. Luke xviii, where the Greek βάθρον καὶ κρητὶς is rendered by the Latin fundamentum et basis — foundation and ground — which is the first line of that leaf. Gregory of Nyssa stands in the catena at printed 386, from the first homily on the Lord's Prayer.

THE LATIN FATHERS. Part II gathers them in a short space, each named in the plate at the head of its sentence: Cyprian at printed 381, then Bede, Arnobius and Jerome at 382, then Augustine twice at 383 — once from contra Maximinum and once from the first book of the Confessions — and Augustine again at 417 and 422.

One of these is worth a note of its own. At printed 380 the plate attributes a passage ex Fulgentii l. i. ad Mon., to the first book of Fulgentius of Ruspe to Monimus. Our own reading suspected the passage was Augustine's, and the attribution was kept as printed rather than mended. Brightman, working independently from the sources, gives Fulgentius too. The plate was right and the doubt was ours.

A MEDIEVAL ARCHBISHOP. Printed 370 opens Oratio Tho. Bradwardini — Thomas Bradwardine, archbishop of Canterbury for five weeks in 1349. Brightman identifies the work as de causa Dei contra Pelagium, and the edition Andrewes is likely to have used as Savile's, London 1618.

PAGAN ANTIQUITY, AND NO APOLOGY FOR IT. Cicero is named in the plate at printed 385 and again at 386, the second time for Cato, who called himself to account each night for the day's business — de senectute, on Brightman's identification. Seneca is named at printed 385. At 386 Andrewes cites Ausonius out of Pythagoras, a quotation at one remove and marked as such.

Two things about this stretch repay attention. The first is that nothing in the page ranks these authorities below the Fathers or above them. Bede, Augustine, Cicero and Seneca stand in one column, each with his sentence, and the reader is left to make of that what he will. The second is smaller and more human: the sentence Seneca gives — that you must catch yourself out before you can mend yourself — Seneca himself had from Epicurus. The chain is Epicurus to Seneca to Andrewes, and a reader coming on that page would very likely take the thought for a Father's.

JEWISH AND CONTEMPORARY. At printed 386, in the middle of his own sentence rather than in a margin, Andrewes writes Recte igitur Rab. J. — rightly, then, Rabbi J. — on not putting repentance off until tomorrow. Hebrew stands in his text in more places than the 1853 prints; what it left out is recorded in the apparatus, and the preface says why it has not been restored here. On the following page, printed 387, he cites Rev. Usserius — James Ussher, then a contemporary — with page numbers, as one cites a book lately read.

A CAUTION ABOUT THE MARGINS. The attributions printed in the plate are not always exact, and they have been left as they are. The clearest instance is the Seneca. at printed 385, which stands at the head of two sentences. The first is Seneca's, from the twenty-eighth moral letter. The second — that a sore never found festers and goes uncured — is not in that letter and has not been located anywhere else. It may be Andrewes' own amplification of Seneca's metaphor; it may equally come from a collection of sentences of the kind he plainly used. The honest statement is that it is unattested elsewhere, and that one margin covers two sentences of which only the first is certainly Seneca's. A margin in this book is a pointer, not a warranty.
